WASHINGTON REDSKINS

Over the last two decades, one man has been the constant in the Washington Redskins' remarkable 224-119 record, a mark which includes 12 playoff trips, five Super Bowl appearances and three world titles. He is team owner Jack Kent Cooke.

Mr Cooke provides the foundation for the organization, a solid base that was never more evident than at the retirement of Hall of Fame bound coach Joe Gibbs in March.

"My relationship with Mr Cooke has been very special. I always admired his strength and ability to analyze people," explained Gibbs.

"When there was a key personnel decision, Mr Cooke might not always agree, but he would give his support," continued Gibbs. "Most of all, he was at his best when things were at their worst. He's the reason the people who work at Redskin Park have what it takes to make this the best franchise in the world."

No team wants to lose one of the best coaches in NFL history, but the transition for the Redskins was made easier by the presence of Richie Petitbon.

"The fact that we can go into our own staff and get Richie Petitbon as head coach says a lot about this organization," explains General Manager Charley Casserly. "Give the credit to Mr Cooke because he enabled us to keep this coaching staff together."

Stability and depth have been the trademarks of the Redskins success, and history bears out the words of Gibbs and Casserly about Mr Cooke's role.

As for his ability to analyze talent, one need not look any further than Gibbs and Sparky Anderson. Both were tabbed by Mr Cooke long before putting together their Hall of Fame credentials. Gibbs, a relatively unknown assistant coach with the San Diego Chargers when named Redskins coach in 1981, had no head coaching experience. Anderson was an infielder for Mr Cooke's Toronto Maple Leafs when the owner advised him to stop playing and become the team's manager.

Telling of his support in the tough times, Gibbs always pointed to the unwavering encouragement from Mr Cooke during his 0-5 start as a head coach.

"You just don't know how much that meant to a first year coach getting off to a horrible start," recalled Gibbs.

And his support is more than moral.

"He puts you in a position that when you have a crisis, you have the depth to ride it out," says Casserly. "He makes sure that everyone who works with the Redskins has one of the best jobs in the NFL."

Mr Cooke's commitment to the Redskins is manifested in many ways, but none more visible than the new Redskin Park which opened in August of 1992. The state-of-the-art Park includes three grass and one astroturf practice fields, expanded weight room, locker room, training and equipment facilities along with larger team meeting rooms and office space. Regarded as the finest training facility in pro sports, the 75,000 square foot building is buffered by 161 acres of land.

His next goal is to build a new open air, grass turf 78,600 seat stadium in the District of Columbia, and there is no doubt it will also rank at the top of the NFL. The stadium will be the culmination of an association which began in 1960 when Mr Cooke bought 25% of the Redskins. In 1974 he became the majority owner of the team, and acquired complete ownership in 1985.

"I am proud of this team and proud of this organization," says Mr Cooke, whose pride is reflected in every facet of the operation.

While the Redskins may be the crown jewel of his sporting interests, they do not stand alone in his successes. For over 40 years Mr Cooke has been a premier sportsman, beginning with the Toronto Maple Leaf minor league baseball team. He purchased the team in 1951 and a year later was named Minor League Executive of the Year by The Sporting News.

While owning the Maple Leafs, Mr Cooke formed a close association with Branch Rickey and developed much of his sporting philosophy through their friendship.

As Mr Cooke relayed to Tom Callahan of The Washington Post running a sports franchise is a unique endeavor.

"I've had extraordinary, remarkable, good luck in business, but, in business, you're basically dealing with numbers. They're unvarying. They're immutable. They don't involve the guesswork, intuition, and instinct of sports."

That intuition eventually led Mr Cooke to professional basketball and hockey in Los Angeles, where he became Chairman of the Board and President of California Sports, Inc., corporate parent of the Forum, the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League, and the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association.

When Mr Cooke ran into a concrete wall with the Coliseum Commission on an arena lease for his teams, he retaliated by building the first privately funded indoor arena in the United States. Today the Forum still ranks at the top of the country's arenas.

Chances are one of the records set by his World Champion 1971-72 Laker team - a remarkable 33 consecutive game winning streak - may even outlast the Forum. In addition, Mr Cooke laid the foundation of Laker championships for years to come when he traded for Kareem Abdul Jabbar and drafted and signed Magic Johnson.

Mr Cooke's sporting interests also included a flirtation with golf, becoming a scratch player, and a professional soccer owner; but horses and horseracing has been a continuing passion. He purchased Elmendorf Racing and Breeding Farm in hopes of producing a Kentucky Derby winner in the future.

It is one of the few prizes that has eluded him in sports or business, but chances are that will change if history is a barometer.

Born October 25, 1912 in Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, Mr Cooke was an avid hockey player and fan. However, the Depression spurred his business career, beginning as an encyclopedia salesman. He later joined Northern Broadcasting and Publishing, Ltd., and before he was 26, was one-third partner in Thomson Cooke Newspapers. Subsequently a 50-50 partner with Roy Thomson, the two men operated radio stations and newspapers throughout Canada. Thomson was later elevated to the peerage becoming Lord Thomson of Fleet.

He still maintains his interest in the communications industry with rapidly growing Los Angeles Daily News, as well as a number of weekly newspapers in Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. His hand also extends to many other endeavors, including ownership of the Chrysler Building, cable television systems, and real estate enterprises.

Cooke's father, Ralph E., was a picture frame manufacturer. His mother, Nancy, helped him develop an interest in music. As a youngster he played clarinet and saxophone, playing in bands in Toronto with Percy Faith, famous orchestra leader and composer, and the late Murray McEachern, outstanding trombonist. Mr Cooke still plays the piano, and is a member of ASCAP and BMI, having written and published many songs.

Variety accentuates his life. His love of the English language is reflected in every interview, and his hobbies include antiques, wine, and riding his prize collection of Tennessee Walkers.

Mr Cooke still finds time for a full day at his Redskin Park office, more often than not taking time out for practice, rain or shine. He and his wife, Marlena, also make regular trips to the team's Carlisle, PA training site to check the progress of the Redskins. A schedule which would wear down most people provides fun for the Redskins owner.

As he told Callahan, "Always it's the word 'fun,' - the interest, the excitement, the competition."

And Mr Cooke's extraordinary success only makes the fun that much greater.

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

One of the first people acknowledged by Joe Gibbs at his retirement in March was Redskins Executive Vice President John Kent Cooke. While the recognition may have caught the general public off guard, it came as no surprise to the staff at Redskin Park and throughout the National Football League.

"Whenever problems arose, I knew I could go see John and he would do anything to help," said Gibbs. "He handles so many things behind the scenes that are necessary for the kind of success the Redskins enjoy."

The National Football League recognized that ability when Mr. Cooke was asked to serve on the Special Commissioner Committee selecting the current Commissioner, Paul Tagliabue. In turn, Tagliabue tabbed Mr. Cooke two years ago for assistance as a member of the Executive Committee of the Management Council in negotiating a new player union contract. After countless hours of work, those efforts came to fruition last Fall with the new agreement between the League and the NFL Players Association.

Yet, it is the Redskins which have commanded the attention of Mr. Cooke since being named Executive Vice-President in 1981. Under his leadership, the off-the-field accomplishments of the team rival the eight playoff appearances, four NFC championships, five NFC East division titles, and three Super Bowls that have been won on the field.

The most vivid example of his leadership is the new Redskins Park, which became the headquarters of the team in August of 1992. Mr. Cooke coordinated the design and construction of the 161-acre state-of-the-art training complex, which is considered at the top of NFL training facilities.

The team's saturation of the radio and television markets in the metropolitan Washington area is another testament to Mr. Cooke's marketing and negotiating ability. An innovator in the telecasts of preseason scrimmages, the Redskins preseason television contract with WJLA ranks among the most attractive in sports. In 1992, Mr. Cooke negotiated a new radio contract with flagship station, WTEM, and the Redskins continue to have the largest radio network in the NFL with over 90 stations.

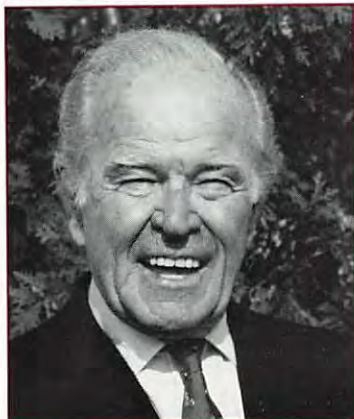

Given his varied and extensive background, Mr. Cooke's management success with the Redskins is understandable. He attended Waterloo College in Canada, majoring in English and journalism. In 1959, he became a trainee director/producer with Associated Television in England, and worked in Los Angeles a year later in the production department of QM Productions, a Hollywood television production company, and subsequently American Cablevision Company, a cable television company.

In 1965, Mr. Cooke became the Vice President of Advertising, Sales, and Promotions for all sports and entertainment events at the Forum in Inglewood, CA, the home of the NBA Lakers and the NHL Kings.

Mr. Cooke relaxes away from professional sports with his wife, Rita, sailing their 42-foot sloop "Que²."

Mr. Cooke is an officer of Jack Kent Cooke, Inc., and a trustee of Dickinson College in Carlisle, PA. He has two sons, John, Director of Stadium Operations and Club Promotions, and Thomas, a Redskins photographer and student at the Brooks Institute of Photography in Santa Barbara, CA.

CHARLEY CASSERLY

General Manager • 17th NFL Season • Springfield

As the National Football League moves into the uncharted waters of player free agency and salary caps, the Redskins are comforted to know that General Manager Charley Casserly is charting the course.

In just four years, Casserly has become established as one of the top general managers in the League, combining a tireless work ethic and astuteness to lead the Redskins to four straight 10-win seasons.

Over that period the Redskins have compiled a 46-21 regular season record while making three straight Divisional Game appearances and winning a Super Bowl. No other team can match that record, and much of the credit goes to the adroit maneuvers of Casserly.

Leaving no option unexplored, Casserly has used the draft, trades, and free agent signings to keep the Redskins competitive. His eye for talent has long been acknowledged at Redskin Park, but became evident to the general public with his very first selection as general manager.

The Redskins went into the 1990 draft without a first round selection when Casserly and his scouts tabbed Collins deep in the second round as the 46th player chosen. The Penn State linebacker has gone on to become a mainstay on the defense, starting 46 of 48 games.

Three rounds later, Casserly saw enough to draft an option quarterback from Southwest Louisiana as a running back/return specialist. That player, Brian Mitchell, is already established as one of the Redskins' return greats, and will bid for a full-time running back spot this season.

The ability to find a diamond in the rough is not new to Casserly. As a Redskins scout he was responsible for uncovering two members of the original Hogs, Joe Jacoby and Jeff Bostic, as free agents.

Casserly trades brought two key defensive line members of the Redskins Super Bowl XXVI title team to Washington. Tim Johnson and Eric Williams both started on that team.

It was in Plan B free agency where Casserly earned a league wide reputation as a premier judge of talent. In a system where the stars were protected, Casserly signed eventual starters Brad Edwards, Danny Copeland, Ron Middleton, Fred Stokes, and Martin Mayhew as well as adding pass rushing specialist Jumpy Geathers.

However, 1987 provided the ultimate hurdle for Charley's organizational and scouting skills when he oversaw the assembly of the Redskins replacement team during the players strike. That group was undefeated, winning a memorable Monday Night game at Dallas.

Now Casserly and the Redskins are faced with a new challenge as the NFL moves into free agency. Once again, he has led an aggressive charge, signing players like defensive end Al Noga, linebacker Carl Banks, and wide receiver Tim McGee to replace departing veterans.

There are no guarantees of success, but the Redskins know they are always getting the very best effort from Casserly.

"We always know that Charley and his staff are going to be prepared for the next move," says new head coach Richie Petitbon.

"If a player signs with another team or gets hurt, he always knows who is available and moves quickly. He's decisive, and you can be sure he has researched every option."

Casserly's most critical option came in 1977 when he was a high school teacher/coach in Massachusetts looking to get into college or pro coaching. When he could make no inroads among the colleges, Casserly wrote all 28 NFL teams, offering his services, and two, Washington and New England, indicated an interest.

"I told them I'd work for free, breaking down film, cleaning the locker room, anything," recalls Casserly. "All I really wanted was to hang around for a while and pick up some Redskin stationery. I thought I'd stand a better chance of getting a job if I applied on Redskin letterhead."

Redskins coach George Allen took Casserly up on his offer, providing an internship with no pay, and Casserly soon packed and moved to Alexandria where rented a room at the YMCA for $8 a night.

When Allen left Washington for the Rams, Charley turned down an opportunity to move to Los Angeles, electing to go into scouting for the Redskins. Discovering free agents such as Jacoby and Bostic caught the eye of General Manager Bobby Beathard, who promoted Charley to Assistant General Manager in 1982.

When Beathard resigned in May of 1989, team owner Jack Kent Cooke did not hesitate in promoting Casserly, predicting newly appointed general manager would "be capable of keeping the Redskins in contention in the National Football League."

Three straight playoff appearances and a Super Bowl have proven Mr Cooke correct, but Casserly plays down the credit.

"I'm fortunate to be in a strong organization with a great owner," says Casserly. "Owners win football games. All you have to do is tell Mr Cooke what you need."

However, knowing what is needed is not so easy and that is where Casserly has proven exceptional. Whether trading for a Tim Johnson, signing a Brad Edwards, or drafting a Brian Mitchell, Charley has shown an instinct for making the right moves.

"That's no accident," says Joe Gibbs. "I don't think you can work any harder than Charley Casserly."

That determination and work ethic took him as far as college football at Springfield College, where he earned a B.S. in education and a masters in guidance. He served as an assistant coach at Cathedral High School in Springfield from 1969-72 and as an assistant at Springfield College from 1973-74. He was athletic director at Cathedral (1974-75), then went to Minnechaugh High from 1975-76 as head football coach.

Casserly is a native of River Edge, N.J., and attended Bergen Catholic High School in Oradell, N.J. Born February 27, 1949, Charley and his wife, Bev, have a daughter, Shannon, 8. They reside in Sterling, VA.

BOBBY MITCHELL

Asst. General Manager • 36th NFL Season • Illinois

Few names are more synonymous with the Washington Redskins than Bobby Mitchell. In 32 years of loyal service as a player, scout, front office executive and good will ambassador, Bobby has the respect and admiration from the entire NFL and Washington, D.C. community.

A 1983 inductee into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Bobby joined the Redskins' personnel staff in 1969 following his retirement as a player. He was promoted to Director of Pro Scouting, then to Assistant to the President in 1978. He was named Assistant General Manager in 1981. Bobby enters his 36th National Football League season.

He has come a long way since being an eighth round draft selection by the Cleveland Browns in 1958. He played in four Pro Bowls (one with Cleveland and three with Washington) over his 11-year playing career and is considered one of the NFL's all-time great multi-purpose players.

Bobby came to Washington in 1962 after starting with Jim Brown in the Cleveland backfield. He was traded to Washington along with Leroy Jackson for Ernie Davis (Washington's number one draft choice in 1962) and was switched to wide receiver. As a Brown and Redskin he posted 2,735 yards rushing on 513 attempts (5.3-yard average); 521 receptions for 7,953 yards (15.3-yard average), 69 punt returns for 699 yards (10.2-yard average), 102 kickoff returns for 2,690 yards (26.4-yard average); 91 touchdowns (5th all-time) for 546 points; and 14,078 total yards (8th all-time).

Bobby has been selected to Who's Who in Black America, the Arkansas Hall of Fame, the D.C. All-Star Hall of Fame and the Washington, D.C. Touchdown Club Hall of Fame. He is a board member of the American Lung Association (D.C.) and the Martin Luther King, Jr. Federal Holiday Commission. Born June 6, 1935 in Hot Springs, AR, Bobby graduated from the University of Illinois in 1958 with a bachelor of arts degree in education. Bobby and his wife, Gwen, who is a Washington, D.C. lawyer, have two children: Terry, and Robert C. Jr. The Mitchell's reside in Washington, D.C.

Mitchell Highlights

When Bobby Mitchell retired following the 1968 season, he was the NFL's second all-time leading receiver behind Raymond Berry with 521 catches. He was second behind Jim Brown in total yards with 14,078 and was fourth in touchdowns with 91. From 1962-67, he ranked 1st, 2nd, 5th, 4th, 6th and 4th in receiving and was named to the Pro Bowl from 1961-64.

Petitbon Up Close

- Redskins defensive boss since 1978
- Has played, or coached, in all 5 Redskins Super Bowls
- Has been part of 4 NFL championship teams
- NFL player, Bears (1959-68), Rams (1969-70), Redskins (1971-72)
- Played in 4 Pro Bowls as a safety

Long recognized as one of the best assistant coaches in the National Football League, Richie Petitbon makes a well deserved step to head coach this season as the new leader of the Washington Redskins.

For 33 years Petitbon paid his dues as a player and assistant coach in the National Football League, preparing for an opportunity he knew might never arrive.

At 55 years old, it looked as if he might play out his career as one of the best assistants to ever toil in the NFL until the surprise retirement of Joe Gibbs in March.

"Time was running out for me, but I never worried about it because I always felt I had one of the best jobs in the League," explains the new Redskins boss. "Now I feel very lucky and very fortunate to have an opportunity to be a head coach."

Comparisons to his predecessor, Joe Gibbs, are inevitable, but those who have been around Petitbon know he will not waver from his own distinct style.

"There is no area of football that Richie has not experienced," says General Manager Charley Casserly. "He had a long playing career in the League so he knows the different phases a player undergoes. He worked under several different head coaches, and knows what is expected of assistant coaches."

Redskin linebacker Monte Coleman has spent his entire career under Petitbon, and knows there is no need to read between the lines with the Skins new head coach.

"He treats you like an adult," says Coleman. "He doesn't sugar-coat things because players don't need that."

Petitbon has also been around long enough to know that winning in the NFL involves more than just one phase of the operation.

"It starts with good ownership and we have the best in Mr. Cooke," says Petitbon. "There also have to be good players on hand which comes from strong scouting and it takes a good coaching staff to make it come together. We have people in our organization who want to win and you can't put a price on that."

Petitbon knows something about good coaches since he played and coached under some of the game's legends. As a Chicago Bear, he played under two men close to the origins of the game in Clark Shaunessy and George Halas. Then he finished his career under George Allen as a member of the Rams and Redskins.

As an assistant, he spent most his career under another future Hall of Fame Coach in Gibbs. If his track record as a player and assistant is any indication, Petitbon has laid his ground work well.

As defensive co-ordinator in Washington since 1978, the Redskins were annually ranked among the top defenses in the League. During the Redskins 1991 Super Bowl season the defense limited opponents to 224 points (2nd lowest in the NFL), while holding opponents to 14 points and under 10 times.

In 1992, the Skins defense finished seventh overall despite numerous injuries that left only four players starting every game. However, the most impressive feat by a Petitbon coached defense may have come in 1983 when the Skins forced 61 turnovers to finish with a +43 ratio.

The unpredictable, mix-and-match game plans devised by Petitbon and his defensive staff often created havoc with offenses and their halftime adjustments paved the way for many Redskins wins. The most notable was when he and assistant head coach Larry Peccatiello inserted a blitz on the bus taking the team to Super Bowl XXVI. Utilized on the first play of the second half, the blitz led to a Kurt Gouveia interception to set up a Redskin touchdown.

Another defensive highlight came against the potent San Francisco 49ers in 1986 when the Redskins allowed Joe Montana 441 passing yards, but never in the end zone, in a 14-6 Washington victory.

The success Petitbon has enjoyed as a coach is only a carry-over from an impressive playing career. Starting as a second round draft choice out of Tulane in 1959, Petitbon quickly made the conversion from college quarterback to pro safety to earn a spot in the Bears secondary. His place in Chicago history was cemented in the 1963 championship game when his late fourth quarter interception in the end zone ensured a Bear title. Overall, Richie set five club interception marks as a member of the Bears.

When Bear assistant George Allen moved to the Rams as head coach, Petitbon soon followed and spent two seasons in Los Angeles. When Allen became head coach of the Redskins in 1971, Petitbon was one of the players he brought East to form the nucleus of the "Over the Hill Gang."

In 1972, Richie played on the first Redskins team to ever reach the Super Bowl, and along Charley Taylor and Torgy Torgeson, is the only Redskin to be a member of all five Super Bowl teams as a player or coach. Including Allen, seven members of that '72 team which lost to the Dolphins went on to become head coaches in the NFL.

When he concluded his playing career, Richie had a total of 48 interceptions and made four Pro Bowls. More importantly, he played only two teams that had a losing record.

"I got to play on a couple great teams and many good ones, and I think that played a role in the longevity of my career," says Petitbon. "It was also a stepping stone into coaching for me."

His began his career as an assistant at Houston, where he spent four years until coming to Washington as defensive co-ordinator under Jack Pardee. When Gibbs arrived in 1981, Petitbon was the only assistant retained, beginning a partnership that would take the Redskins to three Super Bowl titles and eight playoffs appearances in 12 years.

A native of New Orleans, Louisiana, Petitbon is one of two sons of his late French immigrant father and American mother. He remained in New Orleans to attend Loyola of New Orleans on a track scholarship. After his freshman year, he transferred to Tulane University where he was an all-Southeastern Conference quarterback as a senior.

Since joining the Bears in 1959, the National Football League has been Richie's career, but not his only interest. An avid reader, Petitbon also enjoys traveling and the theatre. He and wife, Beverly, have three children: Hope, 30, Richie, 28, who played collegiately at the University of Maryland, and Vicki Leigh, 27.

"It's A Great Way To Find Our Weak Points. Not That We Have Any Weak Points."

- Don Schoenmann, Redskins Video Editor

"Working as I do for the Redskins, I guess I'm sort of used to perfection. Which is why I've been so pleased with the video and editing system we had custom designed and installed by Professional Products. With it, we could watch a fumble nine different ways. An incomplete pass from ten different angles. And a sack coming from a mile away.

Were such things to happen.

It lets us do things we could never have dreamed of doing just a few years ago. We can run it through three computers, call up any of hundreds of plays, and save tons of time. I guess that's why Professional Products has been chosen by the likes of MCI, All News Channel 8, the Orioles Park at Camden Yards, and the University of Maryland to design and install their video equipment and edit suites. Me, I'm just happy knowing that our system puts us above everybody I can think of in the league. So in the remote chance that we ever do make a mistake, we'll be sure to catch it.

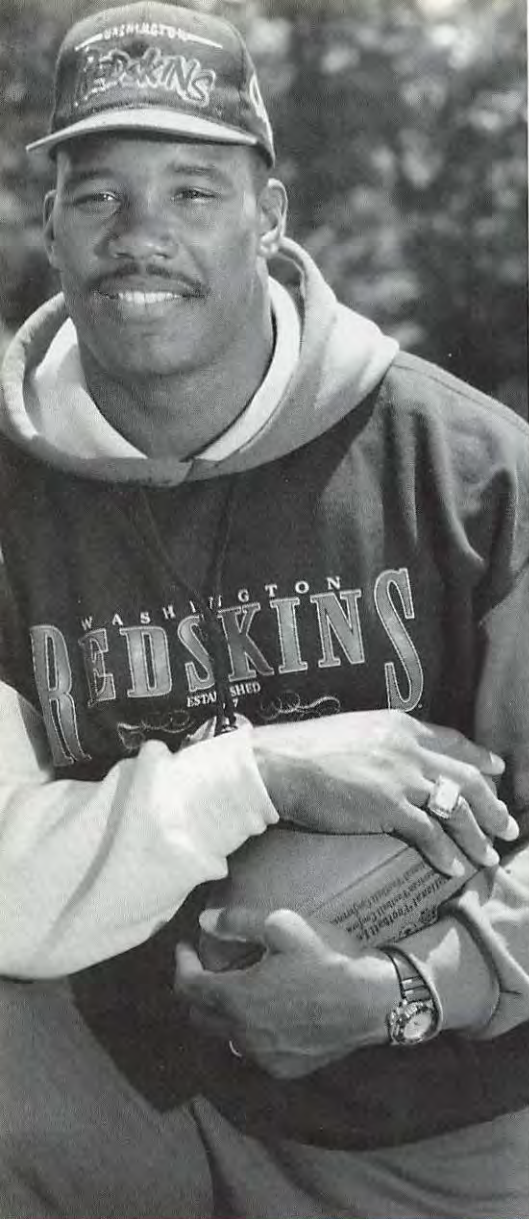

And nobody else will."

WOODWARD & LOTHROP

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

LARRY PECCATIELLO

Asst. Head Coach • 22nd NFL Season • William & Mary

COACHING: A large measure of the Redskins success over the years has been the defense. And Larry has been a guiding force behind three Super Bowl championship teams. Long considered one of the NFL's top linebacker coaches and a superb defensive tactician, Larry was elevated to the number two spot on the Redskin coaching staff this season with his promotion to assistant head coach. He joined the Redskins in 1981 as linebackers coach and was named the club's defensive coordinator in 1983. Larry came to the Redskins following nine successful years as linebackers coach with Houston (1972-75) and defensive coordinator at Seattle (1976-80). He also spent 11 years on the collegiate level with stops at William & Mary (1961-68), Navy (1969), Florida State (1970) and Rice (1971).

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Larry was captain of William & Mary's team his senior season, earning all-Southern Conference and all-America honors as a wide receiver. Born December 21, 1937 in Newark, NJ, he attended Barringer High School. Larry also served as a lieutenant in the 101st Airborne Division and holds a masters degree in education. Larry and his wife, Betsy, have 4 children: Teri, 33, Arnie, 32, Kathy, 30, and Marci, 29. The Peccatiello's reside in Warrenton, VA.

ROD DOWHWER

Offensive Coord. • 15h NFL Season • San Diego State

COACHING: Entering his fourth season with the Redskins, Rod takes over the offensive signal calling as the Redskins offensive coordinator. It's not an unfamiliar role for Rod who has helped shape the Redskins offense since his arrival in 1990. The results have been stunning, including a Super Bowl championship and a league high 485 points in 1991. He is regarded as one of the top offensive minds in the NFL, learning his craft from some of the league's most innovative coaches like Joe Gibbs, Bill Walsh and Don Coryell. He began his NFL coaching career as an assistant under Coryell in St. Louis (1973, 1982-84), and later had stints in Denver (1980-81), and Atlanta (1987-89). Rod was the head coach of the Indianapolis Colts from 1985-86. He also coached 13 years on the collegiate level, including 1 year as head coach at Stanford (1979). His other stops included San Diego State (1966-72), UCLA (1974-75), Boise State (1976) and Stanford

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Nicknamed the "Rocket" as an all-America quarterback for Don Coryell at San Diego State, Rod was a college teammate of assistants Wayne Sevier and Rennie Simmons. He finished his Aztec career as the school's all-time leader in passing yardage (2,864 yards) and touchdowns (33). He was born April 15, 1943 in Ord, NE and attended Santa Barbara (CA) High School. He and his wife Nancy have 2 sons: Brian, a law student, and Deron, drafted by the Minnesota Twins this spring. The Dowhower's reside in Ashburn, VA.

EMMITT THOMAS

Defensive Coord. • 13th NFL Season • Bishop College

COACHING: Emmitt's appointment as defensive coordinator came as no surprise after seeing his handiwork as the Redskins secondary coach. Since Emmitt took over in 1987, the Redskin secondary has been one of the league's most respected. The last two seasons, the Redskins have finished 2nd and 5th in the NFL in interceptions. Before coming to Washington, Emmitt coached the Cardinals receivers for 5 seasons (1981-85), a continued position he held his first season with the Redskins in 1986. His Cardinal receivers led the NFC in receptions in 1984. He was defensive backfield coach at Central Missouri State (1979-80) for 2 seasons before joining the Cardinals.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: In his 13-year playing career with the Kansas City Chiefs (1966-78), Emmitt played in 4 Pro Bowls and 2 Super Bowls. He compiled 58 career interceptions, including 1 in Super Bowl IV, and twice led the NFL in interceptions. In fact, he holds the distinction of being the last AFL player to record an interception. In the game's closing minutes of Super Bowl IV, his 3rd interception of the playoffs (he had 2 in the AFL title game) allowed the Chiefs to run out the clock. Emmitt played quarterback and wide receiver at Bishop College (1963-65) before signing with the Chiefs and being converted to a defensive back. Born in Angleton, TX on June 3, 1943, he attended Marshall High School. Emmitt and his wife, Jacqui, reside in Reston, VA. He has 2 children: Derek and Debra.

Coast-To-Coast Training Trip

From 1946-62 the Redskins held their training camp at Occidental College in Los Angeles, CA. Unlike today, the Redskins coast-to-coast trip would take nearly three weeks by train. Here is the Redskins training camp travel itinerary for 1952: July 24 - Sept. 1 at Occidental College; Sept. 2 - Sept. 5, Plaza Hotel in San Antonio, TX; Sept. 6 - Sept. 14, The Town House, Kansas City, MO; Sept. 15 - Sept. 20, The Rail Fence, Oklahoma City, OK; Sept. 21 - Oct. 4, Windemere East Hotel, Chicago, IL. On that trip, the Skins opened the season Sept. 27 in Chicago against the Cardinals and won 23-7, and then played the Packers in Green Bay on Oct. 5, and lost 35-20.

D O N B R E A U X

Running Backs • 14th NFL Season • McNeese State

COACHING: Year in and year out, the one constant in the Redskins rushing game has been Don. And success has closely followed. Although the names have changed the results have not. The Skins have had a rusher gain over 1,000 yards six times with John Riggins, George Rogers and Earnest Byner each gaining over 1,000 yards in back-to-back seasons. During those years, the Redskins played in four Super Bowls with three victories. Before Don came to Washington in 1981, he coached for 14 years on the collegiate level with teams that made 12 post-season bowls. He coached at Arkansas (1977-80, 1968-71), Texas (1975-76), Florida (1973-74) and Florida State (1966-67). He also coached the Houston Oilers' running backs in 1972.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Don was a quarterback at McNeese State and in the AFL with Denver (1963) and San Diego (1964-65). As a member of the Broncos and Chargers he completed 92 of 181 passes for 1,339 yards and 9 touchdowns. As a member of the Chargers he once threw 4 touchdown passes in a game. Born August 3, 1940 in Jennings, LA, he attended LaGrange High School in Lake Charles, LA. Don and his wife, Harleen Marie, have 2 daughters: Kara Lynn, 30, and Sheila Marie, 28. The Breaux's reside in Leesburg, VA.

B O B B Y D e P A U L

Adm. Asst/Secondary • 5th NFL Season • Maryland

COACHING: Bobby will take on an expanded role this year as he becomes the team's secondary assistant coach and the defensive signal caller on the sideline. Besides his added coaching duties, Bobby has a variety of responsibilities from coordinating day-today operations to preparing scouting reports on upcoming opponents for the defensive coaches. Bobby prepared himself for his current post by spending 3 seasons as defensive coordinator and linebacker coach at Catholic University (1986-88) before joining the Redskins.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Bobby played linebacker for 3 years at the University of Maryland before he suffered a knee injury in the 1984 spring game. A starter for the Terrapins, he played for current San Diego Charger head coach Bobby Ross while at Maryland and was a teammate of Richie Petitbon, Jr., son of the Redskins head coach. Bobby, who grew up in Bowie, MD, played fullback and linebacker on a Carroll High School (Washington, D.C.) team that only lost one game during his 3-year varsity career and won 3 consecutive Metro Conference titles. Born January 24, 1963, Bobby and his wife, Lisa, are expecting their 1st child in September. They reside in Bowie, MD.

R U S S G R I M M

Tight Ends • 2nd NFL Season • Pittsburgh

COACHING: It didn't take Russ long to make the successful transition from Pro Bowl calibre player to a coach in just his 1st season. Always considered a teacher on the field as a player, Russ took over the tight ends last season and molded a unit that was sprinkled with seasoned veterans and younger players.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Russ was selected to four consecutive Pro Bowls from 1983-86 and was selected to the 1980's NFL all-Decade team as a 1st team choice at guard. During his 11 seasons with the Redskins, Grimm was the cornerstone for the Redskins offensive line known as the "Hogs" and helped make the "Counter-trey" and "Counter-gap" household words. He helped the Redskins to 4 Super Bowl appearances and 3 world championships. Russ was an all-American at Pittsburgh and was selected in the 3rd round by the Redskins in the 1981 draft. Born May 2, 1959 in Scottsdale, PA; he attended Southmoreland (PA) H. S. He and his wife, Karen, have 4 children: Chad, 8, Cody, 6, and 3-year old twins, daughter Devin and son Dylan. They reside in Oakton, VA.

Hail to the Redskins

On August 17, 1938, "Hail to the Redskins" made its debut as the official fight song of the Washington Redskins. Since its debut 54 years ago, the song, written by renowned band leader Barnee Breeskin, has had a few minor changes from the original lyrics penned by Corinne Griffith (wife of owner George Preston Marshall). Griffith's original lyrics had "Fight for old Dixie" instead of today's "Fight for Old D.C." Also, Griffith originally had "Scalp 'em, Swamp 'em. We will take 'em big score. Read 'em, weep 'em Touchdown, we want heap more" instead of today's version.

"Hail to the Redskins!
Hail Victory!
Braves on the Warpath!
Fight for Old D.C.!
Run or pass or score -
we want a lot more!
Beat 'em Swamp 'em Touchdown-let the points soar!
Fight on, Fight on -
Till you have won,
Sons of Wash-ing-ton!!"

JIM HANIFAN

Offensive Line • 20th NFL Season • California

COACHING: Despite constant line juggling due to injuries last season, the Skins still yielded the 2nd fewest sacks in the league, after posting a league-low 9 sacks in 1991.. But that kind of success is nothing new for Jim. As the offensive line coach for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1975, his line only gave up 8 sacks (2nd all-time) and allowed the fewest sacks in the league from 1974-78. Including the 1991 postseason, the Redskins' 9 sacks were the fewest ever allowed by a team in 19 games. Jim's record as a molder of Pro Bowlers hasn't diminish in Washington with Jim Lachey and Mark Schlereth earning Pro Bowl honors. As an assistant coach he has tutored some of the NFL's premier linemen during the last 3 decades like Dan Dierdorf, Ed White, Conrad Dobler and Bill Fralic. Jim spent 11 years in St. Louis as the offensive line coach (1974-78) and then as head coach (1980-85). He left the Cardinals in 1979 to re-join Don Coryell in San Diego as assistant head coach. In 1977, Jim was named the league's top assistant coach by a vote of NFL coaches. In 1987, Jim moved to Atlanta as offensive line coach for 3 seasons. He began his coaching career on the collegiate level at Yuba (CA) Junior College (1961-63), Glendale (CA) Junior College (1964-66), Utah (1967-70), California (1971-72) and San Diego State (1972-73).

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Jim was an all-American tight end at California (1952-54) where he led the nation in receiving as a senior. Following his collegiate career at Berkeley, Jim played 1 season with the Toronto Argonauts (1955) in the CFL. Born September 21, 1933 in Compton, CA, Jim attended Covina High School in Covina, CA. He and his wife, Marianna, have 2 children: Kathleen, 33, and James, 21. The Hanifan's reside in Ashburn, VA.

Where Did They Go?

That's what the Redskins coaching staff must have wondered during the 1992 season when the Redskins lost a total of 135 games to injury, including 69 games to starters. Here's a summary of the Skins' injury woes in 1992.

Player	Injury	Missed	Player	Injury	Missed
Jeff Bostic	Shoulder	12	James Jenkins	Back	11
John Brandes	Knee	11	AJ Johnson	Knee	2

DAN RILEY

Strength Coach • 12th NFL Season • Keene State

COACHING: Time after time the Redskins conditioning and strength has given them that extra edge. And Dan's off-season and in-season strength program has become foundation for 3 Super Bowl championship teams. Dan's flamboyant personality and his work ethic are hard to match. In addition to those 3 Super Bowl titles, the Skins have won 5 division crowns and 4 NFC championships since Dan joined the staff in 1982. Before joining the Redskins, Dan spent 5 seasons as strength coach at Penn State (1978-82) and 4 years at West Point (1974-77).

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Dan has authored 4 books on weight training. A 1972 graduate of Keene State (NH), he earned a masters degree in physical education from Indiana University in 1973. Born October 19, 1949, Dan is a native of Manchester, NH and attended Central High School. He and his wife, Brenda, have 2 sons: Marty, 19, and Timmy, 15, and they reside in Ashburn, VA.

WAYNE SEVIER

Special Teams • 18th NFL Season • San Diego State

COACHING: It's not the individual achievements that Wayne points to with satisfaction. It's the team achievements that matter the most. His 10 seasons in Washington have produced 3 Super Bowl teams, 2 Super Bowl Bowl championships, 3 NFC championships, 4 Eastern Division titles and 7 playoff appearances. It's also no small coincidence that Wayne's competitive personality, and his willingness to do whatever it takes to win has made that possible. An original member of Joe Gibbs's staff (1981-86), Wayne spent 2 years (1987-88) with San Diego before returning to the Redskins in 1989. He also coached with the Cardinals (1974-75), Atlanta (1976) and San Diego (1979-80).

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Wayne was Don Coryell's first starting quarterback at San Diego State and a teammate of Redskins assistant Rennie Simmons. He led the Aztecs in passing as a senior and in total offense 2 straight years totaling 1,649 yards, while also leading the team in scoring as a junior. He graduated with academic distinction in mathematics. Wayne was born July 3, 1941 in San Diego, CA and attended Sweetwater High School. His wife, Barbara, is the coaching staff's secretary. They reside in Broad Run, VA. Wayne has 4 children: Mike 34, Lorine, 32, Thane, 31, and Anna, 18; and 10 grandchildren.

WARREN SIMMONS

Receivers • 12th NFL Season • San Diego State

COACHING: A key to the Redskins success over the past decade has been an effective passing game and Rennie has played a large part in that success since joining the club in 1981. And Rennie, whether working with the tight ends from 1981-89 or the offensive line from 1990-91, or the receivers last season, has helped develop one of the league's top offenses. Rennie coached previously at California State-Fullerton (1974-78) and Cerritos (CA) Junior College (1978-80).

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Rennie played center at San Diego State (1961-63) and was a teammate of Wayne Sevier and Rod Dowhower. He was chosen as the Aztecs' Most Inspirational Player as a junior. Born February 25, 1942 in Poughkeepsie, NY, he grew up and attended Santa Fe High School in Santa Fe, CA with Joe Gibbs. Rennie and his wife, Carol, have 2 children: Rod, 31, and Karen, 27. They reside in Ashburn, VA.

CHARLEY TAYLOR

Receivers • 22nd NFL Season • Arizona State

COACHING: The best compliment a teacher can have is when the pupil surpasses him in achievement. Thanks to Charley's advice and teaching the nuances of playing wide receiver in the NFL, Art Monk is now the NFL's all-time leading pass receiver. Charley moved into his current post in 1981 after remaining with the Redskins' front office as a scout in 1978 upon his retirement as a player.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Charley was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1984. In '85, he also was inducted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame, located in his hometown of Grand Prairie, TX. He also is in "Who's Who in Black America," and "Who's Who in Texas." He is the NFL's 4th all-time leading receiver with 649 catches for 9,130 yards. An 8-time Pro Bowl selection and the Redskins all-time leader in touchdowns, Charley scored 90 touchdowns (6th all-time) and totaled 10,833 yards. Washington's 1st round draft choice in 1964 as a running back, he was named the NFL's Rookie of the Year. He caught 50-or-more passes a season 7 times. Charley was an all-American running back at Arizona State (1962-64). An avid outdoorsman, Charley was appointed to the Game and Inland Fisheries Commission in 1983 by then Virginia Governor Charles Robb. Born September 28, 1942 in Grand Prairie, TX, he attended Dalworth High School. Charley and his wife, Pat, have 3 children: Charley, 28, Elizabeth Erin, 24, and Erica, 13. The Taylor's reside in Reston, VA.

Defensive Line • 34th NFL Season • Washington State

COACHING: Torgy begins his 43rd consecutive year in the NFL as a player or coach (the longest current streak in the NFL), and he has left an indelible mark in both areas. Torgy has been a member of all 5 Redskin Super Bowl teams and has coached in 6 Super Bowls overall (1979 with the Rams). He began his coaching career in Washington (1959-61) before joining the Steelers (1962-68). He then went to the Rams (1969-70), re-joined the Redskins (1971-77) and back to the Rams (1978-80), before returning to the Redskins for a 3rd time in 1981.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Torgy played linebacker and center for the Detroit Lions and was a part of 2 World Championship teams (1952-53) and also played in the NFL title game in 1954. He was traded to the Washington Redskins in 1955 and played with the Skins until 1958. Torgy played in 5 Pro Bowls (1955 and 1956 with the Redskins) in his 8-year playing career and played in 94 of 96 games. In college, Torgy played linebacker and center at Washington State (1948-50). Born February 28, 1929 in LaCrosse, WA, he attended LaCrosse High School. Torgy and his wife, Nola, have 2 daughters: Teri, 34, and Tami, 33. They reside in Fairfax, VA.

J A S O N A R A P O F F

Asst. Strength Coach • 2nd NFL Season • Springfield College

COACHING: Now in his 2nd full year on the Redskins coaching staff, Jason had spent the previous 3 seasons working as an intern on Dan Riley's strength and conditioning staff, while pursuing his master's degree at American University. His hard work ethic, experience and familiarity with the Redskins made him a natural choice when Riley was looking for a new assistant following the Redskins Super Bowl XXVI win.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Jason played 4 years of college football for Springfield College (alma mater of general manager Charley Casserly) as a defensive back. He earned his undergraduate degree in health fitness in 1989 before acquiring his master's degree in exercise physiology from American University in Washington, D.C. in the spring of 1992. He was born July 8, 1965 in Weymouth, MA, and attended Marshfield High School in Marshfield, MA. He resides in Centreville, VA.

KIRK MEE

Dir. of Player Personnel • 23rd NFL Season • Wilmington

Now in his 3rd decade with the Redskins, Kirk has been at his current post since 1978. He first came to the Redskins as a personnel scout from 1970-72. After leaving to become head coach at Earlham College (IN), he rejoined the Redskins in 1974 as a scout and defensive assistant. Kirk also coached the receivers and special teams as an assistant under George Allen. Kirk started coaching as a graduate assistant at Ohio University (1961-62). He became an assistant coach at Defiance College in 1963, became head coach in 1964-66, and was named the NAIA Ohio Football Coach of the Year in 1966. He moved on to the University of Wisconsin as an assistant (1967-69) before joining the Redskins. Kirk lettered in football, baseball and track at Wilmington College (1959-61) in Ohio and earned MVP honors in football and baseball. He graduated "cum laude" in 1961 and received his masters degree in education from Ohio University in 1963. Born March 5, 1939, Kirk has one daughter, Mindy Lee, 19. Kirk and his wife, Dottie, reside in Fairfax, VA.

GEORGE SAIMES

Dir. of College Scouting • 11th NFL Season • Michigan State

George is in his 9th year with the Redskins and his 11th year overall in personnel. He came to the Redskins in 1984 after 2 seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1982-83). And before that he spent 8 years with BLESTO Scouting Combine. He played 10 seasons with the Buffalo Bills (1963-69) and the Denver Broncos (1970-72). A member of the all-time AFL Defensive Team, George earned all-AFL honors in 5 of 7 seven seasons with Buffalo. He was named to Buffalo's Silver Anniversary all-star team. REDSKIN PARK

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

Set on a picturesque 162 acres of land in rural Loudoun County, Virginia, the newest state-of-the-art NFL complex has four football fields (three natural grass and one Astro Turf), ample parking and first-class provisions for television and print media. The building amasses some 65,000 square feet.

Located in Beauneade Corporate Park near the intersection of Virginia State Routes 28 and 625 (Waxpool Road), the two-story concrete and glass structure houses the front office, coaches, team meeting rooms, an auditorium upstairs, player locker room, training rooms, equipment and video rooms downstairs. The training room also has an x-ray room and dentist office, in addition to private examining rooms for doctors.

Adjacent to the large team meeting auditorium are various break-out rooms for position coaches and players. Also included in the building are offices for college and pro scouts, an enlarged video department and a players' recreational area, including a basketball court, two racquetball courts, a jacuzzi, steambath and lounge.

The media room has individual cubicles furnished with desks, file cabinets and electrical outlets for beat reporters, as well as a separate interview room, kitchen and restroom facilities. Each cubical is pre-wired for telephones and computers. The media room, as well as the auditorium, is pre-wired for television.

Up Close

- Carl did daily Giants reports with WNEW-AM radio in New York, and also appeared each week on MSG's "High School Sports Week."
- He held the same summer job digging graves in the Flint (MI) Cemetery all 4 years in college.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Carl was named to the 1980s all-NFL 2nd team.
- ❖ He was selected to the Pro Bowl in 1987.
- ❖ He was named NFC Defensive Player of the Year by the Washington Post in 1989.
- ❖ Carl had a career-high 113 tackles and 9 sacks in 1987.

How Acquired: Signed as an unrestricted free agent on June 14, 1993.

Games Played/Started: 125/105 [11/9] - 1984 (16/4) [2/2]; 1985 (12/5) [2/0]; 1986 (16/16) [3/3]; 1987 (12/12); 1988 (14/14); 1989 (16/16) [1/1]; 1990 (9/8) [3/3]; 1991 (15/15); 1992 (15/15)

1992 Season: Twice every season for the past 9 years, the Redskins had the opportunity, or the misfortune, of facing Carl Banks. Now the Redskins will have one of the NFL's best linebackers wearing their colors. "In Carl Banks, we think we have acquired one of the premier outside linebackers in the National Football League," said Casserly. "Carl has always presented us problems since he joined the Giants and we're glad to have him on our side with the Redskins." Last season the veteran outside linebacker missed 1 game, started the other 15 and finished with 60 tackles and 4 sacks. His top efforts came against Dallas in Week 2 with 13 tackles and against the Redskins with 8 stops in Week 13.

Pro Career: 1991: Carl missed 1 game, but still finished 2nd in total tackles with 84. He also chipped in with 4 sacks, and led all linebackers with 8 passes defended. Among his top outings were 11 tackles and a sack vs. the Eagles, 10 tackles vs. the Redskins and 8 tackles and sack in a win over Cleveland. 1990: Carl suffered a fractured metacarpal bone in his left hand in Week 5, and missed the next 6 games, but he returned to play a key role in the Giants 2nd Super Bowl win. In 9 regular season games he totaled 50 tackles, then added 7 tackles in the playoffs. 1989: The Washington Post named Carl the NFC Defensive Player of the Year after putting together another outstanding season. In addition to 89 tackles, he also added a club-leading and career-high 7 forced fumbles, along with 4 sacks, and an interception. He also caught his 1st NFL reception, which went for 22 yards and touchdown off a fake field goal attempt. 1988: He had 62 tackles and 2 sacks after a long holdout contract dispute. 1987: 1987 became his breakthrough year winning unanimous all-NFL honors. He was voted as a starter to the Pro Bowl by his peers after leading the club in tackles for the 2nd consecutive year with 101. Carl also posted a career-high 9 sacks, while also recording his 1st career interception. His best outing came against the Eagles, winning NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors with 12 tackles and 2.5 sacks. He also posted a career-high 15 tackles at Dallas. 1986: Despite the fact that Carl may have been the club's best defender over the 2nd half of the season, he won little post-season honors. In his 1st full season as a 16-game starter, Carl led the club with 113 tackles. He also came up with 6.5 sacks. Carl posted 4-double digit tackle games with 13 at the Raiders, 11 vs. Denver and 10 tackles against both Washington and St. Louis. He also added a pair of 2- sack games against both the Cardinals and Cowboys. He continued his outstanding regular season into the postseason. Carl led the Giants in the playoffs with 26 total tackles and a fumble recovery while recording 10 solo stops in the Super Bowl win over Denver. 1985: A sprained knee forced Carl out of the starting lineup for 4 games. Prior to that injury, he had recorded 3 QB sacks. He finished the season with a total of 31 tackles, then added 8 tackles in the playoffs. 1984: Carl quickly proved he belonged in the NFL as a rookie starter, winning Sports Illustrated's Defensive Player of the Week honors after registering 10 tackles, 2 sacks and a fumble recovery in a 19-7 victory over Atlanta. As a starter in 2 playoff games, he added 7 tackles, and set the tone on defense in the playoff win over the Los Angeles Rams by throwing Eric Dickerson for a 4-yard loss on the Rams' 1st rushing attempt of the day. Carl was named to the all-NFL Rookie team at season's end by UPI, Pro Football Weekly, the Pro Football Writers Association and Football Digest.

College, Personal: Carl was a consensus all-American in his senior year at Michigan State and was only the 9th player in the 87-year history of the Big 10 to earn all-Conference 1st-team honors for 3 straight seasons. Carl won a starting job late in his freshman season, then played in 43 of 44 games, finishing his career with 279 tackles - the 3rd highest total in Spartan history. He added 2 interceptions, 4 fumble recoveries, and 8 pass deflections and was named to play in the Senior Bowl, Blue-Gray Game and the Hula Bowl. Carl was co-captain in both his junior and senior years, and was named Michigan State's MVP and Governor's Award in his senior season. Carl was an outstanding prep player at Beecher High School in Flint, MI, winning all-state honors in football and basketball. He was also a shot-putter on the track team which finished 3rd in the state championships. He was also elected vice-president of the student government in high school, and was a communications major at Michigan State.

- Guy was born in Koiaumi Gumma Ken, Japan and lived in various military bases throughout Asia.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Guy has played in 185 career NFL games.
- ❖ He started a career-high 11 games in 1987.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent September 9, 1992.

Games Played/Started: 185/32 [10/2] - JETS 1980 (16/3); 1981 (16/0) [1/0]; 1982 (7/0) [3/0]; 1983 (16/6); 1984 (16/0); 1985 (16/2) [1/0]; 1986 (16/9) [2/2]; 1987 (12/11); 1988 (10/1); ATL 1989 (16/0); 1990 (16/0); 1991 (13/0) [1/0]; WASH (15/0) [2/0]

1992 Season: Hit hard by injuries, including special teams, the Redskins placed a call to Guy to bail them out of a tough spot. He responded by giving the Skins a solid and reliable long snapper over the season's final 15 weeks and led the club with 10 punt coverage tackles. "Automatic," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier of Guy's long snapping duties on punts. "But what was a surprise, was that he showed us what a good cover guy he was on punts." Guy opened the year in Philadelphia, joining the Eagles as a Plan B free agent after spending the previous three seasons in Atlanta. Waived by the Eagles, Guy joined the Skins in time to face his old teammates in Week 2 when the Falcons came to RFK.

Pro Career: 1991: Guy performed his long snapping duties flawlessly for the Falcons. He signed with the Eagles on April 1 as a Plan B free agent. 1990: Again he saw all his playing time on special teams as Atlanta's long snapper. 1989: Guy was acquired by the Falcons at the beginning of training camp for a 7th round pick from the Jets. 1987: Already a capable backup and long snapper, Guy recorded a career-high 11 starts at center, and both guard positions. 1986: Guy started 9 games when injuries at center and guard took their toll on the Jets' offensive line. He started both playoff games at guard. 1985: Guy started two games, including the opener at left tackle. He again was a mainstay at long snapper. 1984: Guy saw exclusive duty on special teams. 1983: Guy started the final 6 games at left guard and center. 1982: Slowed by a preseason knee injury, he came back to play in 7 games as the team's long snapper. 1981: Guy again performed his duties in a flawless manner as the Jets' long snapper. 1980: A 10th round selection by the Jets, he went on to start 3 games and was named an NFL all-rookie selection at guard.

College, Personal: Guy was a four-year starter at Montana as a guard, center and tackle. He earned all-Big Sky Conference honors at 2 different positions - at tackle as a junior and at center as a senior. His father is a retired U.S. Army sergeant and finally settled the family in Aberdeen, WA, where he attended Weatherwax High School and was an all-state football player and all-conference basketball player. He spends most of his free time in the offseason in Montana hunting and fishing. He and his wife, Sharon, reside in Bala Cynwyd, PA.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Jeff was named to the Pro Bowl in 1983.
- ❖ His 168 games as a Redskin is 9th on the club's all-time list.
- ❖ Jeff has had streaks of 64 and 52 straight starts during his career.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent September 2, 1980

Games Played/Started: 168/139 [18/18] - 1980 (16/0); 1981 (16/16); 1982 (9/9)[4/4]; 1983 (16/16)[3/3]; 1984 (8/8); 1985 (10/6); 1986 (16/16)[3/3]; 1987 (12/5)[3/3]; 1988 (13/11); 1989 (16/16); 1990 (16/16)[2/2]; 1991 (16/16)[3/3]; 1992 (4/4)

1992 Season: Season number 13 proved to be an unlucky one for Jeff. In his 53rd consecutive start, dating back to the last game of the 1988 season, Jeff tore his rotator cuff at Phoenix and spent the rest of the year on injured reserve. His injury signaled the beginning of an injury plague that affected the "Hogs" throughout the '92 campaign. Bouncing back from injuries, however, is nothing new for Jeff who has made numerous recoveries from - reconstructive surgery on his right knee (1984), ligament damage surgery on his left knee (1988), calcium deposit cut out, collarbone trimmed (1991), plus various other nicks and bruises that can accumulate over 13 years and 168 NFL games. "Why he's been able to be so good for so long that he is smart, tough and is remarkably durable," said offensive line coach Jim Hanifan. "Just because he has played 13 years and missed most of last year doesn't mean his career is over. Not with Jeff. A lot of that might be due to his mental and physical toughness."

Pro Career: 1991: Jeff started every game and was named offensive player of the week against both Detroit and Cleveland. Typically consistent, Jeff anchored a line that allowed a league-low (and club record) 9 sacks. 1990: Jeff started every game for the second year in a row and along with his fellow "Hogs" played a key role in the Redskins stretch run to the playoffs. Jeff was awarded the "Nate Fine Memorial Award" at the Redskins Alumni Welcome Home Luncheon which is given annually to a player completely dedicated to the Redskins and the game of football. 1989: Jeff was the glue that kept everything in place as the only offensive player to start all 16 games. With his co-Hogs going down to injury all around him, Jeff picked up the slack and had his finest year since his Pro Bowl year of 1983. Only a bruised left calf in the second half of the Week 2 games against Philadelphia kept Bosco sidelined during the year. He was named Redskin of the Year by Washington's Quarterback Club. 1988: After working his way into the starting lineup, Jeff suffered bruised ribs in Week 13, then came back to start the last game of the year. Despite a ligament-damaging knee injury in the finale, Jeff fought back to an '89 starting role. 1987: Jeff started the season as a reserve when the Redskins opted for more size in the line and switched Russ Grimm from guard to center. But after Grimm suffered a knee injury, Jeff stepped into the starting role in Week 11, started the remainder of the season, and into the postseason. 1986: For the first time since he injured his knee against St. Louis in 1984, Jeff started and finished every game at center. He was named Offensive Player of the Game for his efforts against New Orleans and San Francisco. 1985: The Redskins recipient of the Ed Block Courage Award, Jeff was without a doubt the team's Comeback Player of the Year. A knee injury he had suffered the previous season could have ended his career. Instead, Jeff came off the Physically Unable to Perform list on October 19 and played in the final 10 games, starting 6.

Heading into Week 8 against St. Louis, Jeff had played in 64 straight games, but when he hit the Busch Stadium turf on the last play of the third quarter his streak ended and questions about his football future were raised. He tore three of the four ligaments in his right knee and was out for the season. 1983: Jeff was recognized by his peers as the best center in the NFC, making the NFC Pro Bowl squad. He was one of 3 Washington linemen to make the team, joining guard Russ Grimm and tackle Joe Jacoby. He also was selected to the UPI 1st team all-NFC squad. 1982: Jeff settled into his 2nd year as the Redskins' starting center. As the team's long snapper, Jeff was an integral part of Mark Moseley's NFL-record 23 consecutive field goals. 1981: Jeff was the biggest surprise in the Redskins' training camp, earning the starting job at center. He also continued long snapping and led the punt-coverage team in tackles. 1980: Jeff signed with the Philadelphia Eagles as a free agent, was released late in training camp and signed with Washington six days before the season as a long-snapper.

College, Personal: Jeff was named to the all-Atlantic Coast Conference team his junior year at Clemson, then switched from center to guard as a senior. He was scouted by Charley Casserly as a junior who then remembered him as a center when Jeff was cut by the Eagles. Born in Greensboro, NC., Jeff graduated from Benjamin Smith High School. He won the 187-pound state wrestling championship as a senior. He is involved in real estate development in Charleston, SC, and in Greensboro, NC, where he embarked on the construction of an apartment complex last year. He holds an annual golf tournament to benefit the Hospice House of Greensboro, NC. He and his wife, Lynn, have two daughters - Ashley Lynn and Amanda, and reside in Oakton, VA.

1992 Season: When the Redskins scanned the waiver wire following the final roster cutdown at the end of training camp and saw Todd's name on it, the Redskins were more than happy to welcome him back to Washington...although in a different role than the one he had from 1987-90. In those days, Todd was penciled in as the starter for 60 straight games. But after spending all of 1991 in San Francisco after the Skins didn't protect him in Plan B, Todd's new role last season seemed to be a perfect fit. "Todd can play either free safety or strong safety," said head coach Richie Petitbone. "He's a smart player and he's not going to make mistakes. Todd plays a great role for us." That role also included being a key member of the Redskins special teams units where he finished second on the club with 97 total hits. Defensively, he had the team's longest interception return when he returned a pick 65 yards against the Cardinals in Week 12 at RFK. Todd had three starts at strong safety when Danny Copeland was shelved with a neck injury. In Week 9 vs. Seattle he had a season-high 13 tackles, while also adding five special teams hits. He also started at strong safety in Week 11 against the Saints coming up with 9 tackles, and in Week 12 vs. the Cardinals with 11 tackles. He also had a fourth start at cornerback against the Giants in Week 13.

Pro Career: 1991: Signed by the 49ers as a Plan B free agent from the Redskins, Todd started 14 games and came up with 53 tackles and one interception. He had a season-best 8 tackles, 5 passes defended and a fumble recovery vs. New Orleans in Week 13. His lone interception came against the Rams in Week 4. 1990: Todd finished 2nd on the Redskins with 115 tackles, including a career-high 18 tackles against the 49ers in Week 2. He also had a big day at Dallas the following week recording 12 tackles, a sack and an interception. 1989: Todd posted 130 tackles and 3 interceptions. His best day was an 11-tackle effort at New York. 1988: Todd finished the season with a career-high 141 tackles. His best effort came against Dallas in Week 13 when he had 13 tackles. 1987: Todd won the starting strong safety job from veteran Curtis Jordan and finished the season with a career-high 4

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ John was named World League Tri-Defensive MVP in 1991 with the Birmingham Fire.
- ❖ He had a career-high 16 tackles in first NFL start at Seattle last season.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent August 8, 1992.

Games Played/Started: 20/2 [2/0] - HOU 1989 (8/0); WASH 1992 (12/2) [2/0]

1992 Season: John takes straightforward approach to football - "You've got to take your chance when you get it, and then you've got to make the most of it." And he took those words to heart last year. Signed by the Redskins on August 8, John made it through the final roster cut, but was waived the following day. But when injuries sliced into the Redskin linebacking corps, John was brought back on October 9 and made the most of his second chance. "John came in and did a solid job for us," said assistant head coach Larry Peccatiello. "We were in a tough spot, and John came in and gave us everything he had. I don't know what else you could ask of a player." He made valued contributions as a special teamer coming up with 24 total hits, including 9 kickoff coverage tackles and 8 punt coverage tackles. He also filled in as a starter at middle linebacker at Seattle and Kansas City. He led the team with a career-best 16 tackles vs. the Seahawks and followed that up with 6 stops at Kansas City a week later.

Pro Career: 1992: John capped off another brilliant World League season with Birmingham. He topped the team with 77 tackles and was an all-World selection. 1991: A first-team all-World choice and the league's tri-MVP, John totaled 47 tackles and 4 sacks. Following his all-World performance, he signed with Phoenix but was released during training camp. 1990: John returned to the Houston Oilers training camp but was released during camp. 1989: John played in the Oilers' first 8 games, primarily on special teams, before a quad injury placed him on injured reserve. He was later re-signed to the practice squad where he remained for the final 2 weeks of the year. 1988: Drafted by the Oilers in the 12th round of the 1988 draft, John was waived during training camp.

College, Personal: Regarded by former Georgia head coach Vince Dooley as the best linebacker he had ever seen at Georgia, John amassed 415 tackles, including 193 solos during his Bulldog career. He also had 37 tackles for losses, 11 sacks, and 4 interceptions. He earned all-SEC and all-America honors as a senior recording 154 tackles and 4 sacks. He played in the Hula Bowl all-star game in Hawaii following his senior year. He earned his degree in business administration and majored in marketing. He attended Wildwood (FL) High School lettering in football, baseball, basketball and track, earning all-state honors in football. His hobbies include hunting, fishing, camping and horseback riding. John also is a big country music fan listing George Strait, Clint Black and Randy Travis as his favorites. He and his wife, Diane, have twin boys, Hunter and Logan, and reside in Winder, GA.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Ray earned a game ball for his performance in the Redskins 10-3 win over the Eagles in 1989.
- ❖ He played a career-high 16 games with 8 starts in 1992.

How Acquired: Signed as a Plan B free agent March 10, 1989.

Games Played/Started: 56/16 [3/2] - St.L-PHO - 1986 (11/4); 1987 (7/3); 1988 (15/1); WASH 1989 (7/0); 1990 (0/0) [1/0]; 1991 (IR); 1992 (16/8) [2/2]

1992 Season: Many times Ray was called an insurance policy, or a luxury, for a Redskins offensive line that was deep in talent. An assortment of injuries had virtually cost him two seasons of inaction. But last year when injuries took their toll on the Redskins offensive line, Ray's value to the team became noticeable. Not only did he play left guard as both a backup and starter, but he even filled in with a start at right tackle in Week 12 vs. Phoenix. "We have always had high regard for Ray," said offensive line coach Jim Hanifan. "But unfortunately, Ray had some injuries that cost him playing time. This past year he showed how valuable and versatile he is playing guard and tackle." Ray opened the year as a backup at left guard, but with injuries to Joe Jacoby, he moved in as the starter in Week 9 at Seattle. He remained there the remainder of the year, except for his Week 13 start at right tackle against the Cardinals.

Pro Career: 1991: Although Ray spent a 2nd year in a row on injured reserve (elbow), Redskin coaches and general manager Charley Casserly thought enough of Ray to place him on the team's 37-man protected list. 1990: Ray spent the entire regular season on injured reserve, and saw his only game action in the playoff loss at San Francisco. 1989: Ray's playing debut as a Redskin came in Week 10 vs. Philadelphia, (due to a 1st quarter injury to Joe Jacoby) against Reggie White. Ray did not allow a sack, helping pave the way for the 10-3 win and earning himself a game ball. 1988: Ray played 15 games for Phoenix, starting the season finale. 1987: Ray was waived by St. Louis in training camp but resigned with the club Sept. 12. He started 3 games at left tackle before he was placed on injured reserve Nov. 12 with a torn finger tendon. Ray was reactivated Dec. 12 for the final 3 games. 1986: Ray made the team as an 8th round draft choice. After playing much of the season as a reserve tackle (he spent Weeks 7-11 on IR with a knee injury), he started the final 4 games at left guard.

College, Personal: An all-Southland Conference selection at Arkansas State, Ray played both tackle and tight end. He transferred to Arizona State from Memphis State after his freshman year before finally switching to Arkansas State. He was the first player in Southland Conference history to be named 1st team all-conference at 2 positions in the same season. Born in Marion, AR, he was an all-state performer at Marion High School and played both offense and defense. He once made 25 tackles in a game. He has been active supporter of Special Olympics, taking part in the Northern Virginia Games. Ray belonged to the National Honor Society and also served as class president. He has 3 children; two daughters, Lentish, 11, and Andrea, 6, and a son, Tyler, 9. He resides in Centreville, VA.

Walt Garrison on Monday Night in 1973, Jason's Redskin career will always be remembered for one particular game-winning play against the Cowboys. Simply known as "The Play" in Washington, Jason came up with the most memorable moment of the 1992 season in Week 14. Trailing 17-13 with 3:14 to play and the ball on the Cowboy 5-yard line, Jason sacked Troy Aikman in the end zone and caused a fumble that set up an improbable chain of events. Emmitt Smith picked up the loose ball and tried to throw the ball out of the end zone, but Danny Copeland recovered the loose ball for a touchdown that gave the Skins a 20-17 lead. Jason's contributions to the Redskins, however, were not limited to just one play. "Jason is a very versatile player," said defensive line coach Torgy Torgeson. "He can do a lot of things for us and has been a big contributor." Jason started the year as a backup at both defensive tackle and end, but due to injuries he moved into the starting left defensive tackle slot for the final five games of the year and both playoff games. He had a season-high 6 tackles vs. the Cardinals in Week 12 and tied for 5th on the team with 3 1/2 sacks. He also was a big contributor on special teams finishing with 20 total hits.

Pro Career: 1991: Jason signed with the Redskins after a Week 6 injury put Markus Koch out for the season. In his only start of the year at Pittsburgh, he registered 3 tackles and 1 1/2 sacks. In the Super Bowl Jason's 2nd quarter sack of Jim Kelly for -11 yards knocked the Bills out of field goal range with 2:00 minutes remaining in the half. 1990: Jason was used mainly in passing situations by the Bengals. As a result his tackle numbers were down (11). 1989: Starting all 16 games for the first time in his career, Jason posted a career-high 56 tackles (42 solos) and led the team with 6 sacks. 1988: Jason again was a big-play maker in the Bengals pass defense, coming up with a career-best 6 sacks, while also adding 35 tackles (25 solos). 1987: Selected by the Bengals in the 1st round (17th overall), he missed training camp and didn't sign with the club until Sept. 8. Jason still played in all 12 non-strike games while seeing all of his action as a backup.

College, Personal: The WAC Player of the Year in 1985 and 1986, Jason capped off his brilliant college career by winning the Outland Trophy awarded to the nation's outstanding defensive lineman. He began his college career as a quarterback at Ricks College in Idaho. He left school to work and gained 45 pounds. When he returned to Ricks he was shifted from quarterback to defensive end where he went on to earn Junior College all-America honors. He makes numerous public speaking appearances and works with The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He and his wife, Roxi, have 3 children, Brittney, 7, Tyson, 4, and Haylee, 1, and they reside in Orem, UT.

Up Close

- Earnest and Art Monk started a foundation to acquire goods, clothing, books and educational supplies to people in need in Washington, D.C.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Earnest was selected to back-to-back Pro Bowls in 1990 and 1991.
- ❖ His 1,219 yards rushing in 1990 was the 3rd best single-season rushing mark in team history.
- ❖ He is one of only 11 players in NFL history to gain over, 1,000 yards rushing with 2 different teams.
- ❖ His 3,845 yards rushing as a Redskin is 3rd in club history.
- ❖ He has run, caught and thrown for a touchdown three straight years.
- ❖ Earnest has started 54 straight games which is the longest streak on the team.

How Acquired: Obtained in a draft day trade from the Cleveland Browns, April 22, 1989 for running back Mike Oliphant.

Games Played/Started: 131/112 [12/11] - CLEVE 1984 (16/3); 1985 (16/13) [1/1]; 1986 (7/7) [1/0]; 1987 (12/12) [2/2]; 1988 (16/16) [1/1]; WASH 1989 (16/13); 1990 (16/16) [2/2]; 1991 (16/16) [3/3]; 1992 (16/16) [2/2]

1992 Season: Not surprisingly, when the Redskins were at their lowest following back-to-back losses to Kansas City and New Orleans, Joe Gibbs turned to his rushing game and Earnest to turn the season around. Although nursing a sore back, Earnest led the Redskins to three straight wins over the Cardinals, Giants and Cowboys. Against Phoenix in Week 12, he gained 62 yards and a touchdown; at New York he rushed for 100 yards and 2 touchdowns; and vs. Dallas, he rushed for 69 yards on 19 carries, caught 2 passes for 19 yards and threw a 41-yard TD pass to Terry Orr. In the last 5 weeks of the season, he gained 359 yards (81-yard per game) as the Skins won 3 of 5. Those wins put the Skins into the playoffs for a third straight year and Earnest was the catalyst. "He means a lot to this team because of the way he works and his toughness," said running backs coach Don Breaux. "He runs hard and he's one heckuva blocker on pass protection." For the third straight year, Earnest carried the workload for the Redskins rushing game, but injuries to him, and to the Skins' offensive line, kept him from becoming the first Redskin to gain 1,000-yards rushing in three straight seasons. Needing 37 yards to reach 1,000 yards heading into the season finale against the Raiders, Earnest moved to within 2 yards of 1,000 in the 2nd quarter, but a back injury forced him to miss the remainder of the game. He still became only the 2nd Redskin rusher to have 250+ carries 3 straight years (Larry Brown in 1971-72-73) with his 262 carries. His most productive rushing day came in Week 3 when he gained a season-best 120 yards on 30 carries. Earnest had a 93-yard effort vs. the Eagles 15.

Pro Career: 1991: Earnest became the first Redskin runner since George Rogers in 1985-86 to post back-to-back 1,000-yard rushing seasons when he gained 1,048 yards. He was named to his 2nd straight Pro Bowl and was an all-pro choice by AP and College and Pro Football Newsweekly. He finished 5th in the NFL in rushing and 4th in the NFC, while his 1,356 total yards (1,048 rushing/308 receiving) placed him 4th in the NFL. He rushed for a season-high 116 yards on 25 carries at Phoenix in Week 14 and had 3 other 100-yard games against Dallas (22/101), Phoenix (23/109) and Houston (21/112). 1990: Earnest put together his finest season in the NFL. He produced enough to finish 4th in the NFL in rushing with 1,219 yards and was selected to his 1st Pro Bowl. Taking on the full-time rushing duties in Week 10 against the Saints, he averaged 110 yards and 26 carries a contest over the final 7 weeks of the season. Earnest rushed for over 100 yards 5 times, including 4 straight 100-yard efforts (the last Redskin to post 4 straight 100-yard games was John Riggins in the 1982 playoffs). The impressive streak included 157 yards vs. Miami, 121 yards vs. Chicago, 149 yards at New England and 154 yards at Indianapolis. And for his efforts he was chosen NFC Offensive Player of the Month for December. His 297 rushing attempts led the NFL and his 39-carry effort at New England was the 2nd best mark in club history. He also threw his 1st career touchdown pass when he hit Ricky Sanders for 31 yards vs. the Giants. Besides his Pro Bowl selection, Earnest was a 1st team choice by USA Today and a 2nd team choice by UPI on their all-NFC team. 1989: The Redskins were 6-0 when he started at running back. Earnest became the full-time starter Week 12 against Chicago and over the last 5 games (all wins), he rushed for 316 yards and added 19 catches for 151 yards as the Redskins averaged 30 points per game. Three times (Phoenix, twice, and Chicago) he combined for more than 100 yards while totaling over 1,000 yards for the 3rd straight season. His 7 rushing TDs led the Redskins and 9 TDs tied Gary Clark for the lead. 1988: The Redskins saw Earnest first hand when his 27-yard touchdown run with 1:49 remaining at RFK Stadium, gave the Browns a 17-13 victory over Washington in Week 13. Earnest led the Browns in both rushing (576 yards on 157 carries) and receiving (57 catches for 576 yards). His 57 catches were the most in his pro career. 1987: The Browns called Earnest the "heart and soul" of their offense. He scored a club-high 8 touchdowns and finished 2nd in the AFC in scoring among non-kickers with 60 points. He had a season high 8 catches twice. 1986: Earnest missed action for the first time in his pro career. He suffered an ankle injury in Week 7 against Green Bay and didn't return until the AFC Championship Game against Denver. 1985: In his 1st full season as a full-time starter, Earnest broke two of Cleveland's postseason records. His 161 yards rushing against Miami broke Jim Brown's mark of 114 vs. Baltimore in 1964. His 66-yard touchdown run in that game broke Leroy Kelly's record of 56 against Dallas in '67. 1984: A 10th round selection by the Cleveland Browns, his 5.9-yard rushing average was highest among AFC running backs. His 188 yards (21 carries) against Houston in the season finale is still the 2nd highest total by a Browns' rookie, bettered only by Jim Brown's 237 in 1957.

College, Personal: As a senior at East Carolina, Earnest led the team in rushing 862 yards. A three-year starter at fullback, Earnest finished as the eighth-leading rusher in school history. Earnest gained 2,049 yards on 378 carries in his career. He majored in physical education. Born in Milledgeville, GA, Earnest played quarterback, tailback, safety and linebacker at Baldwin High School and his jersey (no. 21) was retired after he graduated. He also served as the school's class president. Earnest and his wife, Tina, have 3 daughters: Semeria, 10, Adrian, 8, and Brandi, 2. They reside in Centreville, VA.

• Re-told many times, but on the 1st play of rookie debut, Ravin lost his helmet as he ran down the field on kick coverage, but never slowed down until making the tackle.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ As a starter in 1989, Ravin recorded a career-high 97 tackles.
- ❖ Ravin had a career-high 3 sacks vs. Philadelphia in 1988.
- ❖ He posted a career-high 19 tackles vs. New Orleans in 1989.

How Acquired: Selected in fifth round of 1986 draft (113th overall).

Games Played/Started: 79/14 [8/0] - 1986 (IR); 1987 (12/0) [3/0]; 1988 (16/1); 1989 (15/13); 1990 (16/0) [2/0]; 1991 (16/0) [3/0]; 1992 (4/0)

1992 Season: When the injury bug began to take its toll last season, no loss was more deeply felt than when Ravin was lost for the year with a knee injury that required surgery. One of the Redskins top special teams players, he also was being counted on to become the team's run stopper at middle linebacker. "Ravin can do so much for you," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier. "He has the combination of size, speed, experience and excellent size-speed ratio that gives Ravin the ability to make big plays. And we also expected him to make big plays on defense." Those hopes were dashed when Ravin, who originally injured his knee in 1989 but had played well without surgery, twisted his left knee in the club's 3rd preseason game. Ravin saw limited duty in the club's first 4 games before the decision to have surgery on the injured knee.

Pro Career: 1991: Ravin finished 3rd on the team with 26 special teams tackles (17 kick coverage and 9 punt coverage) and 4th with 99 total special teams hits. As a backup at linebacker, he enjoyed his best day of the year at Chicago in Week 6 with 2 tackles (1 for loss), 1 QB hurry, 1 pass deflection and 6 special teams hits. 1990: A 2-week contract hold out, followed by a sore knee once he reported to training camp, got Ravin off to a slow start, and he was never able to wrestle the starting spot from rookie Andre Collins. Ravin finished 4th on the club with his 78 total special teams hits, including a season-best 12 hits vs. Miami.

1989: Given the starting nod in the 3rd week of the year, Ravin started the next 12 weeks until a knee injury sidelined him for the finale against Seattle. His 97 tackles were 5th-best on the team, 2nd among linebackers, and his 3 1/2 sacks tied him for 4th. In his 2nd start of the year, against New Orleans in Week 4, Ravin caused a fumble on the game's third play that led to a Chip Lohmiller field goal, and finished the game with a career-high 19 tackles. His 11 tackles in the Week 13 win over San Diego led the team. Ravin was also busy on special teams, finishing 7th on the team with 50 total hits. 1988: In his only start of the year vs. Phoenix in Week 7, Ravin had a key 1st quarter safety and was named Defensive Player of the Game. In Week 13, Ravin had 3 sacks and 2 forced fumbles in the 20-19 win over the Eagles. His 119 special teams hits were 2nd on the team. 1987: Ravin earned a spot on the Redskins' Super Bowl roster, thanks to his special teams enthusiasm. By the regular season finale against the Vikings, Ravin earned time with the defense and made 4 tackles, including 1 sack. 1986: A knee injury slowed Ravin throughout training camp, eventually forcing him on injured reserve for the season. In his NFL debut against the Steelers in preseason, he lost his helmet as he ran down field on kick coverage but never slowed down until making the hit.

College, Personal: A fractured knee cap as a senior at Arkansas dropped Ravin's draft position, but the Redskins were the beneficiaries of his bad luck. His sophomore and junior seasons pointed to a higher selection when he made 58 and 65 tackles, respectively. His best games was a 13-tackle performance against Tulsa. Ravin grew up in Ft. Smith, AR, and graduated from Northside High School, where he was all-state as a senior. He and Miami tight end Keith Jackson were high school rivals. Ravin was a criminal justice major. He has a son Ashton, 4, and resides in Herndon, VA.

• Monte was the 1st player ever drafted by an NFL club from Central Arkansas. He worked his way onto the team despite never playing high school football.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

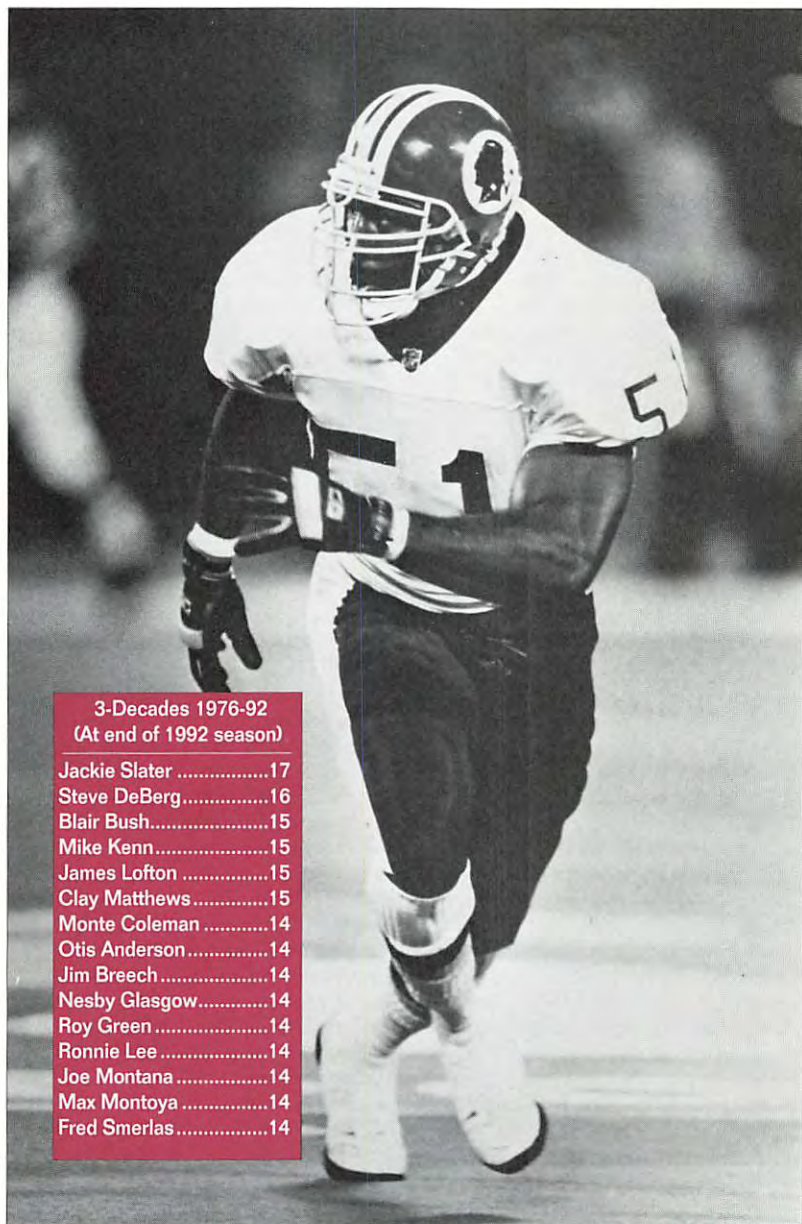

- ❖ His 50 career sacks are 5th on the club's all-time list.
- ❖ Monte's 186 games as a Redskin is 6th in club history and 3rd among defensive players.

How Acquired: Selected in 11th round of the 1979 draft (289th overall).

Games Played/Started: 186/58 [21/5] - 1979 (16/0); 1980 (16/10); 1981 (12/11); 1982 (8/2) [4/0]; 1983 (10/0) [3/0]; 1984 (16/5) [1/0]; 1985 (10/1); 1986 (11/4) [3/2]; 1987 (12/12) [3/3]; 1988 (13/0); 1989 (15/3); 1990 (15/0) [2/0]; 1991 (16/1) [3/0]; 1992 (16/0) [2/0]

1992 Season: On November 14, 1993, Monte will turn 36. It's an age when most football players have an "ex" placed in front of the word player. Instead, by that November date, Monte will be in the middle of his 15th year which will be the 2nd most in club history and the most years ever by a defensive player. "Monte understands the whole concept of playing linebacker," said assistant head coach Larry Peccatiello who has been Monte's linebacker coach since 1981. "He's been gifted with outstanding athletic ability. His experience allows him to anticipate what's going to happen and he's also able to share that knowledge with our younger players." But Monte's not ready to pass the torch just yet. Last year, Monte's veteran leadership once again proved invaluable to the Redskins defense. He was again a key member of the Skins nickel defense coming up with 53 tackles and 3 sacks. And as usual he was a leader on special teams with 50 total hits which was 9th best. His top single game performance came at Minnesota in Week 7 when Andre Collins left the game with a back injury. Monte finished with 12 tackles, had 4 special team hits and was the left outside blocker on all 5 of Chip Lohmiller's field goals. Monte also had sacks vs. Dallas in Week 14, Giants in Week 13 and Denver in Week 5. In the playoffs at San Francisco, Monte had 4 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Pro Career: 1991: His 89 tackles (6th on the team) were his highest since 1987 and the 5th best output of his career. He also finished with 3 1/2 sacks. Monte still showed he can play on special teams finishing 7th on the club with 67 total hits. Season highlights included a season-high 12 tackles (10 solo) vs. Detroit in the season opener and against the Rams in Week 13 he tallied 4 tackles, 1 1/2 sacks, 1 QB hurry, 1 pass deflection and 12 special teams hits. Monte also added his 15th career interception against the Giants in Week 15. 1990: Monte turned in 66 tackles, 11 QB hurries and 3 sacks. Monte had a team-high 14 tackles against the Cardinals and led all linebackers with 10 tackles vs. the Giants, including 1 sack. He also added 31 total hits on special teams. 1989: Despite an aggravated hamstring suffered in Week 7 against Tampa Bay that limited his play in the middle of the season, Monte finished the year with 49 tackles and 4 sacks. In his 3 starts (Week 1 vs. Giants, Week 2 vs. Philly and Week 16 vs. Seattle), Monte had his best games. In the opener against the Giants, Monte's 24-yard interception return (the 3rd of his career) for a 4th quarter TD gave Washington its only lead of the game. In Week 2 vs. the Eagles, Monte posted a season-high 7 tackles, and forced a fumble, and in the season finale at Seattle he added a sack and forced a fumble. 1988: Monte was the starter at left linebacker until he sprained his left knee against Chicago in Week 11. After missing the next 2 games, he alternated run-downs and passing-downs with Mel Kaufman for the remainder of the year. 1987: Monte emerged as a starter at right linebacker after middle linebacker Neal Olkewicz tore knee cartilage in the preseason opener, forcing Rich Milot to move from right linebacker into the middle. Monte remained the starter even after Olkewicz returned and finished the season with 4 1/2 sacks, 2 interceptions and 107 tackles (10 for loss). 1986: Monte replaced Kaufman as the starter after Mel tore his Achilles in Week 2, but a pulled hamstring put Monte on injured reserve three weeks later. Monte returned in Week 10. During the playoffs, Monte finished with 16 tackles. 1985: Monte pulled his hamstring in Week 3 while chasing Eagles receiver Mike Quick and spent the next 6 weeks on injured reserve. He returned in Week 10 against the Detroit Lions. 1984: In one of his best seasons, Monte finished with 10 1/2 sacks (2nd on the team) and 88 tackles. 1983: Monte missed the first 6 games because of a severe thigh contusion sustained in the preseason against Buffalo. 1982: Monte started at left linebacker until he suffered a shoulder injury against the Giants Nov. 21. The injury bothered Monte throughout the season but he missed only 1 game (Philadelphia), playing the latter part of the season in passing situations. 1981: Monte's 114 1/2 tackles were 3rd on the team. Against Philadelphia in Week 14, Monte intercepted a pass in the 4th quarter and returned it for the game-winning touchdown. He suffered a fractured shoulder in Week 2 against the Giants and missed 4 games. 1980: Monte's 118 tackles were a career high. He started the season at left linebacker in place of Brad Dusek and moved to the right toward the end in place of injured Pete Wysocki. 1979: Monte played as a pass-covering specialist and on special teams.

College, Personal: Monte became the first player out of the University of Central Arkansas to be drafted in the NFL. As a safety and linebacker, he earned NAIA honors after setting a school record with 22 career interceptions. Monte's brother, Sam, also attended Central Arkansas and had a tryout with the Redskins as a running back. A commercial art major, Monte enjoys landscape painting, but his passion is fishing and hunting. He bagged a 4-point deer during last year's hunting season. And, along with teammates, Chip Lohmiller, Art Monk and Earnest Byner, went ice fishing during Super Bowl XXVI which was featured on ESPN. He's also participated in the Bayou Bass Challenge in Morgan City, LA, which is the biggest fishing tournament in the country with proceeds going to the United Way of South Louisiana. He has been a past local spokesperson for the Virginia Make-A-Wish Foundation. Born in Pine Bluff, AR, he attended Pine Bluff High School. Monte and his wife, Yvette have 2 daughters: Jasmine and Kyndall, and they reside in Herndon, VA. Monte also has two children: son Corry, 16, and daughter, Londie 13.

Up Close

- Andre is one of 19 children. The 12th in the family, he has 12 sisters and 6 brothers.
- He finished his degree requirements in health planning and administration last summer completing an internship at Arlington Hospital.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ He led the Redskins in tackles with 151 in 1991.
- ❖ His first career TD was a 15-yard INT return vs. Atlanta in 1991.
- ❖ Andre became only the second rookie to start every game under Joe Gibbs in 1990 (Darrell Green in 1983 was the other).
- ❖ His 6 sacks in 1990 tied the club record for sacks by a rookie.
- ❖ Andre had started 40 straight games before a back injury forced him to miss 2 games last season.

How Acquired: Selected in second round of the 1990 draft (46th overall).

Games Played/Started: 46/46 [7/7] - 1990 (16/16) [2/2]; 1991 (16/16) [3/3]; 1992 (14/14) [2/2]

1992 Season: Andre had big goals heading into the 1992 season. He was coming off a superb season as the team's leading tackler and was developing a reputation as a big play linebacker. Instead, 1992 developed into a frustrating and even painful season. He started the year with a deep thigh bruise and later a painful back injury (which required offseason surgery) forced him out of 2 games and limited his ability to play all out for basically the entire 2nd half of the season. Still, even with those injuries, Andre was able to post back-to-back 100-tackle seasons finishing 4th on the team with 116 stops. And he still was a model of quiet consistency producing 2 sacks and an interception. "Andre would never make excuses, but those injuries had an effect on him," said assistant head coach Larry Peccatiello. "He wasn't able to do all the things he's capable of doing. Now that he's healthy, look for the kind of player who will make big plays and have a big year." Even playing with the painful back injury that forced him to the sidelines in Week 9 and 10, Andre posted double-digit tackles in Week 14 vs. Dallas with a season-high 15. He had the key tackle that forced Emmitt Smith to fumble in the end zone which resulted in the game winning points. He also stopped a Dallas scoring threat with an interception a yard from the end zone. He also had 13 tackles and a sack against the Eagles in Week 15. Andre also notched double-digit stops in Week 8 vs. the Giants (12 tackles), Week 6 vs. Eagles (10 tackles and 1 sack) and Week 4 at Phoenix (12 tackles).

Pro Career: 1991: A starter since day one as a rookie, he calmly adjusted to his switch from the left side to the right outside linebacker post at the beginning of training camp. He led the club with 151 tackles and posted double-digit tackles in 7 games — 13 vs. Giants in Week 15 and Dallas in Week 12; 12 vs. Giants in Week 8 and 11 vs. Philadelphia in Week 16, vs. Houston in Week 9, vs. Cleveland in Week 7 and Detroit in the season opener. His season portfolio also included a 15-yard interception return for a touchdown (career 1st) in the 4th quarter against Atlanta in Week 10. 1990: With Ravin Caldwell a training camp holdout, Andre was quickly thrown into the starting lineup from day one in preseason. Andre finished 5th on the team with 91 tackles and his 6 sacks tied Dexter Manley's Redskin rookie record. His season bests included 2 sacks in Week 15 at Indianapolis and 12 tackles versus Buffalo. Andre's contribution in the Philadelphia playoff victory included 9 tackles and a 12 sack. He was chosen to the all-rookie team by Pro Football Weekly and Football News.

College, Personal: Andre completed an outstanding senior season by being named a 1st-team all-America by the Football Writers Association. He was one of 5 finalists for the Dick Butkus Award, given annually to the top college linebacker. Andre finished the year with a career-high 130 tackles (3rd highest total in school history) and became only the 3rd player in Nittany Lion history to record back-to-back 100-tackle seasons (110 tackles as a junior was the highest total by a Penn State linebacker since 1975). He made the position switch from safety to linebacker during spring drills before his junior year. Andre was a standout 3-sport athlete in football, basketball and track at Cinnaminson, N.J., High School. He is 1 of 19 children (12th) with 12 sisters and 6 brothers. He also had 2 other brothers, Gerry, a running back and Phil, a wide receiver, who played at Penn State. He has 3 sisters who played college athletics: Valerie played basketball at Monmouth, Cheryl fenced at Seton Hall and Fran played basketball at Montclair State. His father-in-law is well known Philadelphia Inquirer columnist, and talk show host, Claude Lewis. Andre and his wife, Beverley, reside in Arlington, VA.

Playoff Fever

The Redskins, along with the New Orleans Saints, are the only NFC teams to make the postseason in each of the past three seasons. In 1992 the Redskins made their eighth playoff appearance since 1982. In the last 22 seasons, the Redskin have been to the playoffs 13 times.

Over the last 12 years, besides those eighth playoff appearances, the Redskins have won five division titles, have made five NFC championship game appearances, won four NFC championships, made four Super Bowl appearances and won three Super Bowl titles.

The Redskins were previous division champs in 1972, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1987 and 1991, while earning Wild Card entry in 1971, 1973, 1974, 1976, 1986, 1990 and 1992.

Up Close

- One of the nation's top shot putters at Arizona State, Shane passed up an opportunity to compete in the Olympics in 1992. He still plans to make a run at the US Olympic team.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ His 36 tackles were the most by a Redskin rookie defensive lineman since 1989.
- ❖ Shane had a key 4th quarter sack of Troy Aikman that helped preserve the Redskins 20-17 win last season.

How Acquired: Selected in 2nd round of 1992 draft (47th overall).

Games Played/Started: 16/6 [2/2] - 1992 (16/6) [2/2]

1992 Season: Shane's progress was dramatic as he moved from special teams to backup to starter at right defensive end. "Shane made some big plays for us, he's a hustle guy, a guy who goes sideline to sideline," said defensive line coach Torgeson. "He got better every game last year and he's learning more every day." Beginning with Week 11 at New Orleans, Shane moved into the starting lineup. In his 2nd career start the following week against the Cardinals, he notched up a career-best 8 tackles. He even saw action at tight end in the Redskins "Jumbo" formation near the goal line. In the Week 14 win over Dallas, Shane added 6 tackles and his first-career sack threw Troy Aikman for a 7-yard loss in the closing minutes of the game. He also had 7 tackles, including 2 tackles for losses at Philadelphia.

College, Personal: Knee injuries his junior and senior years forced Shane to miss a total of 14 games. As a senior, Shane missed the Sun Devils' opening 5 games, but he did bounce back to start the final 6 and record 42 tackles and 1 sack. His junior campaign lasted only 2 games when he suffered torn ligaments in his right knee. But as a sophomore, Shane flashed his potential earning honorable mention all-American honors with 74 tackles and 5 sacks. And as a freshman, he was Freshman Football Player of the Year and Freshman Defensive Lineman of the Year by The Sporting News recording 67 tackles and 6 sacks. Shane also is an Olympic-caliber thrower in the shot put. He finished 2nd in the shot at the 1990 Penn Relays and was 3rd at the 1989 NCAA Indoor Championships. Ranked as the best all-around athlete in Montana his senior year at Bozeman Senior High, Shane won 10 varsity letters in football, track and basketball. He won the 1986 national high school shot put championship with a toss of 65' 1/2". Shane earned his degree in business from Arizona State and was enrolled in the master's program during his senior season. He and his wife, Lisa, reside in Ashburn, VA.

• Cary was the national Punt, Pass and Kick runner-up as a 9-year old. He competed in the finals held at Super Bowl XII in New Orleans. He lost the title by 6 inches.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

❖ Cary's 1st career TD pass was a 10-yarder to Art Monk vs. the Cardinals last season.

How Acquired: Selected in 4th round of 1990 draft (86th overall).

Games Played/Started: 1/0 - 1990 (IR); 1991 (IR); 1992 (1/0)

1992 Season: When Cary cleared out his locker at Redskin Park a few days after the playoff ending loss at San Francisco, he was assured of one thing...he would be given an honest-to-goodness shot at winning the starting quarterback job. "Cary's beyond the point that we worry about him," said offensive coordinator Rod Dowhower. "He's played and has been battle tested. He's had a chance to work for a couple of years and now he's ready to compete. We have great confidence in his abilities." After spending his first 2 years on IR Cary established himself as the backup with a strong training camp, working with the 1st team offense during Mark Rypien's holdout. He started 2 of 5 preseason games and completed 49 of 85 passes for 552 yards and 4 touchdowns. In his only regular season game action against Phoenix in Week 12, he went 2 for 2 for 16 yards, including a 10-yard TD toss to Art Monk.

Pro Career: 1991: He spent a repeat year on IR with the same nagging knee problem. But unlike the previous year, Cary was given ample opportunity in training camp and preseason to test himself against NFL competition. 1990: Cary spent the entire year on injured reserve when he was hit on the knee during a drill in training camp.

College, Personal: In only 2 years as a starter, Cary finished his career as the Huskies 2nd all-time leading passer with 4,850 yards. As a senior, he became the Huskies' all-time single-season leader in passing yards (2,569) and total offense (2,502) including 16 TD passes which was the 2nd-best mark in school history and culminated his senior year by being named the Hula Bowl MVP for the West squad. In his college debut as a sophomore, Cary was pressed into service in the 9th game of the season at Arizona. He came off the bench and passed for 237 yards, including 2 TDs and 1 rushing TD to rally the Huskies to a 21-21 tie. He majored in political science at Washington. Cary was a consensus prep all-America quarterback at Eisenhower High School in Yakima, WA, and was an all-state performer in basketball and baseball. Cary and his wife, Demetra, reside in Great Falls, VA.

Up Close

• Always giving back to his hometown community, Danny brings disadvantaged youths from Thomasville, GA. to a 4-day football camp in Fredericksburg, VA. He's also forming a foundation committed to education and recreation.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Danny had a career-high 97 tackles in 1991.
- ❖ His 17 tackles vs. the Giants in 1991 was a career-high.
- ❖ Danny led the Chiefs in kick returns in 1989 averaging 17.9 yards.

How Acquired: Signed as a Plan B free agent April 1, 1991.

Games Played: 59/14 [6/5] - KC 1989 (16/0); 1990 (14/0) [1/0]; WASH 1991 (16/14) [3/3]; 1992 (13/13) [2/2]

1992 Season: Danny's biggest play of the season almost went unnoticed. When Danny reached in the pile of players scrambling for Emmitt Smith's fumble in the Cowboy end zone, following Troy Aikman's sack and fumble, and came up with the ball, he was convinced the officials hadn't noticed his recovery. He left the end zone to show them, but Monte Coleman convinced him the best place to make his case was back in the end zone. By that time, however, the officials had ruled a Redskin touchdown. He was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week after that Week 14 performance against the Cowboys by adding 13 tackles and 2 fumble recoveries (including the TD). "Danny has done an outstanding job for us," said head coach Richie Petitbon. "He's smart, aggressive and can come up with the big play. He's been a good fit at strong safety." Last season wasn't, however, without its problems for Danny. Another of the many Redskin casualties during the regular season, Danny missed 3 games because of a sprained neck, suffered when he and linebacker Kurt Gouveia collided while going for an interception against the Giants in Week 8. The nagging neck injury bothered him for the remainder of the year, but he still managed to come up with 105 tackles which was 5th best on the team. He also had double-digit tackle efforts in Week 16 vs. the Raiders (13 tackles and a sack), in Week 15 vs. the Eagles (13 tackles), Week 10 vs. Kansas City (14 tackles) and Week 8 vs. Giants (12 tackles). Danny also led the team with 3 fumble recoveries, and despite missing 3 games was 7th on the club with 56 total hits on special teams.

Pro Career: 1991: Another Plan B gem by the Redskins, he only agreed to join the Redskins after being promised a tryout at running back. But a pulled back muscle in minicamp ended that experiment, and Danny was back on defense full-time. When Alvin Walton was injured in Week 2 at Dallas, Danny moved into the starting lineup for the remainder of the season. He finished the year 5th on the team with a career-high 97 tackles and was 3rd on the club with 108 total special teams hits. Against the Giants in Week 15, he notched a career-high 17 tackles (9 solos), recovered a fumble and added an interception. He also reached double-digit stops against the Eagles (12) in Week 16, the Giants (13) in Week 8 and 10 vs. Chicago in Week 6. In the playoffs Danny's interception squelched Atlanta's opening drive. 1990: Danny finished 3rd with 17 special teams tackles, and also added 14 tackles on defense when used in nickel situations in his final year with the Chiefs. 1989: Danny joined the Chiefs as a Plan B free agent from Cleveland. In his 1st season in Kansas City, he led the team with 26 kick returns for a 17.9-yard average. Danny also added 17 special teams tackles. 1988: Danny missed his entire rookie season in 1988 with Cleveland because of a hamstring injury. He was a 9th round draft pick by the Browns.

College, Personal: Danny was a 1st-team all-Ohio Valley Conference selection at cornerback as a junior and senior at Eastern Kentucky. In addition to 105 tackles and 8 interceptions during his final two seasons, Danny also returned 47 kicks for a 29.3 average (2 touchdowns) and 56 punts for an 8.7 average (2 touchdowns). Danny was a GTE academic all-American at Eastern Kentucky and plans to return to his native Georgia and teach once his football career is over. He attended Central High School in Thomasville, GA. He and the Giants Myron Guyton both attended high school and college together. Danny and his wife, Joann, have a daughter, Danyelle, 2 and they reside in Fairfax, VA.

- ❖ He had a career-high 168 tackles (2nd best on team) in 1992.
- ❖ Brad returned an interception 37 yards for a touchdown vs. Tampa Bay as a rookie.

How Acquired: Signed as a Plan B free agent March 7, 1990.

Games Played/Started: 73/40 [10/5] - MINN 1988 (16/6) [2/0]; 1989 (9/1) [1/0]; WASH 1990 (16/1) [2/0]; 1991 (16/16) [3/3]; 1992 (16/16) [2/2]

1992 Season: In the Redskins complex defensive scheme, Brad has the difficult job of getting the defense in and out of different situations. And typically, Brad handled everything that was thrown at him as the Redskins defensive quarterback. "Brad does a great job of preparing," said head coach Richie Petitbon. "I thought he had an excellent season for us. He is a tough guy, a smart guy and the kind of guy you really like to have." Brad turned in an outstanding season finishing 2nd on the team with 168 tackles and 2nd in the NFC with 6 interceptions. He was selected NFC Defensive Player of the Week after intercepting 3 passes for 103 yards, including a 53-yard TD return vs. the Cardinals in Week 12. Besides his INTs in that game, he also had 9 tackles, 1 forced fumble and 2 passes defended. Other season-bests included a team-high 19 tackles in Week 8 vs. the Giants, 16 tackles in Week 1 vs. Dallas, 15 tackles vs. Seattle in Week 9, 11 tackles in Week 13 vs. the Giants, 14 stops in Week 14 vs. Dallas and 18 tackles in Week 15 at Philadelphia. Brad's other interceptions came in Week 1 vs. the Cowboys, vs. Cardinals in Week 4 and in Week 10 vs. the Chiefs.

Honors: UPI All-NFC 1st-team.

Pro Career: 1991: In pro football's most glittering event — Super Bowl XXVI — Brad took center stage. He accounted for 2 interceptions (5th player in Super Bowl history), 5 passes defended and 4 tackles. Besides his 2 INTs, he also came up with a big play when he jarred the ball loose from Buffalo wide receiver Don Beebe at the goal line. His efforts did not go unnoticed as he was a runner-up in the Super Bowl MVP balloting. Brad finished 2nd on the team with 135 tackles, was 3rd in interceptions with 4 and 4th with 9 passes defended. Brad's season-bests included 19 tackles vs. Dallas in Week 12 and 18 tackles (season-high 11 solos) vs. the Giants in Week 8. 1990: Despite preseason injury that forced Brad into wearing a cast on his right hand and wrist, he still called adjustments in the nickel package and led the club with 112 total hits on special teams in his 1st year with the Redskins. Brad had 6 tackles, a game-ending interception and a team-high 9 special teams hits against the Bears. He also had an interception in the win over Miami, in addition to 12 special teams hits. In his only start of the year against the Giants, Brad had 7 tackles and 2 weeks earlier vs. the Giants he posted a season-high 8 tackles. 1989: Brad saw action in 9 games, including 1 start at free safety, and finished the year with 21 tackles and 1 interception. Brad also stood out on the Vikings' special teams with 8 kick coverage tackles and a blocked field goal. 1988: A 2nd-round draft choice by the Vikings, Brad started 6 games and finished with 43 tackles and had 2 interceptions, including a 37-yard interception return for a TD vs. Tampa Bay.

College, Personal: After leading South Carolina with 120 tackles as a senior, Brad was a 2nd-team all-America selection by College and Pro Football Newsweekly. Brad also led the Gamecocks with 8 interceptions as a senior. He was a 3-year starter and was a member of the South Carolina Dean's list and graduated with a degree in business management. He has been a spokesperson for the South Carolina Wildlife Commission. He also is the chairman for the South Carolina Children's Home and the South Carolina Blind Olympics. He formerly held a brokers license in Minnesota and worked as a financial planning office during the offseason while playing for the Vikings. Brad also enjoys playing the piano. He was a widely heralded quarterback at Douglas Byrd High School in Fayetteville, NC, where he was a teammate of Chicago's Donnell Woolford. He and Woolford run a football camp with all proceeds donated to the Boys and Girls Club of Fayetteville. His father, Wayne, was an infielder in the Baltimore Orioles organization from 1962-65. He and his wife Susan have two sons, Jackson, 2, and Walker, born this past offseason. They reside in Centreville, VA.

- Mo, along with a friend, went backpacking across Europe this past offseason.
- Mo's odd jobs following high school included work as a bouncer, lumberjack, cook and truck driver.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Mo received a game ball following his NFL debut on Monday Night against Denver last season when he replaced an injured Jim Lachey at left tackle.

How Acquired: Selected in third round of 1990 draft (76th overall).

Games Played/Started: 5/4 - 1990 (IR); 1991 (IR); 1992 (5/4)

1992 Season: Perseverance might be an understatement when describing Mo's NFL career. An assortment of nagging knee and shoulder injuries had kept him on the sideline for two seasons. Then, on the club's 2nd day of training camp at Carlisle, PA, Mo tore his pectoral muscle that led to another stint on injured reserve. With injuries thinning the Redskins offensive line by Week 5 of the regular season, and Mo finally healthy, he was activated just in time for the Monday Night contest against Denver at RFK. And when Jim Lachey was injured in the 2nd quarter, Mo was inserted at left tackle and logged 3 quarters of playing time. When the dust had settled, Mo received a game ball from his teammates. Mo was inserted into the starting lineup at left tackle the next 4 weeks, which included matchups against Clyde Simmons, Chris Doleman and Lawrence Taylor. But a sprained knee in Week 9 at Seattle forced him back to a familiar spot on injured reserve. "We waited 2 years for Mo to get healthy and show us he could play," said offensive line coach Jim Hanifan. "And he showed us he could. We still have high hopes. We know he can play in this league and he proved he can play, now we have to get a full year out of him."

Pro Career: 1991: Mo spent the whole year on a rigorous weight program and was switched from guard to tackle. But a sprained right knee suffered in a scrimmage against New England once again forced him on injured reserve for the entire year. 1990: Mo's rookie season was put on hold when a nagging shoulder injury in training camp forced the Redskins to put him on injured reserve after the final roster cut.

College, Personal: Mo earned the 1989 Outland Trophy, and in addition, he earned 1st-team all-America notice by Kodak and Walter Camp, while being selected to The Sporting News' 2nd-team. He also was named to the all-WAC 1st-team in his only season as a starter. Mo transferred to Brigham Young from Snow College (Ephraim, Utah) in the spring of 1987. In his final year at Snow, Mo earned 2nd-team all-America honors. Mo was convinced by friends to join the football team as a freshman. It was the first time in his life that he had ever played the game, but he instantly impressed the coaching staff and earned a starting assignment at guard. An excellent athlete, he lettered in basketball, rugby, soccer and track at Victoria High School in Kamloops, British Columbia, Canada. Following graduation he spent some time Europe, South America and on the Caribbean island of Antigua, then returned to Canada where he spent 2 years working odd jobs, including work as a bouncer, lumberjack, cook and truck driver. Born in Lagos, Nigeria, his family moved to Canada, after a short stay in London, when he was 12 years old. He was drafted by Vancouver of the North American Soccer League in 1985. Mo was a business management major at BYU with a minor in Asian studies. He even took a pottery class while at BYU. His given name is Mohammed Thomas David Elewonibi and his last name is pronounced Ella-wa-NEE-bee. Mo resides Centreville, VA.

• With broadcasting as a future goal, Matt has worked with ABC Sports as a production assistant in their live coverage of the Indianapolis 500.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Matt's 1st career start came on Monday Night at New Orleans.
- ❖ He snapped on all field goal and extra point attempts as a rookie.

How Acquired: Selected in 12th round of 1992 draft (336th overall).

Games Played/Started: 16/2 [2/0] - 1992 (16/2) [2/0]

1992 Season: As the 336th player chosen in the NFL draft, and having been tagged with the dubious "Mr. Irrelevant" title, history gave Matt little chance of making the Redskins roster. But after a strong training camp, Matt proved he belonged as one of the relevant 47 when the Skins made their final roster cuts. How difficult were the odds stacked against him to make the team? Of the 16 former players chosen with the last pick of the 12th round, only one had a made an NFL roster in the year he was picked. "Even though he was the last guy picked, he has shown that it's what you do on the football field that counts," said offensive line coach Jim Hanifan. "That's where it matters. He's a smart guy who works awfully hard." The hard work paid off at Kansas City when injuries to the offensive line threw Matt into the game in the 2nd quarter. He started at center in Weeks 11 and 12 at New Orleans and vs. Phoenix. Matt played a big role on the Redskins special teams as the club's short snapper on PATs and field goals. "Matt did a great job snapping and in some very crucial situations," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier. "But I was very pleased with his effort on punt coverage. He showed us something." Matt ended the year with 15 total special teams tackles, including 5 punt coverage tackles.

College, Personal: A three-year starter at both center and guard, Matt earned 1st-team all-America honors from College and Pro Football Newsweekly and 1st-team all-Big 10 honors as a senior. As a junior, Matt capped off his season honorable mention all-Big 10 honors and was named co-MVP of the Gator Bowl. An outstanding student, Matt won the Paul A. Hunsicker Memorial Award at the University of Michigan for the undergraduate demonstrating superior scholarship along with professional zeal and promise in kinesiology. Although currently on hold, he was enrolled in the masters program at Michigan in telecommunications. A native of Carmel, IN, Matt was an all-state selection on the Carmel High School state championship football team. He also co-captained the football, hockey and track teams as a senior adding to the list of his family's athletic accomplishments in the Hoosier state. His father played college basketball at Indiana, his older brother, Mike, Jr., played pro soccer in Europe, younger brother Marc, will be a senior center at Michigan and his younger sister, Megan, is a champion ice skater. Matt resides in Ashburn, VA.

- Growing up near the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, CA, Ricky used to park cars during the New Year's Day Classic. Just 3 years later, he was the Rose Bowl MVP leading USC over Michigan.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Ricky led all NFC rookies in rushing with 680 yards in 1991.
- ❖ He is one of 6 Redskins to gain over 100 yards in a playoff game with 104 yards vs. Atlanta in 1991.
- ❖ His 4.7 yards per carry was best among NFC rushers in the top 10 in 1991.

How Acquired: Selected in third round of 1991 draft (47th overall).

1992 Season: Ricky's sophomore numbers didn't quite live up to his dazzling rookie performances, but he still produced big moments as the Redskins third down and short yardage back. "Ricky never could seem to get untracked at times," said running backs coach Don Breaux. "He tried to make a big play everytime he touched the ball. He has to learn patience and keep at it every play. But we expect Ricky to bounce back and be a big part of our offense." He had a season-best 71 yards on 16 carries vs. Atlanta in Week 2 and 68 yards on 13 carries (5.2 avg.) at the Giants in Week 13. His 25-yard run in the 4th quarter was his longest of the season. Ricky also added 42 yards on 11 carries vs. Phoenix in Week 12 and 55 yards vs. the Eagles in Week 6. He also proved his value as a receiver, catching 32 passes for 252 yards, including a career-high 10 catches at Kansas City.

Pro Career: 1991: With Earnest Byner out of action and the Skins holding a slim 21-17 lead against the Browns in Week 7, Ricky took over. He had a 46-yard kickoff return and gained 133 yards rushing (13 carries) and 2 TDs, including a 65-yard dash. Ricky eventually finished the year as the NFC's top rookie rusher with 680 yards (145 carries) and was 2nd in rookie of the year balloting. He sparked the Redskins comeback vs. the Giants in Week 8 with 82 yards rushing in the 2nd half, converting on 3 straight 3rd-down attempts on the Skins' first scoring drive. Ricky accounted for the Redskins 3 longest rushes (65, 37, and 34 yards), 2 of the 3 longest kickoff returns (46 and 33 yards) and the highest single-game rushing total (133 vs. Browns) of the season. He returned to his hometown in Week 13 vs. the Rams and caught his first career TD pass, a 24-yarder in the 3rd quarter. In the play-offs he was simply superb. He darted for 104 yards (including a 17-yard TD run) against the Falcons in the mud, 53-yards vs. the Lions and 72 yards in Super Bowl XXVI. His honors included PFWA All-Rookie, Football Digest All-Rookie, Pro Football Weekly all-Rookie, Football News All-Rookie, College & Pro Football Newsweekly all-Rookie.

College, Personal: An ankle injury in the 5th game of the year at Ohio State as a senior ended any hopes of Ricky duplicating his outstanding junior campaign when he led the Pac-10 in rushing with 1,395 yards (the most at USC since Marcus Allen's 2,427 in his 1981 Heisman Trophy season) and a team-high 10 touchdowns. Ricky was also the team's 2nd leading receiver with 39 catches (the most ever by a Trojan running back). He culminated his outstanding junior season as the Rose Bowl MVP with 126 yards rushing and 1 TD in the Trojan win over Michigan. Despite his aborted senior year, Ricky still managed to gain 393 yards and 4 touchdowns on just 90 carries as a senior. As a sophomore backup, Ricky ran for 410 yards and 2 scores on 92 carries. As one of the top prep players in the country at Muir High School in Pasadena, CA, Ricky rushed for 1,602 yards (6.8 avg.) and 21 TDs as a senior. As a junior, Ricky once gained 225 yards (four TDs) in 1 quarter of play. He gained 3,847 yards during his prep career. He also finished 8th in the 100 meters at the state meet in a time of 10.80. Born in Fort Wayne, IN, Ricky moved to California when he was 11. He lived 3 minutes from the Rose Bowl and parked cars for the New Year's Day Classic. Also an outstanding baseball player, the Cleveland Indians offered him a contract in 1989. Nicknamed "Pinball Wizard" Ricky majored in business finance at USC. He and his wife, Shawnese, have a daughter, Jazmyn, 1, and they reside in Reston, VA.

1992 Season: Although Kelly is generally regarded as a position punter, and is better suited to angle punting and pinning opponents inside-the-20. He did flex some muscle last season with 15 punts of 50 yards or longer and 27 of 64 punts for 42 yards or longer. "Kelly is a very steady and reliable punter," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier. "His strengths are his hang time and his position punting. And he has punted well in the clutch for us over the past three seasons. He's a guy we've been able to count on." A model of consistency last year, his 39.9 yards per punt average was his best as a Redskin and his best since 1989. He also had 17 punts land inside the 20 which was his most as a Redskins and the 2nd best mark of his career. His top outing came in Week 1 vs. Dallas hitting 6 punts for a 50.5-yard average (59, 53, 59, 41, 36 and 45 yards) and a 47.0-yard average in Week 11 at New Orleans, including a 56-yarder. Against his former team in Kansas City, he punted 4 times for a 46.3-yard average. He hit a career-high 66-yarder vs. the Eagles in Week 6 and punted 3 times for a 51.7-yard average.

Pro Career: 1991: Kelly's 190 return yards were the 2nd best figure in the NFC, plus his inside-the-20 ratio to touchbacks was +13 (16 inside the 20/3 touchbacks). Kelly was named special teams player of the week in the divisional playoff win over Atlanta. In the rain, mud and swirling wind Kelly booted 4 punts for a 38.8-yard average, with 2 landing inside the 20. Season highlights included a 61-yard punt at Chicago in Week 6 that bounced out of bounds on the 1-yard line (he also had a 51-yarder that game). 1990: Kelly spent the first 3 weeks with the Chiefs before being released. He was signed by the Redskins with 4 games remaining to add consistency to a slumping punting game. He punted just 11 times in 4 games, but 6 of those were placed inside the 20. Kelly saved his best for the playoff win over Philadelphia. He punted 9 times for a 36.9 average with 4 landing inside the 20. 1989: Kelly put together his finest season as a pro. His 25 punts inside the 20 were the 3rd-best mark in the league, and his 5 touchbacks tied him for the 3rd fewest in the AFC. Kelly tied a Chief record for most punts in a game with 11 (6 landed inside the 20) against Cleveland. 1988: Kelly punted a career-high 76 times and had 9 go over 50 yards (career high). Against the Broncos, Kelly punted 3 times for a 55.3-yard average. 1987: A strong showing in the three replacement games led to a call from the Chiefs when their regular punter, Lewis Colbert, was sidelined with a season-ending back injury. Kelly ended the year ranked 5th in the AFC

- ❖ He returned a fumble 39 yards for a touchdown vs. the Patriots in 1990.
- ❖ Kurt had a career-high 169 tackles in 1992.
- ❖ His 3 INTs last year were a career-high.

How Acquired: Selected in 8th round of 1986 draft (213th overall).

Games Played/Started: 89/24 [10/6]; 1986 (IR); 1987 (12/1) [3/0]; 1988 (16/0); 1989 (15/1); 1990 (16/7) [2/2]; 1991 (14/1) [3/3]; 1992 (16/14) [2/2]

1992 Season: Kurt has long been considered the most versatile member among the Redskins talented linebackers. "We asked Kurt to do more than we've ever asked him to do," said assistant head coach Larry Peccatiello. "But he handled everything. He's extremely smart and he has a real flair for making decisions on the field because of his great anticipation. Kurt's productive. He makes plays." Last year, Kurt made enough plays to come up with a career-high 169 tackles (the most by any player in the NFL last year) and 3 interceptions (tied for the 3rd most among NFL linebackers). However, Kurt played mostly in nickel situations. All that changed last season. With the retirement of Matt Millen and a knee injury to Ravin Caldwell, more was expected from Kurt than in any of his previous 5 seasons. And he delivered. He posted 8 double-digit tackle days with a season-best 14 tackles in Week 14 vs. Dallas and Week 11 at New Orleans. Against the Vikings in Week 7, he had 10 tackles, forced 1 fumble and had a 28-yard interception return. Kurt also had interceptions vs. Denver (returned to the 1-yard line that set up a TD) and vs. Atlanta in the end zone to stop a 4th quarter Falcon scoring threat in the 24-17 win. His other big tackle games included 13 stops at the Eagles in Week 15 and 12 tackles vs. the Giants in Week 12. He registered his only sack of the year at Phoenix in Week 4. Honors: all-Madden.

Additional Statistics: Playoff Interceptions (3/67/38/0).

Pro Career: 1991: Kurt came up with an interception in each playoff game. And none was bigger than his interception on the 1st play of the 3rd quarter against Buffalo in Super Bowl XXVI. With Andre Collins applying pressure on a red dog, Kurt stepped in front of a Jim Kelly pass and rambled 23 yards to the 2-yard line. His only interception in the regular season came against Chicago in Week 6 that set up a game-clinching 4th quarter field goal. He posted a season-best 6 tackles vs. the Giants in Week 8. 1990: Kurt started the final 7 games and the increased playing time resulted in a career-high 76 tackles. It was Kurt's 39-yard fumble return for a touchdown on the 3rd play of the game against the Patriots that started the Redskins on their way to the playoff-clinching win. The following week at Indianapolis, Kurt had a season-high 9 tackles. In Week 3 vs. the Cowboys at RFK, his sack of Troy Aikman was the 1st full sack of his career. 1989: Against Philadelphia in Week 10, Kurt made his biggest play of the year when he intercepted Randall Cunningham's 3rd-down pass on the Redskins' 13-yard line to thwart an Eagles rally and help preserve the 10-3 win. The following week against Denver, Kurt had a season-high 6 tackles. In his only start of the year in Week 12 vs. Chicago, Kurt suffered a bruised thigh that limited his play for the remainder of the year. 1988: Kurt became a special teams leader, and finished the season with a team-high 126 hits. From the linebacker position, Gouveia added 21 tackles. 1987: Kurt was inserted into a starting role in Week 2 against Atlanta, and responded with 13 tackles. In Week 13 vs. Dallas, Kurt moved to outside linebacker, replacing the injured Monte Coleman, and recorded 10 tackles.

College, Personal: Kurt has been on 2 Super Bowl championship teams (1987 and 1991) and played a key role in bringing Brigham Young's team to national prominence, and as a junior played on BYU's No. 1 team. BYU coach Lavelle Edwards called Kurt the best linebacker in Cougar history. He was named all-WAC his senior season, the year the Cougars played in the Citrus Bowl. As a junior, Kurt had 107 tackles and 7 sacks as BYU secured a national championship with a Holiday Bowl victory over Michigan. His high school career is equally impressive. He guided his teams at Waianae High School to 3 straight state titles as a quarterback and defensive back. He became the 1st player in state history to be named Hawaii Player of the Year on both offense and defense. Born in Honolulu, Kurt majored in recreation management at BYU. Kurt also sits on the advisory board for the state anti-drug program, "No Hope in Dope" in Hawaii and also sponsors a golf tournament to benefit the program. As part of his "No Hope in Dope" program, he started Keola Keiki (Kurt's Kids) and Club 54 Skins as clubs for kids to join in the fight against drugs. He also donates an annual college scholarship to a graduating senior from his high school, who furthers his/her education at a mainland university. Kurt also is the driving force in the Hawaiian chapter of the Make-A-Wish Foundation. 1992 Season: For the 1st time since he was a Miami Dolphin, Rick played an entire injury free season for the Oilers, seeing action in all 16 games with 5 starts. Primarily a backup at linebacker, Rick worked his way into the starting lineup in Week 4 against the Chargers. He didn't get another start until Thanksgiving Day at Detroit when regular Lamar Lathon was out with a knee injury. He remained the starter for the next 4 weeks and had a season-high 5 tackles, plus a sack, in the Monday night win over the Bears. He got his 2nd career interception against the Packers in Week 14.

Pro Career: 1991: Rick was signed by the Oilers as a Plan B free agent from Miami and saw action mainly as a reserve at linebacker and a special teamer. Against the Redskins he forced a fumble and recovered a fumble in 16-13 OT loss in Washington. He injured a knee in Week 11 against Cleveland and missed the following week. He saw limited playing time Week 13 and was placed on IR for the remainder of the year and underwent arthroscopic surgery to repair lateral meniscus tear. 1990: A holdout that forced him to miss Miami's training camp, plus the 1st 3 games of the season, Rick then suffered a groin injury against the Redskins and was placed on IR. He was activated for the playoff game vs. Kansas City but was put on inactive list before being removed from the roster the following week at Buffalo. 1989: Rick started 1st 4 games of the year before a broken thumb against the Oilers ended his season. In his brief season, he had a season-best 7 tackles against the Jets. 1988: Rick enjoyed his finest season as a pro with a career-high 53 tackles, a sack, 3 fumble recoveries, and an interception. He also had a blocked field goal against the Vikings. He set up a Miami TD with a fumble recovery on a punt return. Rick got his 1st career interception against the Buccaneers, and also recovered a fumble that set up the winning field goal. His season-best was an 8 tackle effort against New England. 1987: Rick started 5 games as a rookie after being drafted by the Dolphins in the 2nd round (43rd overall). He picked up his 1st career start against the Colts in Week 13 and his 1st career sack against Buffalo. He had a season-best 6 tackles, plus a fumble recovery against the Redskins.

College, Personal: Rick was a 4-year starter at Wisconsin after a redshirt freshman season. He finished his Badger career with 228 total tackles, 12 QB sacks, 7 fumble recoveries, 3 forced fumbles, 2 interceptions and 8 passes defended. As a senior he earned 2nd team all-Big 10 honors with a career-high 72 tackles and 4 sacks. As a sophomore he ended up 3rd on the team with 71 total tackles and was named AP/UPI honorable mention all-Big 10 and also won the school's Victors Club Award, symbolic of the Badgers' top defensive player. He had a career-high 12 tackles against both Missouri and Michigan as a sophomore. Rick was the only freshman to start and ended up with 53 tackles. He also played on the tradition-rich Badger hockey team as a freshman. He holds a bachelor's degree in communications. In the offseason, Rick donates a considerable amount of his time to United Way and "Kids in Crisis." Besides playing golf and fishing, Rick's enjoys listening to Bruce Springsteen, Huey Lewis and Alabama. He attended James Madison High School in Madison, WI, lettering in football, hockey and track. He was an all-city and all-state selection in hockey. He was married this past offseason to Angela Ciccio, and they reside in North Miami Beach, FL.

1992 Season: The cornerstone of Darrell's career have been his legs, but it wasn't his legs that cost him most of the 1992 season. It was a broken right forearm that sidelined him from Weeks 3 through 10 which left him off the Pro Bowl roster for the first time since 1989. "Darrell is still at the top of his game, there's no doubt about that," said head coach Richie Petitbon. "He still has the great speed and he made a fine comeback after his injury. I don't see any reason why he shouldn't be at his best this season." Despite missing 8 games, Darrell still tied for 4th on the team with 7 passes defended and finished with 26 tackles. His only pass interception came in Week 16 with an end zone pick against the Raiders, while adding 9 tackles. His top performance came against the Cowboys in Week 14 with 9 tackles, 3 passes defended and a key forced fumble on Michael Irvin in the 4th quarter. But it was a fracture of the radius midway up his right forearm, suffered with 4:15 left in the game against the Falcons, that took a big chunk out of Darrell's season. He did miss the Redskins playoff win with a bruised heel, but bounced back to see action in nickel coverage the following week at San Francisco.

Pro Career: 1991: He was chosen to his 5th Pro Bowl (his 2nd straight as a starter) and was an unanimous all-Pro. Darrell tied for the team lead with 5 interceptions (his best output since 1986) and a team-best 21 passes defended. Twice Darrell came up with 2 interceptions in the same game vs Detroit in Week 1 and Philadelphia in Week 5. It was Darrell's pivotal interception in overtime against the Oilers in Week 9 that led to the game winning field goal.

And in the postseason, Darrell again was superb with 2 interceptions. Darrell's regular season best included a season-high 10 tackles vs. Dallas in Week 12. His postseason honors included: Pro Bowl, AP all-Pro, UPI all-NFC, all-Madden, College and Pro Football Newsweekly NFL all-Pro, Sports Illustrated all-Pro, Football News all-NFL, PFWA all-Pro, NEA all-Pro, The Sporting News all-Pro, Pro Football Weekly All-NFL. 1990: Darrell was named a Pro Bowl starter - his 4th appearance; a 1st-team on the all-NFC team by UPI, Football News and Pro Football Weekly and a 2nd-team all-NFL choice by AP. Darrell opened the year with interceptions the first 3 weeks of the season (a career first). In Week 3 vs. Dallas, Darrell had 7 tackles, 2 pass deflections and capped the Redskins win with an 18-yard interception return for a touchdown. He posted a season-best 10 tackles against the 49ers and also came up with an interception. He also had interceptions against Phoenix and New Orleans to finish with 4 (the most since his 5 thefts in 1986). He also had an interception in the playoff win over Philadelphia. 1989: A fractured wrist in Week 7 against Tampa Bay prematurely ended his season. Against Phoenix, Darrell had 2 first quarter interceptions as the Redskins jumped to an early lead. Despite missing the final 9 games, his 5 pass deflections were 3rd on the squad. 1988: Darrell's worth was again evident in his absence. A broken hand in the 1st quarter of the Week 15 contest versus Dallas opened the door to 3 Cowboy touchdown passes in a 24-17 loss. He led the Skins in pass deflections with 14 and also provided a spark on special teams with several timely punt returns. Returns of 13 and 18 yards against the Steelers set up a field goal and touchdown in a 30-29 victory. The best was a 32-yard 4th quarter return versus the Giants. 1987: In the NFC championship game, Darrell made the last-second hit on the goal line that helped jar the football out of the hands of running back Darrin Nelson, preventing the Vikings from forcing overtime. The performance came despite a torn rib cartilage that kept his playing status in question throughout the week. Green had suffered the injury the previous week during his 52-yard punt return for a touchdown in the 1st round playoff game against the Bears. The return gave the Redskins a 21-14 lead and proved the winning margin. The highlight of his regular season came against Detroit with a career-high 3 interceptions. The last came on the Lions' final possession and preserved a 20-13 victory. His overall performance resulted in a 3rd Pro Bowl appearance. 1986: A succession of big plays led Darrell to his 2nd Pro Bowl. In Week 2, Darrell's interception in the end zone with 30 seconds remaining sealed a 10-6 victory against the Raiders. He was slowed in Week 12 against Dallas when a bruised shoulder forced Darrell from the lineup for the 1st time in his career. His 5 interceptions were a team high. In the playoffs, Darrell intercepted a pass to setup the go-ahead touchdown in a 27-13 upset of the Bears. 1985: Lady luck did not smile on Darrell when punt returns of 99 yards and 73 yards were nullified on successive weeks. Nevertheless, his 13.4-yard average on 16 punt returns was the highest by a Redskin since Eddie Brown's 13.5 in 1976. 1984: There was no sophomore slump for Darrell, who earned a starting Pro Bowl spot in his 2nd season. He had 5 interceptions, 87 tackles, and a team-high 14 deflections, but cemented his all-start berth with one dramatic performance. With the Skins trailing Dallas 21-6 at halftime, Green turned the game around with a 32-yard pass interception for a touchdown. Later he stopped a Cowboy drive with an interception in the end zone, and the Redskins rallied for a 30-28 come-from-behind victory. 1983: Darrell set the tone for his NFL career the first time he touched the football with a 61-yard punt return in a preseason game against Atlanta. A contract dispute by Jeris White thrust him into the starting lineup against the Cowboys and Darrell left his calling card when he pulled Tony Dorsett down from behind. He completed the year as the team's 4th best tackler with 109, including a team-high 79 solo stops. His regular season play earned him a runner-up spot as AP NFL Defensive Rookie for the Year, and Football Digest and AP all-rookie teams. However, he saved his best for the postseason where he ran back an interception 72 yards for a touchdown against the Rams.

College, Personal: Darrell is legendary at Texas A&I, where he was named to the Football Coaches all-American Division II team with 56 tackles and 4 interceptions in 1982. The Lone Star Conference Defensive Player of the Year, Darrell was also selected as an AP 1st-team Little all-American. He returned 2 punts for touchdowns as a senior (76 and 96 yards). However, football was only half the story. A 10.08 100-meter clocking was second behind Carl Lewis as a senior. Showing no preference, Darrell was all-state in track and all-city in football at Jones High School in Houston. He has won the "NFL Fastest Man" competition 3 times, winning the 60-yard event over such notable track stars as Willie Gault, Ron Brown and Herschel Walker. Darrell added the title "World's Fastest Athlete," in 1991 winning a competition that included several events. On the personal side, Darrell is very active local youth groups. He founded the Darrell Green Youth Life Foundation which provides financial and moral support for DC youth and their families. He serves as a local VP of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He also devoted charity time to the Big Brothers of America in the DC area, the homeless, and has worked in several anti-drug campaigns. He has an annual golf tournament to benefit Hope Springs Farm which provides care for orphans, foster children and underprivileged children. Darrell also has testified at a Senate Judiciary Panel for drug prevention as well as appearing as the Redskins representative in the league sponsored United Way commercial. A native of Houston, he attended Jesse Jones High School. Darrell and his wife, Jewell, have 3 children, Jarrel 7, Jared, 4, and Joi, 3, and reside in Vienna, VA.

ROBERT GREEN

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

39 • RB • 2nd Yr. • 5-8 • 207 • William & Mary • 09/10/70

Up Close

- A lifelong Redskin fan, Robert lived only a few blocks from RFK Stadium until his family moved to a Ft. Washington, MD neighborhood when he was 8 years old.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ He finished 3rd on the team with 84 special teams hits last season.
- ❖ Robert's 23-yard run vs. the Broncos was a personal best and the 3rd longest by a Redskin runner last season.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent on April 28, 1992.

Games Played/Started: 15/0 [2/0] - 1992 (15/0) [2/0]

1992 Season: To make the Redskins roster, Robert needed to catapult over two veteran NFL rushers, who between them had played in 4 pro bowls and rushed for nearly 10,000 yards. Not drafted, or even invited to the Combine to workout, the odds were long. But each time Robert had an opportunity he produced. "Robert was one of the sharpest rookies I had ever been around," said running backs coach Don Breau. "He showed toughness and he's awfully hard to knock off his feet because of his size." He was especially productive on special teams finishing 3rd on the club with 84 total hits and 2nd with 14 kickoff coverage tackles. He was twice named special teams player of the week after Week 13 at the Giants and Week 5 vs. Denver. And when given an opportunity on offense he also produced. Against the Broncos on Monday Night, he carried 3 times for 28 yards, including a 23-yard dash. In the Redskins playoff win over the Vikings, he had 5 carries for 17 yards, and also led the team with 7 special teams hits.

College, Personal: Robert finished his career as William & Mary's all-time leading rusher with 3,543 yards. He gained 875 yards and scored 13 touchdowns for the Tribe as a senior, despite missing 2 games. As a junior, Robert set school records with 1,408 yards and 19 touchdowns. A native of nearby Ft. Washington, MD, in Prince George's County, Robert attended Friendly High School where he was a 3-sport standout. Robert had his picture taken with Raleigh McKenzie for the Washington Post all-Met team as a senior. He majored in kinesiology. He and his wife, Pamela, reside in Herndon, VA.

Up Close

- An avid hunter and fisherman, David's favorite outdoor sport is bow hunting.
- David, along with running back Brian Mitchell, were all-American quarterbacks in college.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ♦ David had 20 special teams hits in just 4 games last season.

How Acquired: Selected in 11th round of 1991 draft (299th overall).

Games Played/Started: 4/0 - 1991 (IR); 1992 (4/0)

1992 Season: Despite the constant bouncing back and forth between the practice squad and the active roster, David gave the Redskins plenty of encouragement for the future. "He's one of the best athletes we have on the team," said defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. "He's got speed, and great athletic instinct. He's improved the past 2 years and now we're hoping he moves to the next level where he will be a productive player for us." Despite the roster juggling (he was activated from the practice squad to the active roster 4 times) David proved to be a valuable special teams performer. In 4 games he had 20 total hits, including a season-best 6 hits at Philadelphia. He had 5 special teams hits in the season finale against the Raiders, but suffered a dislocated knee cap on kick coverage late in the game.

Pro Career: 1991: David made the switch from college quarterback to safety, but a broken wrist against Pittsburgh during a training camp scrimmage, placed him on IR for the entire year.

College, Personal: A quarterback at Jacksonville State, David was a 1st-team all-Gulf South Conference as a junior and senior, he ended his career with 5,339 total yards (2,389 rushing/2,950 passing) to go along with a school record 48 rushing touchdowns. As a senior, David gained 800 yards passing and 478 yards on the ground, including 13 rushing TDs. He had a big junior year when he threw for 878 yards (4 TDs) and rushed for an additional 670 yards (16 TDs) as he led his team to the Division II national championship game. He also tied the school record, scoring 96 points (16 touchdowns) as a sophomore, and finished the year with a career-high 927 yards rushing. David was an all-state and all-America selection at Pell City (AL) High School. He and his wife, Tracy, have a daughter, Lacy, 2, and they reside in Herndon, VA.

• No stranger to the Redskins, he grew up in Mechanicsburg, PA, which is just a few miles from the Skins' training camp in Carlisle, PA. He often made the short trek during the summer to watch the Skins work out.

How Acquired: Selected in 4th round of 1992 draft (112th overall).

Games Played/Started: 0/0 - 1992 (IR).

1992 Season: Like Mark Rypien and Cary Conklin before him, Chris has the tools to be an NFL quarterback, but like the players ahead of him on the depth chart, he has to learn to walk before he can run. "He's a lot like Ryp and Cary," said offensive coordinator Rod Dowhower. "He's big, he's got a strong arm and he picks things up very quickly. He had a good year to learn quite a bit about our system. Now he needs playing time." Chris threw only 4 passes and completed 2 against the 49ers in London in his only preseason appearance. A shoulder injury later in camp curtailed any future progress on the field and he spent the balance of the season on injured reserve.

College, Personal: Chris finished as William & Mary's 2nd all-time leading passer with 7,035 yards and 43 touchdown passes. He also ended his career 2nd in total offense with 7,058 yards and 2nd with 523 completions. He earned 1-AA 2nd-team all-America honors after completing 232 of 357 passes for 2,974 yards and 18 TDs. An honorable mention all-America pick as a junior, he finished 7th in the nation in total offense averaging 261.5 yards per game in his 1st year as a starter. At Mechanicsburg High School, Chris captained the school to its 1st District III AAAA Championship. He also lettered in baseball and track and was a 4-year honor roll student. He majored in athletic administration. Chris resides in Herndon, VA.

- While traveling on Georgia Avenue during rush hour this past offseason, Carl's wife went into labor. Luckily, they made it safely to the hospital where their daughter was delivered.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent October 8, 1992.

Games Played/Started: 2/0 - WASH 1989 (1/0); 1992 (1/0)

1992 Season: Each week of practice, Carl would report to Redskin Park and become a different person. One week he was Michael Irvin. Another, Andre Rison. It wasn't until the final week of the season, when Ricky Sanders was out with an ankle injury that Carl was finally allowed to play himself. He collected 1 special teams tackle and 4 total hits against the Raiders, and when Desmond Howard went out with a separated shoulder, Carl saw duty as the team's 3rd wide receiver. Carl began the year with Phoenix and was waived by the Cardinals in training camp. He signed with the Redskins before the Week 5 contest with Denver.

Pro Career: 1991: After being waived in training camp by the Redskins, Carl was signed to the practice squad and spent the entire year with the Skins. 1990: Signed by the Houston Oilers as a Plan B free agent after the Redskins left him unprotected, Carl was waived by the Oilers on the team's final roster cutdown. He then signed with the Skins on Nov. 16 and spent the remainder of the year on the practice squad. 1989: Signed as a free agent by the Skins on April 26, Carl was waived on the final cut and the re-signed the next day to the practice squad. He was activated for the Week 16 game at Seattle.

College, Personal: The Western Athletic Conference leading receiver as a senior at Utah, Carl snared 149 passes for 2,283 yards for Utah with 20 touchdowns. He ended his career with the Utes as the school's all-time leader in receptions, yards and touchdowns. He attended Fountain Valley (CA) High School where he lettered in football, track, basketball and volleyball. He is the brother of Emil Harry, a veteran wide receiver with the Kansas City Chiefs. He and his wife, Susan, have a daughter, Xojian, and they reside in Ashburn, VA.

• Terry has been the honorary chairman of the Children's Miracle Network Telethon benefiting Children's Hospital.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Terry was 2nd in the NFL with 8 interceptions in 1988 (the 3rd highest total in Eagle history).
- ❖ He had a 38-yard TD run on a fake punt vs. Tampa Bay in 1988.
- ❖ He had a 52-yard interception return for a TD at Green Bay in 1985.

How Acquired: Signed as a Plan B free agent March 28, 1991.

Games Played/Started: 101/39 [4/0] - NO 1984 (14/0); 1985 (16/13); PHILA 1986 (16/12); 1987 (11/11); 1988 (16/0) [1/0]; 1989 (6/0) [1/0]; 1990 (16/3) [1/0]; WASH 1991 (6/0) [1/0]; 1992 (IR)

1992 Season: Coming off an injury that left him on IR for much of the previous 1991 season, Terry had hoped to return a productive role in the Redskins secondary. But he re-injured his broken arm from the year before and spent the entire year on injured reserve. "Terry's extremely smart and has been around this league for a long time," said head coach Richie Petitbon. "Injuries have bothered him some since he's been here, but he still can be a valuable player because of his experience."

Pro Career: 1991: Terry had a season-high 8 tackles vs. Cleveland before leaving the game with a broken arm that left him on IR for the remainder of the season. On special teams he had 29 total hits in just 6 games and was among the team leaders at the time of his injury. Terry recorded 2 tackles and 3 special teams hits against his former Eagle teammates in Week 5. 1990: In the opening 2 weeks of the season, he led the Eagles with 20 tackles and finished the year with 38. He also finished among the team's leaders with 12 special teams tackles. 1989: A leg injury in preseason forced Terry on IR for 9 weeks. He returned for the final 6 games as a nickel back. 1988: Although used in nickel situations, Terry led the Eagles with 8 interceptions (3rd highest total in Eagle history) and finished 2nd in the NFL. He earned 2nd-team all-NFC honors. He had two interceptions and a 38-yard TD run off a fake punt in the season-opening win over Tampa Bay. 1987: Terry finished as the team's 2nd leading tackler with 100, including a career-high 18 tackles at New England. He set up the win in that game by forcing a fumble in overtime. 1986: Terry joined the Eagles as a free agent when New Orleans waived him in preseason. He finished the year 3rd in tackles (112). 1985: Terry finished with 4 interceptions, including a 52 yard TD at Green Bay. 1984: Terry saw action in 14 games as a rookie and totaled 27 tackles.

College, Personal: Terry was an unanimous all-America selection as a junior and senior at Georgia. He also placed 5th in the Heisman Trophy voting in 1983 which is the highest finish ever by a defensive back. Terry led the nation, and set a Bulldog record, with 12 interceptions as a junior and was called by former Georgia coach Vince Dooley "the finest defensive back I've ever coached." He graduated with a degree in genetics from Georgia and his future plans may include the investment field, medical school, or a research position. He has been the honorary chairman of Children's Miracle Network Telethon benefiting Children's Hospital. He also has been involved in the broadcasting field when he served as a guest radio color analyst on Eagle home games while sidelined in 1989. Terry was an outstanding athlete at Huntsville High School in Huntsville, TX. As a high school freshman, he audited a general zoology class at Sam Houston State (taught by his father) and earned the 2nd highest grade in the class. He and his wife Jennifer, have 2 children, Christopher, 8 and Natalie, 3. They reside in Rosemont, PA.

Up Close

• Stephen's older brother, Curtis, played with the USFL's Jacksonville Bulls. He is one of 4 brothers who played college football.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Stephen's 1st career catch was an 18-yard touchdown vs. Buffalo in 1990.
- He was the special teams captain in Super Bowl XXVI.
- He led the Redskins in special teams hits with 133 in 1991.

How Acquired: Signed as a Plan B free agent March 7, 1989.

Games Played/Started: 24/0 [6/0] - KC 1988 (IR); WASH 1989 (IR); 1990 (6/0) [2/0]; 1991 (16/0) [3/0]; 1992 (2/0) [1/0]

1992 Season: In 1991 it all came together for Stephen as he developed into the Redskins' top special teams player. Last season it all came unraveled when a knee sprain in Week 2 sidelined him for the rest of the regular season. As much as it was a blow to Stephen, nowhere was his absence felt more than on the Redskins special teams units. "Stephen has come along to where he is one of our most valuable special teams players," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier. "He gets our toughest assignments and losing him last year was a real blow. A healthy Stephen Hobbs makes a huge difference in our special teams performance." Before his injury vs. Atlanta in Week 2, Stephen had accumulated 13 special teams hits. He did return in time for the team's divisional playoff game at San Francisco.

Pro Career: 1991: He led the team with 133 special teams hits and was 2nd on the team with 36 special teams tackles. Stephen reached double-digit special teams hits 6 times, including a season-best (and team-best) 13 vs. Atlanta in Week 10. 1990: Stephen was finally brought to the active roster in Week 10 after nearly 2 1/2 seasons on IR. In his pro debut versus the Saints, Stephen returned 4 kickoffs for 53 yards. His 1st NFL catch was good for an 18-yard touchdown against Buffalo. He finished with 32 total hits on special teams to go along with 6 kick returns for 92 yards (15.3 avg.). 1989: Stephen spent the year on injured reserve after coming to the Redskins as a Plan B free agent from Kansas City. A nagging injury to his left knee kept him out of action for the season. 1988: Stephen signed with Kansas City as a rookie free agent, but a sprained left knee in training camp forced him onto IR for the entire season.

College, Personal: During 2 seasons at North Alabama, Stephen was the team's leading receiver both seasons catching 64 passes for 940 yards and four touchdowns. He transferred to North Alabama after playing 2 seasons at Copia-Lincoln Junior College in Wesson, MS. There, he earned all-state and all-region honors, and was an honorable mention all-America. He is one of the team's top basketball players and owns a vertical leap of 36 inches. Born in Mendenhall, MS, he played quarterback and receiver at Mendenhall High School and led his team to the state playoffs as a senior. An all-district choice in football, basketball, and baseball, Stephen also earned all-state honors in basketball and was the state champion in the triple jump as a senior. He resides in Ashburn, VA.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Desmond's 1st career TD was a 55-yard punt return lateral vs. Atlanta.
- ❖ He caught his 1st NFL pass at New Orleans.
- ❖ He finished 9th in the NFC in kickoff returns with a 21.0-yard average.
- ❖ He was the Redskins highest 1st round selection since Charley Taylor in 1964.

How Acquired: Selected in 1st round of 1992 draft (4th overall).

Games Played/Started: 16/1 - 1992 (16/1)

1992 Season: Against Atlanta in Week 2, Desmond grabbed a punt return lateral from Brian Mitchell and streaked 55 yards for a touchdown. It only took a few electrifying seconds, but Redskins fans were given a sneak preview of things to come. "He's smart and he has shown everyone around here that he's willing to work hard," said offensive coordinator Rod Dowhower. "He's earned everyone's respect and now he's in position to make a big contribution for us offensively." Last season, those contributions came mainly in the form of special teams. He finished 9th in the NFC in kickoff returns with a 21.0-yard return average with 8 returns 23 yards or longer. Desmond had 2 of the team's 5 longest kick returns with a 42-yarder vs. the Chiefs in Week 10 and a 34-yarder vs. Atlanta. While his big-play capabilities were well documented, his contributions on coverage teams were an added bonus. Desmond finished 5th on the team with 65 total hits and was 7th with 8 punt coverage tackles. Offensively, he saw limited action as the team's 4th receiver and caught 3 passes for 20 yards. With an ankle injury to Ricky Sanders in the season final vs. the Raiders, he was expected to see more time at wide receiver, but after making a 7-yard catch for a 1st down, he suffered a season-ending shoulder separation that kept him out of the playoffs.

Honors: College & Pro Football Newsweekly all-Rookie.

College, Personal: The Redskins highest pick since Charley Taylor in 1964, Desmond became the 1st Heisman Trophy winner to be selected by the defending Super Bowl Champions when the Skins acquired the 4th pick overall with a draft-day trade with Cincinnati. He was an unanimous 1st-team all-America and Big 10 selection, Big 10 Offensive Player of the Year and was named player of the year by the Walter Camp Foundation and The Sporting News. As a senior, Desmond caught 61 passes for 950 yards and 19 touchdowns. He set an NCAA record with at least 1 touchdown catch in 10 consecutive games. Desmond also had 2 rushing touchdowns and 2 others on returns. His 23 touchdowns and 138 points in a season are Michigan records. He averaged 13.8 yards on 12 carries, returned 12 kickoffs for 373 yards (31.1 average) and 1 TD and 15 punts for 261 yards (17.4 average) and one score as a senior. A 2nd-team all-America pick as a junior, he averaged 29.5 yards on 16 kickoff returns and 11.8-yard per punt return, while catching 57 passes for 858 yards and 9 TDs. As a redshirt freshman, he led the team in kickoff returns with a 22.7-yard average. An all-state and high school all-America selection as a tailback at Cleveland's St. Joseph High School, he scored 18 TDs and had 10 interceptions as a senior. He lettered 3 times in football and track, and once in basketball. He played point guard and helped his team to the state finals as a junior. He graduated with a degree in communication studies. Desmond has enrolled at George Mason University in Fairfax, VA, to begin post-graduate studies in social work. His mother, Hattie, has a degree as a dietary technician and is a field representative for the Ohio Hunger Task Force. He resides in Reston, VA.

Up Close

• Joe was awarded a Chrysler dealership this past offseason. "Joe Jacoby Chrysler Jeep/Eagle" located in Warrenton, VA, and he hopes to have his grand opening this season.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Joe was selected to 4 straight Pro Bowls from 1983-86.
- He has started 19 postseason games.
- He was the Redskin recipient of the 1990 Ed Block Courage Award.
- Joe is the only Redskin offensive lineman in team history to score a TD.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent April 20, 1981.

Games Played/Started: 165/147 [21/19] - 1981 (14/13); 1982 (9/9) [4/4]; 1983 (16/16) [3/3]; 1984 (16/16) [1/1]; 1985 (11/11); 1986 (16/16) [3/3]; 1987 (12/12) [3/3]; 1988 (16/13); 1989 (10/10); 1990 (16/6) [2/2]; 1991 (16/16) [3/3]; 1992 (13/9) [2/0]

1992 Season: After completing his 12th season in the NFL with an assortment of injuries to his elbows, hips, knees, back and a pinched nerve in his neck, Joe joked, "everything is going to catch up with me sooner or later." But offensive line coach Jim Hanifan wasn't joking when he said, "The size and strength is what everybody sees. What people don't see, and this is what has made him a great football player, is a heart that is as big as the man himself. He is one of the all-timers. Few players have ever played the game the way Joe Jacoby has played it." Joe finally succumbed to the injuries and was reduced to a backup role after starting at right tackle from Weeks 1-4 and left guard from Weeks 5-8. A pinched nerve in Week 7 at Minnesota began to take its toll and forced him to a reserve role Week 9 at Seattle ending his consecutive starting streak at 28 games. The following week he was back at right tackle at Kansas City, but he had to leave the game in the 1st quarter with a sprained back. Joe missed the next 2 games, and was limited to mainly short yardage situations the remainder of the regular season. In the playoffs, Joe saw considerable action at left tackle at San Francisco, filling in for Jim Lachey.

Pro Career: 1991: Joe opened the year at left guard (2 starts), but then switched to right tackle (14 starts) when Ed Simmons went down with a knee injury. Joe was named offensive player of the week for his performance against Phoenix in Week 3. 1990: Joe battled back from a career-threatening injury to his left knee and played in all 16 games, including 6 starts in regular season and both playoff games. Jake played a key role whenever and wherever he was needed. In the Week 8 overtime win over the Lions he stepped in for an injured Jim Lachey at left tackle. And when Russ Grimm and Jeff Bostic suffered injuries against Miami, Jake was inserted at left guard. The following week he started at left guard against the Bears. An injury to Ed Simmons in that game moved Joe back to right tackle, where he started the rest of the season. 1989: Joe settled into his nearly-new spot at right tackle, and through 9 games was having a banner year. Then in Week 10 against Philadelphia, Joe suffered major ligament damage to his left knee that forced him to undergo reconstructive surgery and miss the final 6 weeks of the season. 1988: Joe started the first 9 games of the year at his usual left tackle spot until a variety of injuries (knee, ankle, groin) sidelined him in Weeks 10-12. When he returned for the season's final 4 games, Jake was switched to right tackle, making room for Jim Lachey on the left side. 1987: Joe faced some of the best defensive ends in the league and allowed only 2 sacks in 3 playoff games and only 5 in 12 regular-season games. 1986: Joe made the Pro Bowl for the 4th consecutive year and played in every game for the 4th time in 5 seasons, despite suffering a broken hand in the Wild Card game against the Los Angeles Rams. He played the next 2 weeks with a protective cast. 1985: If they didn't realize it at the time, the Redskins found out how valuable Joe was to their offense. He missed 5 games after spraining his right knee during a practice prior to Game 7, and then re-injuring it against Cleveland. In the 5 games Joe missed, Redskins' runners gained 100 yards or more only once. Joe had started 55 straight games before the injury. Despite the missed playing time, Joe made the Pro Bowl for the 3rd straight time and was named to the UPI 2nd-team all-pro squad. 1984: Joe received the nickname "Jake the Quake" when he fell on a Keith Griffin fumble in the end zone against Minnesota to become the only Washington offensive lineman to ever score a touchdown. In an injury-riddled season, he was one of only 8 players to start every game for the Redskins. In addition to making the Pro Bowl for a 2nd straight year, he was named to the AP all-pro squad, the UPI all-NFC team, The Sporting News all-pro team, the PFWA all-pro team and all-Madden team. He was runner-up to teammate Russ Grimm in USA Today's NFC Lineman of the Year voting. 1983: Joe made his first Pro Bowl. He faced Dallas' Harvey Martin, Philadelphia's Dennis Harrison and St. Louis' Curtis Greer and didn't allow a sack. He limited Raiders' end Lyle Alzado to 1 tackle and 12 sack and San Francisco's Fred Dean to 2 tackles and 1 sack. 1982: Joe started all 13 games and played his first full season at left tackle. 1981: Joe signed with the Redskins as a relatively unknown free agent. Former coach Joe Gibbs signed with the Redskins as a relatively unknown free agent. Former coach Joe Gibbs mistook Jacoby for a defensive lineman the first time the two met. Nevertheless, Joe entered training camp with 7 veterans and 5 draft picks as competition and came out a winner. After alternating between guard and tackle the first 8 weeks, he settled in at left tackle.

College, Personal: The pride of Louisville football, Joe co-captained the Cardinals as a senior and led them to the Independence Bowl. Born and raised in Louisville, Joe received all-America honors at Western High School. He is a dedicated supporter of the American Heart Association and he and his wife, Irene, put together the 9th Annual Joe Jacoby Celebrity Golf Tournament last May. All proceeds went to the American Heart Association. He was one of 16 Washingtonians honored as Washingtonians of the Year in 1987. Joe and Irene are extremely involved in the community and have 2 daughters, Lauren, 5, and Jenna, 3, and they reside in Clifton, VA.

JAMES JENKINS

Up Close

• James participated in a bowling league during the offseason. His best game was a 268 after bowling 8 straight strikes. He also bowled a 644 series just before the start of training camp.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ James has posted 28 total special teams hits in just 9 NFL games.
- ❖ In 1991, he was the 1st free agent rookie to make the team since 1988.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent April 25, 1991.

Games Played/Started: 9/1 [5/1] - 1991 (4/0) [3/0]; 1992 (5/1) [2/1]

1992 Season: Troubled by a back injury, James was forced to sit on the sidelines for 11 weeks until given a clean bill of health. When activated from injured reserve, he again proved he has a bright future with the club because of his tenacious blocking and special teams play. "He's an intelligent football player," said tight end coach Russ Grimm. "He plays smart. He fits the mold of what we look for in a tight end." When slotted into the roster for the remaining 5 games of the season, James made worthy contributions. He posted 17 total special teams hits, including a season-best 6 hits against the Giants. He also was tabbed for his 1st NFL start against the Giants in Week 13 and helped the Skins to a season-high 177 yards rushing. James led the Skins with 7 hits vs. the Vikings in the Wild Card win, and was given a playoff start the following week against the 49ers.

Pro Career: 1991: James cleared waivers after the final 47-player roster was set and was brought back the following day and placed on the practice squad. He was activated Nov. 30 when Ron Middleton was injured. James played as a backup H-back and on special teams the final 4 weeks of the season and into the postseason. He posted 11 total special teams hits with a season-best 5 hits vs. the Eagles in Week 16.

Veteran Players

College, Personal: James was named the Most Valuable Player at Rutgers after catching a team-high 31 passes for 325 yards as a senior. A back-up tight end as a freshman and sophomore, he started 4 games at linebacker as a junior before making the switch back to tight end as a senior. James was a championship-caliber chess player while growing up on Staten Island. He played in tournaments until high school and now plays just for fun. He studied criminal justice while at Rutgers and plans to enter graduate school and work towards a master's degree in forensics. He attended Staten Island Academy in Staten Island, NY. James resides in Leesburg, VA.

- Considered to be one of the toughest players on the roster, AJ was honored with the prestigious Ed Block Courage Award last season.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ AJ led the team in interceptions as a rookie in 1989.
- ❖ He was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week against Phoenix in 1989.
- ❖ He returned an interception 59 yards for a TD vs. the Cardinals in 1989.

How Acquired: Selected in 6th round of 1989 draft (149th overall).

Games Played/Started: 46/19 [7/2] - 1989 (16/8); 1990 (5/0) [2/0]; 1991 (11/0) [3/0]; 1992 (14/11) [2/2]

1992 Season: How tough is AJ? Against the Cardinals in Week 4 he suffered a gruesome compound dislocated finger. The prognosis was he would miss at least 2 games. He was back at practice 3 days later. He was slated to undergo arthroscopic knee surgery before the Redskins Monday Night game at New Orleans in Week 11. Instead, he played the game, then had the knee scoped. And 2 weeks later he was back in the starting lineup. Sandwiched around those injuries, AJ was one of the Skins' most productive players. "AJ has athletic arrogance," said defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. "Nothing bothers him. He doesn't think anyone can beat him. And if you do, he's right back in your face the next play. He's not cocky. But he has confidence. And that's what you need to be cornerback in this league." AJ's biggest value is his ability to play both corners with equal precision. When Darrell Green was injured in Week 2, AJ stepped into his starting spot at right corner and when Martin Mayhew went out in Week 11, AJ moved to the left side. Bothered by injuries throughout his career, AJ only missed Weeks 12 and 13 recovering from his knee scope. When he was healthy, AJ finished 2nd on the team with 12 passed defended and had 3 interceptions, including 1 each in the last 2 games of the year. He had his best outing in Week 16 vs. the Raiders with a season-best 11 tackles, 1 forced fumble and an interception. He also had a double-digit tackle day in Week 14 when he had 10 tackles against the Cowboys and vs. the Eagles in Week 6. AJ also had picks against Seattle and Philadelphia.

Pro Career: 1991: AJ suffered a dislocated bone in his right wrist in the preseason opener at Pittsburgh and had two pins inserted into his wrist the following day. After being activated from injured reserve vs. Chicago in Week 6, his contributions were many. He was a tremendous performer in nickel situations and also on special teams. He was 3rd on the team in passes defended with 11 and 5th in special teams tackles with 21 (team leader with 7 solo punt coverage tackles). He ended the year with 60 total special teams hits. AJ enjoyed his most productive outing of the year against Houston in Week 9 with 7 tackles, 1 forced fumble and 1 pass defended. In addition, AJ had his 1st career sack vs. Philadelphia in Week 16. 1990: Reconstructive surgery on his right knee left his status questionable at best. But a flawless rehabilitation program had AJ back in the lineup by Week 12. In just 5 games, AJ posted 5 pass deflections and an interception in nickel coverage. His interception came against the Bears with 1:54 in the game to help seal the 10-9 win. 1989: After starting the year as a nickel back, AJ got his 1st start against Dallas in Week 9. He led the team in interceptions (4) and pass deflections (8). In addition, he was 2nd on the team (7th in the NFC) in kickoff returns with a 21.0-yard average. He was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week following the 29-10 win over Phoenix in Week 13. In that game, AJ had 7 tackles and 2 interceptions (one for a 59-yard 2nd-half TD) to break the game open and the other to set up a 1st-half field goal. He had a season-high 8 tackles against Chicago.

College, Personal: AJ did a little bit of everything as a standout player at Southwest Texas State. As a cornerback, wide receiver, running back and special teams player, AJ barely had time to catch his breath. In his senior year he was named 2nd-team all-Southland Conference as a receiver (26 catches for 459 yards and 4 TDs) and honorable mention as a cornerback. A native of San Antonio, TX, AJ was a running back at Clemens High School where he rushed for 1,949 yards. He resides in Ashburn, VA.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ His 1st career interception came against the Lions in the 1991 season opener.
- ❖ Sidney had a career-high 2 interceptions in 1991.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent Sept. 16, 1992.

Games Played/Started: 46/1 [4/0] - KC 1988 (13/0); WASH 1990 (10/1) [1/0]; 1991 (15/0) [3/0]; 1992 (8/0)

1992 Season: Sidney was watching the Redskins-Falcons game on television from his home when Darrell Green suffered a broken wrist. After being waived by the Redskins in the team's final roster cutdown, Sidney had been waiting for a phone call to come back to work. A short time later his telephone was ringing and his 2-week stay in football limbo was over. "Sidney is a very smart football player," said defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. "Whenever we've put him in situations he has produced. He's also been a valuable player on our special teams." Sidney's return saw him back in his usual role on nickel coverage and special teams. He had an interception vs. the Broncos on Monday Night and had a season-high 6 special teams hits. His season came to an end, however, in Week 10 at Kansas City when he left the game with a sprained right knee that put him on IR for the remainder of the year.

Pro Career: 1991: In the season opener against the Lions, Sidney's 1st career interception ended Detroit's deepest scoring threat with a 3rd-quarter pickoff in the end zone. His 2nd pass interception of the season ended the Week 10 victory over Atlanta. Besides his defensive contributions, Sidney also saw action on the Redskins special teams units. He finished 6th on the team with 21 special teams tackles and had 55 total hits. 1990: Signed 5 weeks into the season when injuries to the Redskins secondary left the unit thin, Sidney saw extensive action as a nickel back and on special teams. He did get a starting assignment in Week 8 when the Redskins opened in a 6 defensive back set against the run-and-shoot Lions. He responded with a team-high 7 tackles and also forced a fumble and deflected a pass. He finished the year with 31 special team tackles. He began the year in Kansas City and was waived in training camp. 1989: Sidney joined Tampa Bay as a Plan B free agent and was waived before the start of the season. 1988: He played in 13 games for Kansas City as a reserve cornerback, making 8 tackles, deflecting 5 passes and forcing a fumble. He tied for second on the Chiefs with 18 special teams tackles. 1987: Sidney signed with the Chiefs as a rookie free agent, but missed all of his rookie campaign with a knee sprain suffered in training camp.

College, Personal: Sidney played 2 seasons at California after transferring from Cerritos

(CA) Community College. He finished his 2-year stint at Cal with 68 tackles (38 solos) and 1 interception. A 1st team all-conference selection at Cerritos, he had 3 interceptions as a sophomore in 1984. Sidney attended Cerritos High School, where he won 1st team all-conference honors at both safety and quarterback and earned all-conference honors in track. His hobbies include reading and listening to music. He resides in Herndon, VA.

• Tim has started a job program for inner-city youth in his hometown of Sarasota, FL. The program provides jobs and college scholarships.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Tim was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week in Wild Card playoff victory over Philadelphia in 1990.
- ❖ He picked up his 1st career interception vs. Philadelphia in 1991.
- ❖ He has had three 2-sack games during his career.
- ❖ Tim had a career-high 5 1/2 sacks last season.

How Acquired: Obtained on August 22, 1990 in a trade with Pittsburgh for a 4th round draft choice in 1991.

Games Played/Started: 89/60 [9/9] - PGH 1987 (12/0); 1988 (15/12); 1989 (14/14) [2/2]; WASH 1990 (16/2) [2/2]; 1991 (16/16) [3/3]; 1992 (16/16) [2/2]

1992 Season: As the season wore on, one thing became obvious, Tim was becoming one of the Redskins most valued performers. As injuries put down one player after another, Tim was as steady as a rock in the middle of the Redskins defensive line. "Timmy plays hard on every play," said defensive line coach Torgy Torgeson. "He plays both the run and pass, so he's not just a specialist. He's very versatile. Tim does everything we ask him to do. He's the type of player you want to coach." He was also the type of player you could count on to line up every game, despite playing the final 6 weeks with a cracked rib. He played right tackle on the run and left tackle on the pass and was one of only 4 players to start every game. Tim produced 79 tackles, including 3 tackles behind the line. In addition, he finished 2nd on the team with 5 1/2 sacks (tops among defensive linemen) and was 2nd on the team with 26 QB hurries. Tim posted a season-best 11 tackles in Week 8 vs. the Giants and against the Giants in Week 13 he finished with 5 tackles, 1 sack and 3 QB hurries. He also had another outstanding effort vs. the Eagles in Week 6 with 4 tackles, 3 hurries, a sack and a fumble recovery.

Pro Career: 1991: Tim led all Redskins defensive linemen with a career-high 82 tackles. He also added 3 1/2 sacks, tied for 5th on the team with 17 quarterback hurries and was 2nd on the team with 8 tackles for losses. His season bests included 9 tackles (1 tackle for loss) vs. the Giants in Week 8 and 8 tackles (2 for loss) vs. Dallas in Week 12. Against Atlanta in Week 10 Tim had 7 tackles and a season-best 1 1/2 sacks. Tim also registered his 1st career interception against Philadelphia in Week 16. 1990: Making his 1st start at defensive tackle vs. Philadelphia in the playoffs, Tim sacked Randall Cunningham twice (for 16 yards in losses), pressured Cunningham into another sack, had 5 tackles and 1 forced fumble. His performance was instrumental in the Redskins 20-6 win as he was chosen NFC Defensive Player of the Week. Tim had mostly been used in passing situations throughout the regular season starting only 2 games. In Week 6, Tim again was a nemesis to the Eagles with 2 sacks and a QB hurry in the Redskin win. In addition to his 3 regular season sacks, Tim added 7 QB hurries, 3 passes defended and forced 1 fumble. 1989: Tim started 14 games for Pittsburgh, finished with 35 tackles (33 solos) and 4 1/2 sacks. He notched a career-high 2 sacks vs. Minnesota to earn the game ball. 1988: Tim led the Steelers with 4 sacks and was the 2nd leading tackler on the defensive line with 34 stops. He had a season-high 6 tackles, including 1 sack against Philadelphia. Tim posted a season-high 2 sacks vs. the Jets. 1987: Tim played in 12 games as a backup at defensive tackle.

College, Personal: A 2-year starter and 4-year letterman at defensive end and defensive tackle, Tim compiled 91 tackles, 9 sacks and 1 interception during his career at Penn State. He had 5 sacks as a senior right defensive tackle, earning 1st-team Walter Camp all-America honors and was named 2nd-team by the Associated Press. He graduated with bachelor of arts degree in hotel, restaurant and institutional management. He, along with Pat Carter and David Daniels, conduct a football camp Sarasota, FL, during the offseason. Tim is an active participant in the community helping out with Christmas food distribution and speaking at assemblies. Tim is from Sarasota, FL and attended Sarasota High School. He and his wife, LeChelle, have 2 daughters, Christa, 6, and Kayla, 2, and they reside in Ashburn, VA.

- ❖ In his last 60 starts, Jim has allowed just 2 sacks.

How Acquired: Obtained on September 3, 1988 in trade with Los Angeles Raiders for Jay Schroeder.

Games Played/Started: 115/113 [5/5] - SD 1985 (16/16); 1986 (16/15); 1987 (12/12); RAI 1988 (1/1); WASH 1988 (15/14); 1989 (14/14); 1990 (16/16) [2/2]; 1991 (15/15) [3/3]; 1992 (10/10) [2/2]

1992 Season: How important is Jim to the Redskins offense? In the 10 games that Jim was able to lineup at his customary left tackle position, the Skins rushing game averaged 122.5 yards a game. In his 5-game absence with a knee sprain suffered in Week 5 against Denver, the Skins ground game virtually came to a halt averaging just 83.7 yards per contest. With him, the Redskins allowed just 10 sacks in 10 games and 14 sacks in the 5 games without him. His teammates can appreciate his importance. "Seeing him walk around before games with that fire in his eyes gives us all a good feeling," said running back Earnest Byner. In addition, the Redskins rushed for over 100 yards in 7 of the 10 games that he manned the left tackle spot. The injury bug again hit Jim in the playoffs. Against Minnesota, he helped the Redskins to a season-high 196-yards rushing, but played most of the game with a pulled rib cartilage. The following week, he was back in the starting lineup, but missed most of the 2nd half against the 49ers with the injury. Honors: College and Pro Football Newsweekly NFL all-Pro.

Pro Career: 1991: Jim was tabbed a Pro Bowl starter for the 2nd straight year, and again was a unanimous 1st-team all-pro selection by AP, UPI, all-Madden, College and Pro Football Newsweekly, Football News, PFWA, NEA, The Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly. Jim was named offensive player of the week by Redskin coaches 3 times following Week 8 vs. the Giants, Week 14 vs. Rams and Week 15 vs. Cardinals. He missed only 1 game (Week 10 vs. Atlanta) with a sprained knee suffered in the Week 9 win over Houston. 1990: Jim was named the top vote getter at left tackle for the Pro Bowl, and was named the NFC's Offensive Lineman of the Year. He was named the NFC Offensive Player of the Week in the Week 12 win over Miami (only the 2nd offensive lineman in 6 years to win the award). In addition, he did not give up a sack all season on his way to earning 1st-team honors from AP, PFWA, The Sporting News, Football Digest, Pro Football Newsweekly, Pro Football Weekly, NEA, UPI, Football News and all-Madden. 1989: Jim regained the form that put him in the 1987 Pro Bowl as he was named a 1st team all-Pro by AP, The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly, all-Madden and first team all-NFC by UPI. He was a second team all-Pro by College and Pro Football Newsweekly. His crunching blow to the Raiders' Jerry Robinson in Week 8 was chosen as Sport Magazine's Hit of the Year and epitomized his strength and power. As the season progressed, Jim overcame a variety of injuries missing Week 9 vs. Dallas with a bruised shoulder, and Week 10 vs. the Eagles with a dislocated thumb. Despite several changing faces around him he became the cornerstone of a line that allowed the second fewest sacks (21) in the league. 1988: It was a year of transition for Jim. Just prior to training camp he was traded from San Diego to the LA Raiders. Following LA's opener he was sent from the Raiders to Washington. Before he could even catch his breath, he was switched from right to left tackle. Through it all, Jim started 14 games and gave the Redskins a solid season. 1987: Jim made this 1st Pro Bowl appearance when an injury moved him into the game from his alternate slot. He was also a 2nd team all-NFL choice by AP and first team all-AFC choice by UPI while earning his 2nd straight lineman of the year selection from his teammates. 1986: There was no sophomore slump for Jim, who was voted Pro Bowl alternate by AFC players. Charger teammates voted him as the team's lineman of the year. 1985: The fifth offensive lineman selected in 1985 draft and the 12th player overall, Jim made an immediate impact with the Chargers. He moved into the starting lineup at left tackle on opening day playing beside veteran Ed White and displayed a maturity and savvy unusual for a 1st year player. His performance did not go unnoticed. Jim was named to the all-rookie teams by UPI, Football Digest, and the PFWA. UPI also named him 2nd team all-AFC and first team all-Pro by the Rocky Mountain News.

College, Personal: Jim left a mark on Ohio athletics on the high school and college levels. He played guard for the Ohio State Buckeyes and earned all-America honors from the Football Writers and UPI as a senior along with all-Big 10 honors. Jim also played in the East-West Shrine game. He earned a degree in marketing from OSU. Green Bay Packer quarterback Mike Tomczak was the best man at Jim's wedding. Jim served as the Honorary Chairman for the 1991 Multiple Sclerosis READaTHON Program. He also was co-chairman of the 24 Challenge Math Program with over 120,000 area D.C. school children participating. Jim also owns shares of 4 furniture stores in Pittsburgh. He is also a computer and history buff. Buckeye bred, he grew up in St. Henry, OH, and played football, basketball and track for the St. Henry High School Redskins where his father is the athletic director. In track, Jim ran the 100 meters (11.2), 200 meters (22.7), 400-meter relay, and shot put (61-5) and started as a sophomore forward on the state basketball championship team. While at OSU, he developed a close friendship with Buckeye great Woody Hayes. Jim has even been courted to run for the Ohio State House. Jim and his wife, Ann, have a daughter, Paige, 1, and they reside in Purcellville, VA.

RFK Stadium

The first regular-season game at DC Stadium (re-named RFK Stadium in 1970) was played on October 1, 1961. Since then, the Redskins have played a total of 346 games there and hold a 159-86-1 record. Since 1972, the Redskins are 128-42 at home, including an 11-1 record in the playoffs.

• Chip's grandfather was the Minnesota Vikings entertainment director for over 25 years. Since retired, he has a lifetime pass to all Viking games.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Chip's 625 points are the most by any player in NFL history after 5 years in the league.
- ❖ His current streak of 198 consecutive PATs is the most in the NFL and is 3rd all-time (234 by Tommy Davis, 49ers, is the all-time record).
- ❖ In 1991, he became the 1st player to outscore an entire team over a season since 1945, when Chip outscored the Colts 149-145.
- ❖ Chip led the NFL in scoring and field goals (tied) in 1991.
- ❖ Chip led the NFL in field goals (tied) in 1991 and 1992.
- ❖ He led the NFC in scoring and field goals in 1990, 1991 and 1992.
- ❖ He tied a club record 5 field goals vs. the Bills in 1990, at Philadelphia in 1991 and at Minnesota in 1992.
- ❖ Chip tied an NFL record with 2 50+ field goals in the same quarter vs. Indianapolis in 1990 and vs. Dallas in 1991 (Week 2).
- ❖ He kicked a career-long 56-yarder at Indianapolis in 1990.
- ❖ He has booted 8-game winning field goals.

How Acquired: Selected in 2nd round of 1988 draft (55th overall).

Games Played/Started: 80/0 [7/0] - 1988 (16/0); 1989 (16/0); 1990 (16/0) [2/0]; 1991 (16/0) [3/0]; 1992 (16/0) [2/0]

1992 Season: Chip again proved to be one of the marquee kickers in the NFL, scoring over 100 points for the 4th consecutive season and leading the NFC in scoring for the 3rd straight year. Not only were Chip's 120 points tops in the NFC (along with New Orleans' Morten Andersen), but his 30 field goals were tied for the best mark in the NFL and his 40 field goal attempts were the most in the NFL. "One of the great things about Chip is he isn't as good yet as he is going to be," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier. "He's going to get better and better. He's capable of putting up some incredible numbers." Chip again put together remarkable streaks of consistency last season. He ended the year connecting on 8 of his last 10, 18 of his last 22, 20 of his last 24 and 23 of his last 28 field goal attempts. He was 10 of 14 from 40 yards or longer and has made 57 of his last 65 kicks inside 40 yards. And when the Redskins needed a boost, Chip raised his performance another notch as he did against the Vikings in Week 7. He provided the Skins with all their points in the 15-13 win, connecting on 5 field goals (for the 3rd time in his career and tying a club record he already shares) of 22, 52, 25, 45 and 49 yards. And it was his 49-yarder with just 1:09 remaining that gave the Skins the win. It was also the 8th time in his career that his foot provided the winning points. And while he deservedly gets credit for putting points on the scoreboard, his booming kickoffs have been just as effective keeping opponent points off the scoreboard. Last season, 21 of his 69 kickoffs were touchbacks.

Pro Career: 1991: Named to the Pro Bowl, Chip led the NFL in scoring with 149 points (2nd most in club history). He was chosen the NFC Offensive Player of the Week after kicking field goals of 53, 52, 45 and 46 yards in the Redskin Monday Night win over Dallas in Week 2. He was a model of consistency inside the 40-yard line, making 37 of his last 39 attempts. There were also plenty of pressure opportunities for Chip in 1991. He hit the game winning 41-yard field goal (7th game winning kick of his career) in overtime vs. Houston in Week 9. Against Phoenix in Week 14, his 42 and 27-yard 4th quarter field goals provided the decisive points in the 20-14 win. In the 56-17 win over Atlanta in Week 10, Chip converted on 8 PATs (2nd most in club history and the most in 1 game since 1966). Chip ended the regular season at Philadelphia in typical style tying a club record 5 field goals (a record he already shared) in a game (21, 35, 38, 47 and 47 yards). His other honors included selection to the UPI all-NFC team, College and Pro Football Newsweekly NFL all-Pro 1st team, Football News all-NFC, AP all-Pro 2nd team, The Sporting News all-Pro, and Pro Football Weekly all-NFC. 1990: He entered the NFL record book by pushing his consecutive games field goal streak to 28 games (the streak ended November 12 at Philadelphia when he did not have an attempt), which is tied for 2nd all-time with Jim Turner. Chip's 131 points were tops in the NFC and second in the NFL, and was the 3rd best mark in Redskins history. His 30 field goals were the most made by any NFC kicker and were 2nd in the league. At the end of the year, Chip connected on 12 straight field goals (including 3 for 3 in the playoffs). He tied a club record with 5 field goals vs. Buffalo and tied an NFL record with 2 50+ field goals (53 and 56) in 1 quarter at Indianapolis. His 56-yarder was the 2nd longest in club history. Chip closed out the year nailing 20 of his final 23 attempts with all 3 misses coming from 50+ yards. He also booted 2-game winning field goals, defeating the Lions with a 34-yarder in overtime and a 35-yarder vs. Chicago with 2:14 remaining. He was a 2nd team all-NFL choice by Pro Football Weekly. 1989: Chip's 128 points were 2nd in the NFL and his 40 field goal attempts were tops in the league, while his 29 converted field goals tied him for 2nd in the NFL. In Weeks 1-8, Chip hit 16-of-18 field goals (including the last 8 games of '88, he was 25-of-28 over a 16-game span) and had a streak of 10 straight, including 3 each in consecutive wins at Dallas and New Orleans in Weeks 3 and 4. Against the Saints, Chip hit the game-winner (an 18-yarder) in the 16-14 victory. In the come-from-behind win over San Diego in Week 14, Chip nailed 4 field goals (including a 28-yarder that sealed the win) and received a game ball for his efforts. For the year Chip had consecutive FG made streaks of 10, 6 and 8 and his 29 made were the 3rd best in Redskin history. 1988: Chip kicked 3 game-winning FGs in his rookie year and finished the year making 9 of his last 10. In week 10 vs. New Orleans, Chip nailed a 23-yarder with under a minute to play to give the 'Skins a 27-24 win. Four weeks later, Chip improved on his flair for the dramatics when he connected on a 44-yarder with :01 second remaining to beat Philadelphia, 20-19.

College, Personal: Chip is regarded as the best kicker in University of Minnesota history, and his records reflect that reputation. He broke school records for the longest field goal (62 yards), field goals made (53), and points scored (254). As a senior, he converted 16 of 19 field goals and all 27 extra point tries. For his career, he converted 57 of 73 field goal tries and 97 of 99 extra points. He was chosen 1st team all-Big 10 as a junior and 2nd team as a senior. As a sophomore, he kicked a school record 10 consecutive field goals. He also picked up valuable punting experience, punting 20 times for 693 yards (34.7 avg.). Chip's charity work includes the Chip Lohmiller Kick-off Classic Golf Tournament to benefit the American Kidney Fund, March of Dimes, Ronald McDonald House "McKicks for Kids" and the Say No to Drugs campaign. He also has a pilot's license. As a junior high school student in Dallas, Chip was teammate of current Green Bay Packers kicker Chris Jacke. Chip was an all-state performer at Woodbury (MN) High School, and also earned letters in hockey, golf, and track. His hobbies include snowmobiling, fishing and golf. His parents reside in Antwerp, Belgium, where his father manages operations for 3M. Chip resides in Reston, VA.

Up Close

• With a certain broadcasting future ahead of him after football, Charles co-hosted "The National Defense" on Home Team Sports last season.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Charles has been selected to 4 Pro Bowls (1987-89 and 1991).
- ❖ His 81 sacks are 2nd in club history and 10th among active NFL players.
- ❖ Charles' 14 12 sacks in 1985 were a career-high.

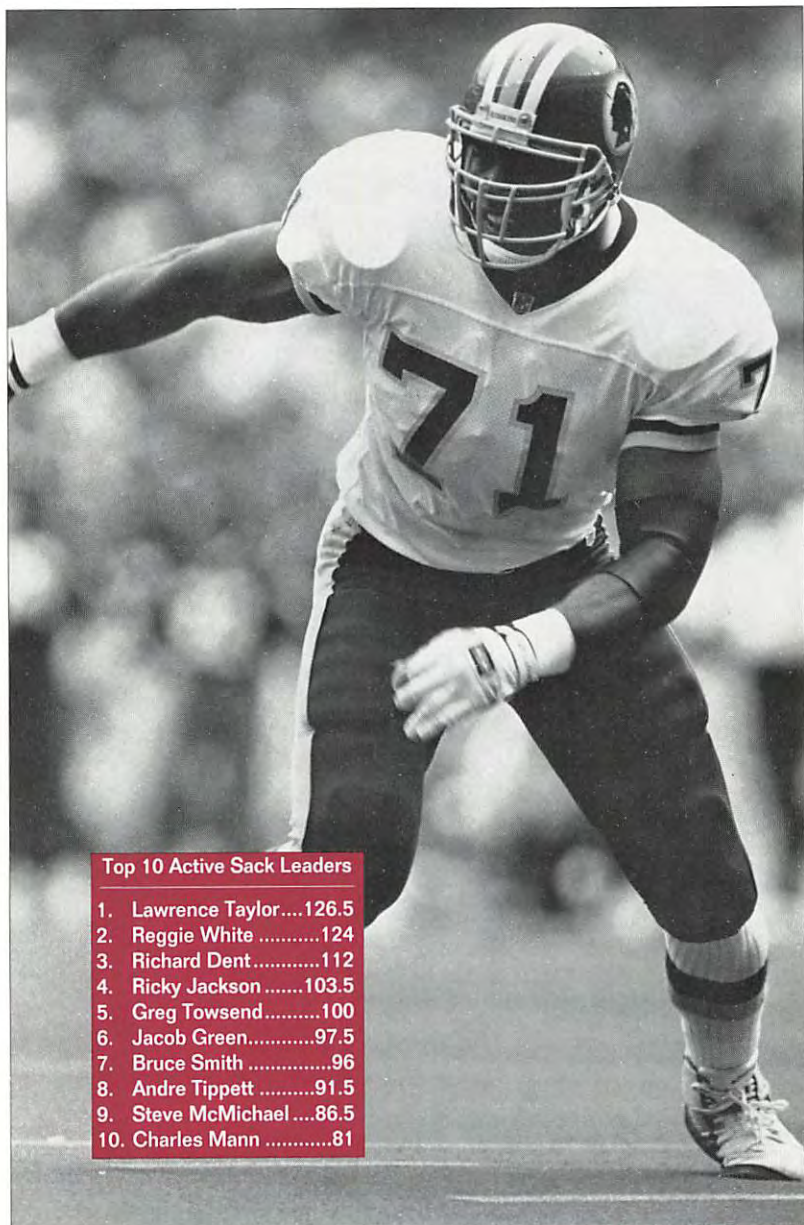

How Acquired: Selected in 3rd round of 1983 draft (84th overall).

Games Played/Started: 151/134 [17/14] - 1983 (16/1) [3/0]; 1984 (16/15) [1/1]; 1985 (16/16); 1986 (15/15) [3/3]; 1987 (12/12) [3/3]; 1988 (14/13); 1989 (16/16); 1990 (15/15) [2/2]; 1991 (15/15) [3/3]; 1992 (16/16) [2/2]

1992 Season: Although slowed down considerably with a nagging knee injury that required a 7th arthroscopic surgery at the season's conclusion, Charles, in businesslike fashion, did not miss a start and turned in another top notch performance. Although his aching knee lowered his sack production to 4.5, he still led the team with 27 QB hurries and his 91 tackles were the 2nd highest total of his career. "Charles is still one of the top players at his position," said defensive line coach Torgy Torgeson. "He plays with consistency each week, and despite facing double-teams, he makes big plays." His top sack day came in Week 4 at Phoenix when he had 2 sacks. And he had at least 1 hurry in 13 of 16 games. When not chasing quarterbacks out of the pocket, Charles held down his end of the line with his highest tackle output since 1989. He posted a season-high 11 tackles vs. the Giants in Week 8 and also had 10 stops in Week 9 at Seattle. In the Week 14 win over the Cowboys, Charles had 5 tackles, including 2 behind the line, to go along with 2 QB hurries. He also gave a sterling performance at Minnesota with 8 tackles and 1 sack.

Pro Career: 1991: After undergoing a 6th arthroscopic procedure on his right knee in the offseason, his sack total was up from 5 1/2 in 1990 to 11 1/2. And he returned to the Pro Bowl for the 4th time in 5 seasons. Charles' sack total was 5th in the NFC and he had 5 multiple sack games. In addition, he was 2nd on the team with 25 QB hurries and had at least 1 quarterback hurry in 13 of 15 games. His best day came in the Week 3 shutout of the Cardinals after Charles had been up the entire night with his wife who gave birth at 6:45 a.m. Charles finished with 5 tackles (1 for loss), 2 sacks, 1 forced fumble, 1 fumble recovery and 3 QB hurries. Other highlights included a season-best 9 tackles vs. Houston in Week 9 and 7 tackles, 1 1/2 sacks, and 3 hurries vs. the Rams in Week 13. But he saved his biggest play of the year in the NFC championship game against Detroit. On the game's 1st offensive play, Charles sacked Detroit quarterback Erik Kramer and caused a fumble that Fred Stokes recovered. His other honors included selection to all-Madden, College and Pro Football Newsweekly NFL all-Pro 2nd team and AP all-Pro 2nd team. 1990: Charles' 5 1/2 sacks were 3rd best on the team and a team-high 23 QB hurries. In the Redskins stretch run into the playoffs, it was Charles who continually came up with big plays. His sack of Bears' QB Jim Harbaugh with :05 left in the game preserved the 10-9 Redskin victory and in the playoff clinching victory at New England, Charles had 8 tackles, a sack, a forced fumble and 2 QB hurries. In the Wild Card playoff game at Philadelphia, Charles threw Heath Sherman for a 1-yard loss on 1st and goal from the 2, and then followed that up with an 8-yard sack of Randall Cunningham on 3rd-and-goal forcing the Eagles into a field goal. 1989: Charles managed to post some of his best numbers in being named to his 3rd straight trip to the Pro Bowl and was a UPI 2nd team all-NFC choice. He set personal-bests for tackles (93) and QB hurries (team-high 31), led the team in sacks with 9 1/2, forced 2 fumbles and made 1 recovery. 1988: Injuries throughout the year hindered Charles from having what he hoped would be a record-breaking year. Nonetheless, Charles' peers thought enough of his play to select him to his 2nd straight Pro Bowl on the merit of his 68 tackles, 5 1/2 sacks and a team-high 17 QB hurries. 1987: Charles finished the season with a team-high 10 sacks, 21 QB hurries and 80 tackles, 6th on the team and 1st among defensive linemen. He registered 2 or more sacks in 4 of 12 regular-season games and made his 1st Pro Bowl trip. 1986: Charles picked up in '87 where he had left off in '86. He had 10 sacks and 16 QB hurries, both 2nd on the team. 1985: Charles' 14 1/2 sacks ranked fourth in the NFC and 2nd on the team. He added 21 hurries and 85 tackles and was just one of 11 players on the team to start every game in an injury-filled season. 1984: Charles started the final 15 games and finished with 85 tackles, 7 1/2 sacks, 15 hurries and 3 forced fumbles. 1983: Redskins' coaches held high opinions of Charles when they drafted him, but they brought him along slowly as a rookie, playing him at left end behind Todd Liebenstein.

College, Personal: At Nevada-Reno, Charles was voted the Most Valuable Defensive Lineman in the Big Sky Conference in 1981 and '82. As a senior, his 14 sacks led the conference. He finished 3rd on the team with 76 tackles and was voted a Division I-AA all-American. Off the field, Charles works as hard as he does when he's playing. He has dabbled in real estate, modeling, acting and broadcasting. In the past he hosted a Thanksgiving special "Redskins Review" and served as a commentator on his own local radio show "Mann About Town." He has appeared in the national Diet Coke ads with other star players from the NFL and has also appeared in television commercials for McDonalds and Swanson's Dinners. Charles also devoted much of his free time to charity, working with the March of Dimes, Special Olympics, Children's Hospital, Children's Miracle Network Telethon and the Metropolitan Boys and Girls Club. He also has been the Grand Marshall of the Cherry Blossoms Festival. Charles and his wife, Tyrena, have a daughter, Camille, 5, and a son, Cameron, 2, and they reside in Great Falls, VA.

1992 Season: Time after time, whenever the Redskins needed Alvoid to step in and play a crucial role, he delivered. "His strength is that he is very smart and athletic," said defensive coordinator Emmitt Thomas. "This is his time to step up. He's proven that he can play corner in this league." He proved that against the Broncos on Monday Night in Week 5. With AJ Johnson out with an injured hand, Alvoid got the starting nod and the Skins' defense didn't miss a beat. He posted 4 tackles, had 2 passes defended and was a big reason the defense held Denver to just 128 yards in total offense. He proved it in a Week 9 start at New Orleans, when Martin Mayhew was out with a broken arm, and came up with a season-high 9 tackles. And he proved it again the following week against the Cardinals in his 3rd start of the year. He came up with 4 tackles and an interception. Alvoid also had an interception in Week 6 vs. Philadelphia and a sack against the Seahawks. Once again, Alvoid was one of the team's most dependable special teamers finishing with 54 total hits.

Pro Career: 1991: Alvoid found his niche as the team's 4th cornerback and on special teams. With injuries to both Darrell Green and AJ Johnson in Super Bowl XXVI, Alvoid played almost the entire game. His 3rd-quarter blitz and sack of Jim Kelly caused a fumble in the Super Bowl and he finished the game with 4 tackles. He finished with a career-high 28 tackles and he added 51 total hits on special teams. 1990: To say the least, Alvoid was a longshot to make the Redskins roster. He was packing and boxing orange juice for Tropicana in Florida when the Redskins called to invite him to training camp. But with AJ Johnson out (offseason knee surgery) and Brian Davis sidelined during training camp with an injury, Alvoid took advantage of his opportunity and found a roster spot. Mainly used as a reserve in the nickel package and in special teams, Alvoid finished 3rd on special teams with 84 total hits and had a season-high 10 special teams hits in the win over Miami. 1989: An 8th round draft choice by Houston, he was cut by the Oilers in training camp, and when no one else showed an interest in his talents, he missed the entire season.

College, Personal: Alvoid transferred to West Virginia after 2 years at Pratt (Kansas) Community College. As a senior, he contributed 28 tackles (18 solos) plus a team-leading 5 interceptions. Alvoid earned all-ECAC, AP honorable mention all-America, and 2nd team all-East honors. He had 2 interceptions in a Mountaineer win over Pittsburgh, and tallied a career-best 8 stops against Syracuse. Along with football, Alvoid enjoys a "rap" music career. His rap career began while at West Virginia, when recorded "Mountaineer Rap" with quarterback and roommate Major Harris with proceeds going to the Ronald McDonald House. He also recorded a demonstration tape "I'm On It" and plans to take the tape to radio stations hoping for some air time in his home state of Florida. But he hopes to move into record producing instead of performing. Alvoid also participated (along with several other Redskins) and appeared in recording artist Prince's Super Bowl rap tribute which was part of CBS' Super Bowl pre-game show. He drives a classic 1962 Chevy Bel Air which became a collector's antique in 1992 on its 30th anniversary. Alvoid attended Manatee High School in Bradenton, FL, lettering in football, basketball and track. He and his wife, Tangie, reside in Centreville, VA.

Up Close

• Tim combined football and track as a freshman and sophomore, but was convinced by Majors that if he wanted to be a complete football player, and not thought of as a trackman who played football, he should concentrate on football only.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ♦ Tim caught a career high 65 passes for 1,211 yards and 9 TDs in 1989.
- ♦ He has averaged 16.8 yards per reception during his career.
- ♦ His 1,211 yards receiving in 1989 is the 2nd most in Bengal history.
- ♦ Tim holds the Bengals single-game receiving mark with 11 catches vs. Detroit in 1989.

How Acquired: Signed as an unrestricted free agent on April 6, 1993.

Games Played/Started: 107/84 [5/5] - CIN 1986 (16/0); 1987 (11/6); 1988 (16/15) [3/3]; 1989 (16/16); 1990 (16/15) [2/2]; 1991 (16/16); 1992 (16/16)

1992 Season: Tim got off to a quick start last season catching 21 passes for 239 yards and 2 touchdowns after just 6 games. However, that quick start didn't last, with the Bengals quarterback situation going through major changes, and the club finished last in the AFC in passing. However, Tim still managed 35 catches for 408 yards and 3 TDs which was tops among Bengals receivers. "He has great speed and isn't afraid of going over the middle," said receivers coach Rennie Simmons. "He's been productive in this league and has proven he can make big plays." Tim's bests last season included 5 catches for 45 yards against the Vikings in Week 4 and 4 catches for 56 yards and 2 touchdowns against the Oilers the next week.

Pro Career: 1991: Tim led the Bengals with 4 touchdown catches and was 2nd on the team with 51 receptions. His season bests included 6 catches in back-to-back weeks at Buffalo and Houston. He also had a big day against Pittsburgh with 3 receptions for 103 yards and against the Redskins with 4 catches for 97 yards. 1990: Tim led the AFC Central Division champions in receiving, catching 43 passes for 737 yards. His top receiving day came against the Raiders with 8 catches for 142 yards. He also had 7 receptions against the Jets and Patriots, including a season-best 163 yards against New England. 1989: Tim enjoyed his most productive NFL season leading the club with a career-high 65 receptions for 1,211 yards and 8 touchdowns. He was 4th in the AFC in yards receiving, 8th in receptions and 8th in total yards from scrimmage with 1,247 yards (36 yards rushing). He had 5 100-yard receiving games including 6 catches for 100 yards vs. Pittsburgh, 5 for 127 yards vs. Tampa Bay, 11 for a career-high 194 yards vs. Detroit 7 for 109 yards vs. Seattle and 6 for 147 vs. Houston. 1988: He took over as the full-time starter on the way to the AFC Championship and a spot in Super Bowl XXIII. His top day came against the Eagles, catching 4 passes for 114 yards, including a 78-yard TD pass. He also caught a TD pass against the Redskins that clinched the best record in the AFC. Tim caught 4 passes in the playoffs, including 2 catches for 23 yards in the Super Bowl loss to the 49ers. 1987: A hamstring injury sidelined Tim for 5 weeks. Primarily a backup at wide receiver, Tim did start 6 games and caught 23 passes for 408 yards. 1986: The 21st player taken overall in the draft (the Bengals 2nd pick of the 1st round), Tim was named to the AFC all-pro team as a kickoff return specialist by Pro Football Weekly.

College, Personal: Regarded by former Tennessee coach Johnny Majors as the best receiver he's ever coached, Tim earned 1st-team all-America honors and left as the Vols' all-time leading receiver. He finished his career with 12 receptions for 2,042 yards and 15 touchdowns, including 50 catches for 947 yards as a senior. Tim came to Tennessee to play both football and track, which is what he did for the 1st 2 years at the school. Tim is from Cleveland, OH, and attended John Hay High School. His hobbies include basketball. He and his wife, Yolanda "Miki," reside in Cincinnati.

Up Close

• Rallo is an avid practitioner in the martial arts of Tae Kwon Do. He currently holds a blue belt, and had plans this past offseason to move up another degree.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ He was chosen to the UPI all-NFC team in 1991.
- ❖ Rallo has played both guard positions, center and left tackle during his career.
- ❖ He started at left tackle in Super Bowl XXII and left guard in Super Bowl XXVI.

How Acquired: Selected in 11th round of 1985 draft (290th overall).

Veteran Players

Games Played/Started: 112/81 [13/10] - 1985 (6/0); 1986 (15/5) [3/0]; 1987 (12/12) [3/3]; 1988 (16/14); 1989: (15/8); 1990 (16/12) [2/2]; 1991 (16/14) [3/3]; 1992 (16/16) [2/2]

1992 Season: What would the Redskins do without Raleigh is often asked around Redskin Park. In one 4-week stretch, Rallo started at center, left tackle, left guard and then back to center. "It's a tribute to him," said offensive line coach Jim Hanifan. "It takes quite a bit to do what he does. We ask him to move from position to position, and there is never a drop in performance. I wish we could just leave him at a position and leave him alone. Maybe he would get the recognition that he deserves." Once again Rallo proved to be the Redskins most versatile offensive linemen. And in a season when injuries depleted the offensive line throughout the year, Rallo answered the roll call for every game. He opened the year as the club's starting left guard. That lasted for 4 games before an season-ending rotator cuff injury to Jeff Bostic moved Rallo to center. He started the next 6 weeks at center, but an injury to Joe Jacoby forced another line shuffle and Rallo found himself starting at left tackle in Week 11 at New Orleans and then left guard the following week against the Cardinals. Finally, the next week, Rallo was back at center against the Giants and remained there the rest of the season and throughout the playoffs.

Pro Career: 1991: Rallo started the last 14 games of the year and all 3 postseason contests at left guard. He was selected to the UPI all-NFC team. He was named offensive player of the week by coaches in the divisional play-off win over Atlanta and vs. Cincinnati in Week 4. He also played center vs. Philadelphia in the 2nd half when Jeff Bostic left with an injured Achilles. 1990: One series of plays in the Week 6 win over Philadelphia epitomized Raleigh's value when, on 4 consecutive plays, he played right guard, moved over to center for an injured Jeff Bostic, then switched to left guard for Russ Grimm and then back to right guard. Raleigh started 9 straight games at right guard before switching to the left side in Week 14 at New England when he replaced an injured Grimm. He remained throughout the rest of the season and into the playoffs. 1989: Raleigh was asked to be the offensive line's jack-of-all-trades, filling in for 4 former Pro Bowlers at 4 different spots along the line (all but right tackle). Raleigh got his 1st start in Week 9 vs. Dallas, filling in for Russ Grimm at left guard, and remained a member of the starting unit for the rest of the season. 1988: Raleigh showed his trademark versatility and toughness. After starting the season at left guard, Rallo moved to center in Week 3, and then back to guard in Week 6. 1987: Raleigh was the Redskins' only offensive lineman to play every play. He also never missed a practice. Minnesota Vikings defensive end Keith Millard said of Rallo: "He's the best offensive lineman I faced all season." 1986: Raleigh earned his 1st NFL start in San Diego and was named offensive player of the game. He started 3 of 5 games in which the line didn't allow a sack. Raleigh was used as a blocking back at times in the NFC championship game against the Giants. 1985: One of the surprises of training camp, his biggest moment came in Week 15 against Cincinnati when he threw the key block that sprung George Rogers 34 yards for the winning touchdown.

College, Personal: Raleigh's coach at Tennessee, Johnny Majors, called him "one of the best offensive linemen I've ever been around." Raleigh played mostly center for the Vols, and culminated his career with an appearance in the Japan Bowl all-star game. Raleigh's twin brother, Reggie, who was born 3 minutes before him, played linebacker at Tennessee and played in the NFL with the Raiders and Cardinals. He has a football camp in Knoxville sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Dept., and the Knoxville Sentinel. He also takes instruction in the martial arts of Tae Kwon Do and has a Blue Belt. Raleigh hails from Knoxville, and attended Austin-East High School, where he played fullback and inside linebacker. Raleigh finished 3rd in his class at Austin-East, while twin brother Reggie was the class valedictorian. Rallo and his wife, Martha, have a daughter, Rachel, and a son, Raleigh, Jr., and they reside in Herndon, VA.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Ron has started the last 7 postseason games for the Redskins.
- ❖ He caught 3 passes in 1989 playoff against Buffalo, including a TD, as a Cleveland Brown.
- ❖ He caught a career-high 7 passes in 1992.

How Acquired: Signed as a Plan B free agent March 14, 1990.

Games Played/Started: 83/36 [9/7] - ATL 1986 (16/3); 1987 (12/4); WASH 1988 (2/0); CLE 1989 (9/0) [2/0]; WASH 1990 (16/15) [2/2]; 1991 (12/12) [3/3]; 1992 (16/12) [2/2]

1992 Season: After a defensive back or linebacker re-adjusts their chin strap after a bone-crunching block by Ron, they're a little surprised to look up and see a jersey number not beginning with a 7 or a 6. But at 6-2, 270, Ron's not your average 80-numbers type player. "Ron is definitely not your average tight end," said tight ends coach Russ Grimm. "He's got the size of a guard or tackle and can block like one, too. He's a big key to the success of our running game. He can block, and when we do ask him to catch the ball, he can do that." Ron has done everything that the Redskins have asked him to do. He was one of 2 players (Raleigh McKenzie) to win 3 coaches' Player of the Week honors. Used primarily as a blocking tight end in the Redskin game plan, Ron did catch a career-high 7 passes for 50 yards last season. He caught a career-high 3 passes for 23 yards at Philadelphia in Week 15. Ron also caught a pass in each of the Redskins playoff games.

Pro Career: 1991: When Donnie Warren broke his ankle in training camp, Ron responded well to the challenge of being a starter. The Redskins didn't know how big until a sprained knee (Week 12 vs. Dallas) put Ron on the inactive list for the final 4 games of the regular season. Before his injury, the Redskins averaged 132.7 yards per game rushing. In the 4 games he missed, the Skins averaged 114.3 yards on the ground. With his return in the playoffs, the rushing game again jumped to 134.7 yards a game against the NFL's top teams. 1990: The 4th time proved to be the charm for Ron and the Redskins. Three times before, 1988 and 1989, Ron had been waived by the Skins. When Ron was left unprotected on Plan B by the Browns, the Redskins made sure they didn't make the same mistake again, and signed him. Playing as a run-blocking specialist, Ron started 5 games in the regular season and also added 2 starts in both playoff games. 1989: Ron's well traveled season began in the Redskins' training camp before being waived. He then signed with Tampa Bay, was waived, and hooked on with Cleveland where he played in 9 games for the Browns. While mainly noted as an excellent blocker, Ron did catch 3 passes in Cleveland's divisional playoff win over Buffalo, including a TD grab. 1988: After being waived by Atlanta in preseason, Ron was signed on 2 different occasions by the Redskins and saw action on special teams in 2 games. 1987: Ron started 4 games while playing in 12 games in his last season in Atlanta. 1986: Ron signed with Atlanta as a free agent and caught 6 passes as a rookie.

Hog Tied

One of the hardest hit positions by injuries in 1992 was the Redskins offensive line. Despite facing drastic line juggling due to injuries all season, the Hogs still allowed the second fewest sacks in the league with 22.

College, Personal: Ron caught 10 passes for 133 yards at Auburn. The Tigers were 37-12 with 4 bowl appearances during his career and he was named the club's MVP as a junior and senior. Bo Jackson called Ron his "Insurance Policy" when they both were teammates at Auburn. His best friend while at Auburn was Charles Barkley of the Phoenix Suns. He is a native of Atmore, AL, and played at Escambia County High School. A pre-law major at Auburn, Ron hopes to attend law school. Ron and his wife, Kim, have a son, Ron Allen II, 4, and reside in Hendersonville, TN.

• Not only does Brian love to eat native Louisiana Cajun cuisine, but he loves to cook. His specialty is shrimp and crawfish etouffee.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Brian returned 2 punt returns for touchdowns (69 vs. Detroit and 66 vs. Cincinnati) in 1991 (tied team record).
- ❖ His 3 career punt returns for TDs is a club record.
- ❖ Brian gained 209 total yards in the Vikings playoff game last year, including 109 yards rushing. He followed that up with 152 total yards the next playoff game at San Francisco.
- ❖ He threw a lateral to Desmond Howard on a punt return that resulted in a 55-yard touchdown run last season.
- ❖ He was 2nd in the NFL in 1991 with a 13.3-yard punt return average (3rd highest in team history).
- ❖ His 11.4-yard career-punt return average is the 2nd best in team history.
- ❖ Brian has played running back, quarterback, punt returner, kick returner and plays on all coverage teams.

How Acquired: Selected in 5th round of 1990 draft (130th overall).

Games Played/Started: 47/0 [7/0] - 1990 (15/0) [2/0]; 1991 (16/0) [3/0]; 1992 (16/0) [2/0]

1992 Season: In an era of specialists, Brian is a throwback to the days when players were expected to play more than one position...in the same game. "Brian is one of those guys who can do whatever is needed of him," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier. "He wants to be in there on everything. He wants his hands on the ball. I know he wants to play safety on defense just to be on the field the entire game." In no game were those many talents showcased more than the Vikings playoff game. He returned a punt 54 yards. He ran 38 yards on a fake punt that eventually set up his own 8-yard touchdown run. He completed a lateral pass on a kickoff. He rushed for 109 yards on 16 carries. He caught 3 passes for 16 yards. In all, Brian gained 209 total yards. Another sampling of his versatility came in the Phoenix game in Week 12. He lined up at quarterback twice and darted through the Cardinals defense for gains of 8 and 17 yards. And in Week 2 vs. the Falcons, not only did Brian return 1 kickoff for 33 yards, he returned punts for 22 and 14 yards and threw a perfect cross field lateral to Desmond Howard on a punt return that resulted in a 55-yard TD run. As a returner, Brian finished 6th in the NFC in punt returns with a 9.3-yard average and 8th in kickoff returns with a 21.4-yard average. In addition, he had an 84-yard TD punt return in Week 8 vs. the Giants (2nd longest in the NFL). He also had 6 of the team's top 8 kick returns (47, 47, 43, 33, 32, 30) and 4 of the team's 5 longest punt returns (84, 32, 22, 16). Brian also was a standout on coverage teams. He finished 1st on the team with 22 special teams tackles and 5th with 59 total hits.

Pro Career: 1991: In the season opener, he broke a 69-yard punt return for a touchdown against the Lions (the 1st by a Redskin in regular season since Mike Nelms in 1981). In Week 3 he broke a 70-yarder vs. Phoenix for a score, but it was called back because of a penalty. The following week he broke a 66-yarder for a touchdown vs. Cincinnati. He became the 1st Redskin (only the 2nd in team history), to return 2 punts for touchdowns in a single-season since 1981 (Nelms was the other). Brian finished the year 2nd in the NFL in punt returns with a 13.3-yard average (3rd highest in team history and the best since Eddie Brown in 1976). His 600 yards in punt returns led the NFL and was the 2nd most in club history. Brian finished 8th in the NFC in kickoff returns with a 20.1-yard average and was named to the AP all-Pro 2nd team, College and Pro Football Newsweekly NFL all-Pro 1st team and Football News all-NFC. 1990: The 1st time Brian touched the ball as a pro, he returned the opening kickoff of preseason 92 yards for a touchdown against Atlanta. At various times during his rookie season, Brian played running back, quarterback and returned both kicks

When both Jeff Rutledge and Stan Humphries went down with injuries against Philadelphia on Monday Night, Brian took over the signal caller duties. In his only series, he directed the Skins to a touchdown, completing 3 passes for 40 yards and had 2 rushes for 11 yards, including a 1-yard touchdown keeper. In his most extensive duty at running back, he rushed a season-high 7 times for 36 yards against the Dolphins in Week 12.

College, Personal: Brian became the first player in NCAA history to pass for over 5,000 yards (5,447) and run over 3,000 yards (3,335) during his career. Brian also held the NCAA record for rushing touchdowns by a quarterback with 47. As a senior, he rushed for 1,311 yards and passed for 1,966 yards. He totaled 25 touchdowns (6 passing, 19 rushing) and 3,277 yards in offense. As a junior, Brian was chosen the state's outstanding collegiate football player, when he totaled 2,550 yards in offense (1,897 passing, 743 rushing). Brian also rushed for 15 touchdowns and tossed 9 TD passes. He was named to the all-America Fight Against Drugs Team by the Maxwell Football Club of Philadelphia. Besides a football scholarship, he was offered a chemical engineering scholarship. He won a Dow Chemical grant at SW Louisiana and scored 28 out of a possible 35 on his ACT college board test. Brian completed an outstanding prep career at Plaquemine (LA) High School leading the team to the state title and was selected the state's offensive player of the year. He majored in management at SW Louisiana. He is the youngest of 7 children in his family. Brian and his wife, Monica, reside in Centreville, VA.

- Art was one of 14 outstanding citizens chosen by the Washingtonian as its 1992 Washingtonians of the Year.
- He has performed with the National Symphony Orchestra, reciting children's fairy tales with musical accompaniment.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Art is the NFL's all-time leading receiver with 847 career receptions.
- ❖ Art was selected to 3 straight Pro Bowls from 1984-86.
- ❖ He caught a league record 106 catches in 1984.
- ❖ Art enters the season with a reception in 148 straight games (3rd all-time).
- ❖ He has surpassed 1,000 yards receiving 5 times.
- ❖ Art has surpassed 50 catches in a season 9 times and only Steve Largent, with 10 has had more in NFL history.

How Acquired: Selected in 1st round of 1980 draft (18th overall).

Games Played/Started: 189/172 [15/14] - 1980 (16/10); 1981 (16/16); 1982 (9/9); 1983 (12/11) [3/3]; 1984 (16/16) [1/1]; 1985 (15/14); 1986 (16/16) [3/3]; 1987 (9/9) [1/0]; 1988 (16/13); 1989 (16/12); 1990 (16/16) [2/2]; 1991 (16/16) [3/3]; 1992 (16/14) [2/2]

1992 Season: Catch No. 820 that etched Art's name in the NFL record book as the league's all-time receiving leader was vintage Art Monk. It was precise. It was a meticulous 10-yard grab in the 4th quarter against the Denver Broncos on Monday Night that moved Art past Steve Largent. Like the previous 819, it came with quiet excellence. "He's more than just his receptions," said head coach Richie Petitbon. "Few players have been able to achieve what he's achieved." Now his 847 career receptions in 13 seasons will be the barometer by which all other receivers will be judged. His 11,962 career yards rank 5th on the NFL career list. And there's more. Much more. He has caught a pass in 148-consecutive regular season games (began Oct. 2, 1983 vs. Raiders) which is 3rd on the all-time list (Ozzie Newsome is 2nd with 150 and Largent is 1st at 177). Art holds club records for most career receptions (847), yards (11,628), receptions in a season (106-2nd most in NFL history), most passes caught in a game (13 twice) and most combined net yards (11,961 = 11,628 receiving/333 rushing). Besides his record-setting catch against Denver, Art finished the game with a season-high 7 catches for 69 yards and was named NFC Offensive Player of the Week. He also had a big day the following week vs. the Eagles catching 6 passes for 96 yards. And after catching only 3 balls from Weeks 13-15, Art ended the year on a high note catching 3 passes for a season-best 97 yards, including a 49-yard touchdown grab against the Raiders.

Pro Career: 1991: Art led the team and finished 5th in the NFC with 71 catches for 1,049 yards and equaled a career-best 8 touchdown receptions. Against Atlanta in Week 10, Art caught 7 passes for a season high 164 yards (5th best single-game total of his career) and his 64-yard TD reception against the Falcons was the 4th longest catch of his career. The following week at Pittsburgh, Art caught a season-high 8 passes for 130 yards and 1 TD (he also had 8 catches vs. Houston). Among Art's milestone receptions, number 751 (which passed Charlie Joiner for 2nd place all-time) was a 14-yard TD grab against the Browns in Week 7. He finished the Cleveland game with 7 catches for 106 yards and was named the NFC Offensive Player of the Week. In the Super Bowl, he was simply superb. He caught 7 passes for 113 yards and had a 2-yard TD reception reversed by the replay official. 1990: Art became only the 3rd player in NFL history to reach 700 career receptions (joining Steve Largent and Charlie Joiner) as he finished the year with 68 receptions. Five times he surpassed 60+ yards in receptions, including a 13-catch, 168-yard effort at Detroit. His 13 grabs vs. the Lions tied his own Redskin record. His 10 catches for 92 yards and 2 touchdowns ignited the Redskins 42-20 win over Miami. Trailing Philadelphia 6-0 in the Wild Card playoff game and facing a 3rd-and-9 from the Skins' 33, Art came up with a clutch 28-yard reception. Two plays later, his 16-yard touchdown catch gave the Skins a lead they would not relinquish in the 20-6 win. He followed that with 10 catches for 163 yards and 1 touchdown in the NFC divisional playoff at San Francisco. 1989: Art moved to 3rd on the NFL career receiving list, catching a team high 86 passes for 1,186 yards. Art had his best game of the year in a 31-14 win over the Bears. He had 9 catches for 152 yards and 2 second-half touchdowns to ignite a 5-game Redskins winning streak. It was one of 4 100-yard days for Monk. His 9-catch performance for 81 yards against San Diego pushed him past Charley Taylor as the Redskins all-time reception leader. His 60-yard touchdown catch against Atlanta ignited a 21-point third-quarter rally as the Redskins beat Atlanta 31-30. During the Skins' closing 5-game winning streak, Art caught 35 passes for 478 yards and 4 touchdowns.

1988: Art caught 72 passes, and of those, 10 were 25 yards or longer. Art caught 9 passes in a game twice - in Week 2 against Pittsburgh (86 yards) and Week 12 in San Francisco (89 yards). His biggest yardage day came in Week 15 against Dallas (7 catches, 103 yards).

1987: Art finished the regular season with 38 catches for 523 yards despite missing the last 3 regular season games and 2 playoff games with torn ligaments in his right knee. Art returned for Super Bowl XXII, and his 40-yard catch with 8 minutes left in the 1st quarter was Doug Williams' 1st completion, and set the tone for the day. 1986: Art became the 1st receiver in Redskin history to register 3 straight 1,000-yard seasons and to catch 70-or-more passes 3 straight times. His 1,068 yards ranked 3rd in the NFC and his 73 catches ranked 6th. 1985: Art's 91 receptions were 2nd in the NFL and his 1,226 yards ranked 3rd. He registered 6 100-yard games in the last 8. He made his 2nd straight Pro Bowl appearance.

1984: Art caught a league record 106 passes, breaking the mark of 101 set by the Oilers'

Charlie Hennigan in 1964. He caught 8-or-more passes in 6 games and had 5 100-yard games. In Week 2 against San Francisco, he caught 10 passes for 200 yards, becoming only the 4th receiver in Redskin history to hit the 200-yard mark. He was voted the team's MVP and was selected to the Pro Bowl. 1983: Art missed the first 4 games with a sprained knee but returned to start the final 11 regular-season games. He finished with 47 catches for 746 yards (2nd on the team in both categories) and added 8 catches for 121 yards in the playoffs. 1982: After leading the team during the regular season with 35 receptions (447 yards), Art missed the Redskins drive to the Super Bowl with a broken foot, which he suffered in the final regular season game against the Cardinals. 1981: Art's 894 yards receiving were the most by a Redskin since 1967. He led receivers in touchdowns with 6 and scored a 79-yarder against St. Louis. He finished 2nd on the club with 56 catches and a 16-yard per catch average. 1980: As the club's 1st No. 1 draft choice since 1968, Art was a unanimous selection to the NFL's all-rookie team and broke the club's rookie receiving record, which previously was set by Charley Taylor in 1964. Art finished with 58 catches (10th in the NFC) for 797 yards and 3 touchdowns. He received his 1st NFL start in Week 7 against St. Louis at RFK.

College, Personal: A triple threat at Syracuse, Art set receiving records with 102 receptions for 1,644 yards, rushed for 1,140 yards and gained 1,105 yards in returns for a total of 3,889 yards. Art never missed a game or a practice in 4 seasons at Syracuse. At White Plains (NY) High School, Art was a national interscholastic champion in the 33-yard intermediate hurdles in 1976. Off the field, Art is an avid fisherman. At Super Bowl XXVI in Minneapolis he went ice fishing along with Chip Lohmiller, Monte Coleman and Earnest Byner. Art also operates a successful football camp at Western Maryland University for kids during the summer. At one time he owned a graphic art business and will probably head into that direction, along with magazine design, when his playing days are over. He's also a computer enthusiast. Selected as one of the 1992 Washingtonians of the Year, Art was honored with the award because of his commitment to area children. He is co-sponsor of the "I Have a Dream" program for 60 students from DC's Terrell Elementary School. The program guarantees a college education to all of the kids and provides tutors, testing and other support. He has tutored at the Winston Educational Center and helped the Black Student Scholarship Fund. He also has created a scholarship each year at White Plains High School in New York. He has delivered groceries for Project Harvest at Thanksgiving and read to youngsters at Martin Luther King Library for the Read to Achieve program. He also has started a foundation that gets food, clothing, books and educational supplies to people in need. He is a second cousin to the late renowned jazz musician Thelonious Monk and he played the tuba in junior high school band. Art and his wife, Desiree, have 3 children: James Arthur, Jr., 10, Danielle, 9, and Monica Andrea, 6, and they reside in Great Falls, VA.

- Darryl and nicknames seem to go hand-in-hand with the Redskins. His teammates call him Slurpie, Big Moe and Cakemix.
- He also does volunteer work at nursing homes.

How Acquired: Selected in 8th round of 1992 draft (224th overall)

Games Played/Started: 0/0 - 1992 (Practice Squad)

1992 Season: Darryl's high expectations were temporarily put on hold when a training camp back injury forced the Skins to put him on the Physically Unable to Perform list. Although, forced to miss valuable training camp time, Darryl had the opportunity to learn the Redskins system and was a valued practice player during the regular season.

College/Personal: Darryl anchored UTEP's offensive line as a senior and earned 1st team all-WAC honors. A late season switch from guard to tackle as a junior, Darryl still managed to earn honorable mention honors after transferring to UTEP after 2 seasons at Tyler (TX) Junior College. While at Tyler, he was named a junior college all-America at guard and tackle. He enjoys cooking native Cajun dishes, including gumbo and etouffee. Darryl earned all-state honors at Minden High School in his hometown of Minden, LA. One of 6 children, he has a brother and 4 sisters. Darryl majored in criminal justice at UTEP. He resides in Ashburn, VA.

- Al's wife, Kathi, is a member of the popular singing group, "The Jets." The group sang at halftime of last year's Redskins-Vikings playoff game in Minneapolis.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Al posted a career-high 11 1/2 sacks in 1989.
- ❖ He has averaged 59 tackles over the last 4 seasons.
- ❖ Al returned an interception 26 yards for a TD vs. Detroit in 1990.
- ❖ He recovered a fumble in the end zone for a TD vs. Green Bay in 1990.

How Acquired: Signed as an unrestricted free agent on April 21, 1993.

Games Played/Started: 73/56 [4/2] - MIN 1988 (9/1) [2/0]; 1989 (16/15) [1/1]; 1990 (16/16); 1991 (16/8); 1992 (16/16) [1/1]

1992 Season: Al solidified his reputation as one of the NFL's most complete defensive linemen coming up with 54 tackles and 9 sacks. "We have always been impressed with him," said defensive line coach Torgy Torgeson. "He is strong and quick. He's proven he can rush the passer." His season bests included 8 tackles and 3 sacks against the 49ers in Week 14 and 5 tackles and 2 sacks against the Lions in Week 6. He also had 7 tackles at Chicago in Week 8.

Pro Career: 1991: He finished with 54 tackles and had a sack in each game vs. Denver, Phoenix and the Rams. 1990: Al started all 16 games and posted a career-high 65 tackles and was 4th on the club with 6 sacks. He was named the NFC defensive player of the week for his play vs. Green Bay when he recorded 6 tackles, a sack, and forced a fumble which he recovered in the end zone for a touchdown. Earlier in the year he had his first career pass interception vs. Detroit, which he returned 26 yards for a TD. 1989: Al finished 9th in the NFC and 13 in the NFL with a career-high 11 1/2 sacks. He had a season-high 9 tackles, including 2 1/2 sacks and 1 forced fumble vs. Detroit. He had 2 sacks and a fumble recovery in the rematch with the Lions and 2 sacks and a forced fumble vs. the Giants. 1988: Al missed games 6 through 11 while on the non-football injury list with a viral infection. He was primarily used on special teams and had his only start in the season opener against Buffalo. He was the 71st player selected overall in the 5th round by the Vikings.

College, Personal: Al became the 1st player in the University of Hawaii history to be named all-America when chosen by AP after his sophomore season. He also earned all-conference and WAC Defensive Player of the Year as a sophomore after setting Hawaii single-season records for sacks (17), tackles for loss (31) and forced fumbles (6). He also earned all-America honors and 1st-team all-conference honors as a senior and was one of 16 finalists for the Outland Trophy. Al was an all-conference selection as a freshman when he led the team in sacks with 8. A four-year starter for the Rainbows, he holds school career records for sacks (33), tackles for loss (70) and forced fumbles (15). Born Alapati Nogo in American Samoa, his family moved to Hawaii when he was 2 years old. He was an all-state noseguard and was selected as the lineman of the year at Farrington Senior High School in Honolulu. He also was the state shot put champion as a senior. His older brother, Niko, is a veteran linebacker who has played with the Cardinals, Lions and Raiders and another brother, Pete, played with the Cardinals. He and his wife, Kathi, reside in Eden Prairie, MN.

• Terry is a board member of the Black Patriots Foundation, whose goal is to build a monument on the National Mall honoring Black Patriots of the American Revolution.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Terry caught a career-high 22 receptions in 1992.
- ❖ Terry caught a career-high 4 TD passes in 1991 on just 10 receptions.
- ❖ He has caught 7 TD passes over the past 2 seasons on just 32 catches.
- ❖ Terry has averaged a TD catch every 5.2 receptions during his career.
- ❖ 23 of his last 33 receptions have resulted in a TD or a 1st down.

How Acquired: Selected in 10th round of 1985 draft (263rd overall). Re-acquired as a free agent on August 27, 1991.

Games Played/Started: 99/20 [11/1] - WASH 1986 (16/1) [3/0]; 1987 (10/1) [3/0]; 1988 (16/3); 1989 (16/1); 1990 (2/0); SD 1990 (9/0); WASH 1991 (16/7) [3/0]; 1992 (16/7) [2/1]

1992 Season: Whenever talking about Terry's value to the Redskins, the words leader, good blocker and top notch special teams player are often uttered. But last year, big play receiver became a handy catch phrase when talking about Terry's contributions to the club. "Terry works hard, studies hard and prepares himself so well," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier. "He knows his leadership role and the team always comes first. He's a professional in every sense of the word." And that leadership was more valued last year than at any time in Terry's career with the Redskins. When the offense went into Seattle in Week 9 mired in a slump, it was Terry who sparked the 16-3 win by catching 3 passes for 82 yards, including a 26-yard TD grab that ended a 15-quarter touchdown drought. He also had catches of 46 and 10 yards. Terry also caught touchdown passes in back-to-back weeks against the Giants and Cowboys. He also had 3 catches at New Orleans and Phoenix (Week 12). When the dust had settled, Terry had caught a career-high 22 passes for 356 yards and a team-best 16.2-yard average. And as usual, Terry provided his usual steady play on special teams, finishing 3rd with 14 special teams tackles and tied for 3rd with 84 total hits.

Pro Career: 1991: He caught 10 passes for a team-high 20.1 yards per catch. But more importantly, 4 of those 10 grabs went for touchdowns and 6 receptions were for 22 yards or longer. Terry once again was a valuable member of the Redskins special teams. He finished 6th on the team with 71 total hits and was 5th on the team with 16 kickoff coverage tackles.

1990: Terry played 2 games with the Redskins before being released on Oct. 15. Signed by San Diego on Oct. 26, Terry played 9 games with the Chargers. In his 1st outing in Week 8, he had 5 special teams hits and recovered a Tampa Bay fumbled kick return on the 15-yard line. 1989: When the Redskins were in trouble at New Orleans late in the 3rd quarter, it was Terry's 48-yard 3rd-down catch that set up the Skins' only touchdown in the come-from-behind win. Terry also excelled on special teams with 84 total hits (2nd on the club). 1988:

Given a chance at full-time status when an eye injury sidelined Craig McEwen in Week 13, Terry caught 7 passes for 148 yards and 2 touchdowns in his 3 starts. The first touchdown catch came in the 4th quarter against Philadelphia, putting the Redskins in position to win on a last second field goal. A week later he grabbed a 55-yard touchdown pass against the Cowboys. 1987: Special teams were Terry's forte, but a 3-catch day against Minnesota proved crucial in a win over the Vikings. The 1st half of the season was lost when a shoulder injury forced him on injured reserve prior to the season opener. As a kick returner, Terry had 4 returns for 62 yards. 1986: Terry had only 3 catches as a rookie, but made the most of his chances. A 22-yard touchdown catch against the Cardinals provided the spark for a 20-17 Redskins win.

College, Personal: Terry was a running back at Texas. The statistics tell the tale - 274 attempts for 1,279 yards (4.7) and 11 touchdowns. Most of the total (580 yards) came his senior season, but Terry also rushed for 265 yards as a junior. The brightest moment was an 82-yard gallop against TCU. Terry is part owner of a significant letter, typewritten and signed by Malcolm X, just 5 months before his death, to author Alex Haley, who collaborated with the black leader on The Autobiography of Malcolm X. Terry also was a co-chairman of the 24 Challenge Math Program with over 120,000 area students participating. Terry attended Cooper High School in Abilene. Terry earned a bachelor's degree in speech communications. He and his wife, Rita, have 2 sons, Terrance, II, 3, and Zachary, 1, and they reside in Ashburn, VA.

Redskins on Monday Night Football

The Redskins will be making three regular season appearances on Monday Night Football this year. Since 1970, the Redskins have appeared on ABC Monday Night Football 40 times (the most by any NFC team and the third most in the NFL behind Miami and the Raiders) and are 21-19 overall. The Redskins are one of only four NFC teams (Dallas, San Francisco and Philadelphia) that own a winning record on Monday Night. The Redskins are 14-6 at home and 7-13 away on Monday Night.

BOONE POWELL

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

56 • LB • 2nd Yr. • 6-3 • 237 • Texas • 09/04/68

Up Close

- A studio art major at Texas, Boone plans on pursuing a career in advertsing design.
- He also enjoys drawing and painting in his spare time.

How Acquired: Selected in 9th round of 1992 draft (252nd overall).

Games Played/Started: 1992 (IR)

1992 Season: Hoping to make the defending Super Bowl champions roster as a 9th round draft pick, Boone's season came to a screeching halt in the preseason opener against the Dolphins. Boone tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee, which required reconstructive surgery, and was lost for the season.

College, Personal: A 2-year starter at linebacker for the Longhorns, Boone had a stellar senior season. He finished with 76 tackles (42 solos), 2 sacks, 1 interception and 2 pass deflections. As a junior he finished the year with 49 tackles, 1 sack and 2 interceptions. As the Longhorns' top reserve as a sophomore, Boone came up with 44 tackles, the most on the team by a non-starter. Rated as one of the top defensive players in the Dallas-Fort Worth area at Duncanville High School, Boone was an all-district pick as a senior. He majored in studio art at Texas and resides in Arlington, VA.

- Jim, along with his brother, own their own business in South Carolina. They operate Hot Spring Spas, and own exclusive rights to the entire state.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Jim caught a career-high 11 passes in 1992.
- ❖ He played in Super Bowl XXIII with the Bengals.

How Acquired: Signed as an unrestricted free agent on May 6, 1993.

Games Played/Started: 79/5 [5/0] - 1987 (9/0); 1988 (16/1) [3/0]; 1989 (10/1); 1990 (16/0) [2/0]; 1991 (16/1); 1992 (12/2)

1992 Season: Jim was having the best season of his career, catching a career-high 11 passes, before an ankle sprain suffered against Pittsburgh in Week 12 sidelined him for the remainder of the year.

Pro Career: 1991: Mainly used as a blocker, Jim caught 4 passes, while seeing action in all 16 games for the 2nd straight year. He also had 2 kick returns for 28 yards. 1990: Jim again was cast in the same role as key blocker in the Bengals offense. He played in all 16 games, plus both Cincinnati playoff games. 1989: Jim's season was cut short by 6 games when he tore a hamstring before the season opener. He returned in Week 10 and caught 5 passes over the final 7 weeks of the season. 1988: Jim saw action in all 16 games, included his 1st career start, as he had a hand in helping the Bengals win the AFC Championship. He caught a career-high 9 passes for 82 yards. 1987: Jim played in 9 games during his strike shortened rookie season seeing most of his action on special teams. He was the Bengals 4th round selection and 103rd player taken overall.

College, Personal: An all-ACC and honorable mention all-American at Clemson, Jim caught 49 passes for 650 yards and 1 touchdown during his Tiger career. A diligent worker in the weight room, he was named to the NCAA Strength all-America team. He received his bachelor's of science degree in economics and marketing. Jim was a quarterback and defensive end at Scotland High School in Laurinburg, NC. His hobbies include hunting, fishing and golf. He and his wife, Liz, reside in Laurinburg.

- Ted graduated with a degree in history and works on Capitol Hill during the offseason for Massachusetts US Rep. Robert Moakley on the House Rules Committee.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent April 29, 1991.

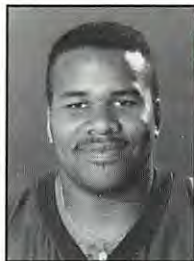

Games Played/Started: 0/0 - 1991 (Practice Squad); 1992 (IR)

1992 Season: If Ted tested the waters as a rookie free agent, he was ready to take the full plunge in his second season. As he headed to Carlisle, PA., bigger and stronger, Ted had plenty of expectations. With the retirement of middle linebacker Matt Millen during the offseason, a roster spot was vacant as a backup at linebacker. What he didn't count on was spraining his right knee in the preseason opener against the Dolphins and spending the entire season on injured reserve. "Ted has flashed some positive play," said assistant head coach Larry Peccatiello. "He showed us something his rookie year and last year. Now he's got to stay healthy and do the right things NFL style to make the team."

College, Personal: Ted attended tiny Williams College, known more for producing US Presidents, Pulitzer and Noble Peace Prize winners than NFL football players. Still, Ted became one of the school's most decorated athletes, earning ECAC and New England Small College Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year awards as a junior and senior. He also won the Bulger Lowe Award as the Best Defensive Player in New England (all divisions). Ted also earned Kodak Division III all-America honors as a senior and was a Pizza Hut Division III all-America 3 times, as well as an all-ECAC and all-New England selection. Ted also helped the school post the nation's longest winning streak among all NCAA divisions. Ted grew up a Redskin fan in nearby Bethesda, MD, and attended Landon School where he was a standout football and lacrosse player. His father, George, was a national junior tennis champion, at the age of 18. Ted resides in Arlington, VA.

- Ray spent his summers while attending San Diego State behind the wheel of a car. He taught driver education at Mira Mesa High School.
- Ray was born in Rota, Spain.

Career Highlights

- ❖ Ray had a career-high 7 special teams hits in the Redskins playoff win over Minnesota.

How Acquired: Selected in the 6th round of the 1992 draft (168th overall).

Games Played/Started: 3/0 [2/0] - 1992 (3/0) [2/0]

1992 Season: The Redskins are hoping that this San Diego State tight end can turn in the career that another San Diego Stater turned in for the Redskins from 1979-92. While Donnie Warren's retirement leaves a void in a position that he held down for 14 years, Ray has all the ingredients to be a productive NFL tight end. "Ray has size, he can block and in college he showed the ability to catch the ball," said tight ends coach Russ Grimm. "We ask our tight end to be more of a blocker and Ray has the tools to do that. There's more opportunity for him this year to step up and be a productive player." Waived in the final roster cut, Ray was immediately called back the next day and sent to the team's practice squad to learn and wait his turn. That turn came on December 12, when he was activated to the 47-man roster for the Week 14 game with Dallas. Used almost exclusively on special teams, Ray collected 2 special teams hits in regular season, but stepped up his performance in the playoffs. Against the Vikings in the Wild Card playoff game, Ray had 7 special teams hits.

College, Personal: Ray caught 50 passes for 621 yards and 2 TDs as a 2-year starter at San Diego State. He saved his best for his final year, catching 27 passes for 301 yards and a touchdown. Ray earned all-city and 2nd team all-CIF honors as a tight end his senior year at San Diego's Mira Mesa High School. He also lettered in basketball and track and was ranked among the top 5 shot put and discus throwers in the nation as a prep player. He spent 3 summers teaching drivers education at Mira Mesa while attending San Diego State. A criminal justice major, Ray was born in Rota, Spain. He now resides in Ashburn, VA.

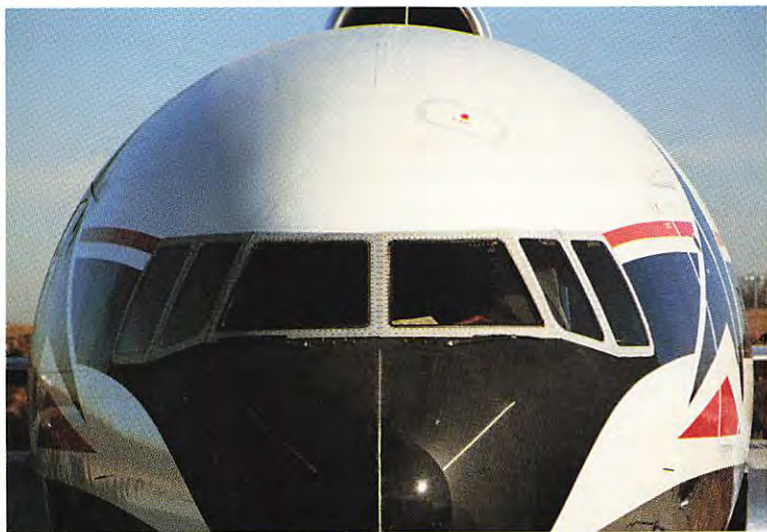

Redskins on the Road

Since 1982, the Redskins own the second-best road record in the NFL with an impressive 53-32-0 (.624) slate. Since 1990, the Skins have won 11 of their last 18 road games (not including three playoff road wins).

Up Close

- Ryp and the "Mark Rypien Motorsport Team" began their 1st season on the NASCAR circuit this season. Ryp's driver is hometown buddy and veteran driver Chad Little.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Ryp was selected Super Bowl XXVI MVP passing for 292 yards and 2 TDs.
- ❖ Ryp has played in 2 Pro Bowls following the 1989 and 1991 seasons.
- ❖ He is 6th on the NFL's all-time leading passing list with a career QB rating of 84.3.
- ❖ He is 42-20 in regular season and 47-22 overall as a starter.
- ❖ He tied a club record throwing 6 TD passes vs. the Falcons in 1991.
- ❖ His 3,768 yards passing in 1989 is the 2nd best mark in Redskins history.

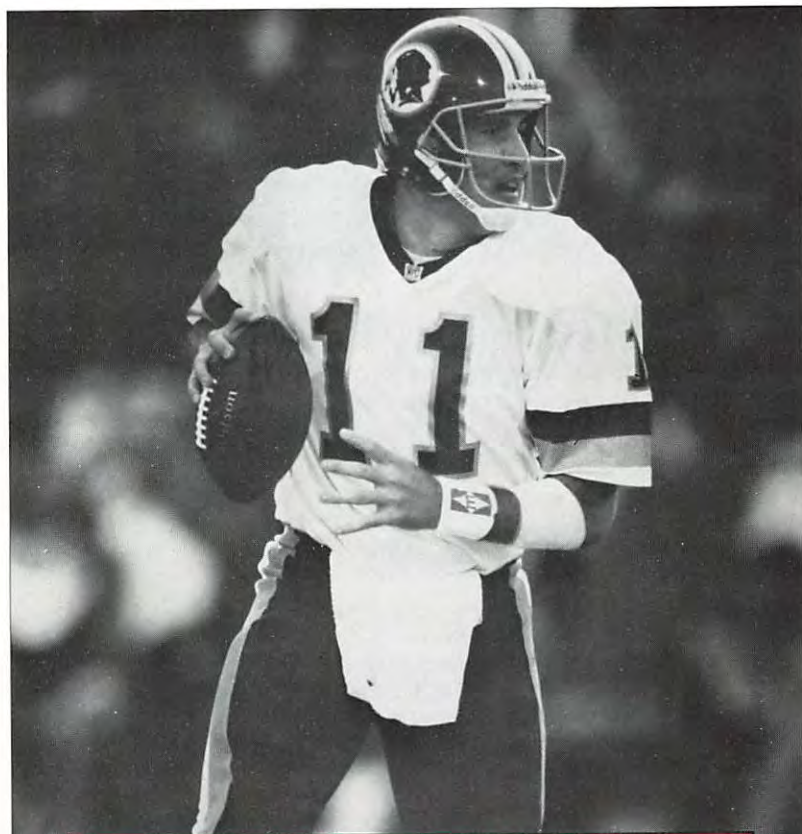

How Acquired: Selected in 6th round of 1986 draft (146th overall).

Games Played/Started: 65/62 [7/7] - 1986 (IR); 1987 (0/0); 1988 (9/6); 1989 (14/14); 1990 (10/10) [2/2]; 1991 (16/16) [3/3]; 1992 (16/16) [2/2]

1992 Season: When talking about quarterbacks, the best place to start is at the bottom line. And the bottom line is winning. "Ultimately a quarterback will be judged by his wins and losses," said offensive coordinator Rod Dowhower, "He has taken this team to the top. Ryp is a competitor. He'll do whatever it takes to win." Heading into the 1993 season, Ryp boasts the NFL's second-best record among starting quarterbacks (Joe Montana 100-39 .719) with a 42-20 (.677) record in regular season and a 47-22 (.681) overall mark including playoffs. Since returning to the Redskins lineup in Week 10 vs. the Saints in 1990 (on IR from Weeks 4-9 with a knee injury), he has guided the Redskins to a 28-11 regular season mark and dating back to Week 12 of the 1989 season, the Redskins are 35-12 in regular season and 40-14 overall with Ryp at the controls. One of only 2 quarterbacks in the NFC to lead his team to the playoffs in each of the past 3 seasons, Ryp has thrown 97 touchdowns and only 65 interceptions. His top day last season came in Week 13 at New York against the Giants when he threw for 216 yards, including 2 touchdowns and was a near perfect 15-for-18. Against Seattle in Week 9, he was 21-30 for 248 yards and 1 touchdown, connecting on 16 of his last 20 attempts. In the 49ers playoff loss, Ryp took a hit on his right shoulder that required an offseason scope

Pro Career: 1991: Mark went out and produced the second-best quarterback rating (97.9) in Redskins history, the second-best QB rating in the NFL, a +17 touchdown to interception ratio (28 TDs/11 INTs) that was the best in the league, 28 touchdown passes which were the second-best in the NFL (second-best in team history) and 3,564 yards passing which led the NFC. And beyond the individual honors, Ryp answered the challenge and led the Redskins to a 17-2 record and the most coveted of all trophies — the Vince Lombardi Trophy awarded to the Super Bowl champion. In 3 postseason wins, he completed 44 of 79 passes for 690 yards and a 91.2 QB rating. Ryp completed passes of over 45 yards 17 times, 9

Named the NFC Offensive Player of the Week against the Falcons in Week 10, Ryp set career-highs with 442 yards passing (2nd most in team history behind Sammy Baugh's 446 yards), 6 touchdown passes (tied Baugh's team record), including an 82-yard TD pass. Ryp's post-season honors included: Pro Bowl, NFL Films NFC Player of the Year, Football News NFC Player of the Year, Super Bowl XXVI MVP, UPI all-NFC, All-Madden, College and Pro Football Newsweekly NFL all-Pro 1st team, Football News all-NFC 1st team, AP all-Pro 2nd-team, NEA all-Pro 2nd team, Pro Football Weekly all-NFC. 1990: After missing 6 weeks with a sprained left knee sustained Week 3 vs. Dallas, Ryp returned in sterling fashion. He led the Redskins to 5 wins in their last 7 tries and a Wild Card playoff spot. Against New Orleans in Week 10, Ryp completed 26-of-38 passes for 311 yards and 4 touchdowns leading the Skins to a 31-17 victory. He ignited the late season rally and was chosen the NFC Offensive Player of the Week. There were plenty of other high points during the season as well - completing 21 of 28 passes for 245 yards and 3 TDs vs. Miami and 17-of-31 for 240 yards and 3 TDs vs. Phoenix. But Ryp saved his best for Washington's playoff win over Philadelphia. Facing one of the league's best defenses, Mark completed 15-of-31 attempts for 206 yards and 2 TDs. 1989: After a 2-game benching in Weeks 9-10, Mark came back and led the Redskins to 5 straight victories to complete the season while finishing behind only Joe Montana and Jim Everett in NFC passing efficiency. In the final 5 weeks, Ryp completed 108 of 166 passes (65.5 percent) for 1,430 yards, 8 touchdowns and 4 interceptions. After winning the starting job during training camp, he gave way to Doug Williams in Week 9 against Dallas after a series of fumbles. He returned to the starting lineup vs. Denver on Monday Night in Week 11. Saddled with a 5-6 record, and facing the Bears, Ryp completed 30 of 47 passes for 401 yards and 4 touchdowns in a 38-14 romp. And against the Falcons, Ryp capped a 21-point 3rd quarter explosion with a 9-yard TD run on a 4th and 1. In less than 3 quarters of play, he completed 17 of 27 passes for 284 yards in the 31-30 come-from-behind win. His 3,768 yards passing was the second best total ever by a Redskin and only Sonny Jurgensen and Joe Theismann ever completed more than his 280 passes in a single year. 1988: After spending his first 2 professional seasons on injured reserve, Ryp beat out Jay Schroeder in training camp for the No. 2 spot behind Doug

Williams, and led the Redskins offense against the Cardinals in Week 4 when Williams was sidelined with appendicitis. Mark completed 26-of-41 passes 303 yards and 3 touchdowns. A month later the roles were reversed when Mark injured his shoulder at home against the Cardinals after passing for 303 yards and 4 touchdowns in a 35-17 win. He returned to make starts against Cleveland and Philadelphia late in the season. 1987: Mark spent the first 10 weeks on injured reserve after injuring his back in the preseason finale against the Rams. He was activated for the Week 11 contest vs. the Giants and remained on the active roster for the remainder of the year, but did not see any playing time. 1986: Mark impressed coaches in training camp but saw little playing time in preseason, completing 1 of 3 passes for 12 yards. He was placed on IR with a knee injury.

College, Personal: Mark broke his collar bone his sophomore year and did not play before rebounding to earn 1st-team Pac 10 honors as a junior. He completed 134 of 270 passes for 1,927 yards and 14 touchdowns. As a senior, he completed 159 of 273 passes for 2,417 yards and 14 touchdowns. His yardage total was 2nd in school history to Jack Thompson's 2,702. At Shadle Park High School in Spokane, Mark finished as one of the nation's top 10 career passers (423-849 for 6,460 yards and 65 touchdowns) as he broke Chicago Cubs second baseman Ryne Sandberg's city passing record. As a senior, he was all-state in football, basketball and baseball. He led his high school to the state basketball title as a senior and was named the tournament's outstanding player. His younger brother, Tim, played in the Toronto Blue Jays organization and on the Canadian Olympic baseball team. Another brother, Dave, also played on the Canadian national baseball team in the Pan Am Games. Born in Calgary, Ryp's family moved to Spokane at an early age. Mark holds an annual golf tournament that benefits Cystic Fibrosis and he is the national spokesperson for Spina Bifida. He has helped fund Opportunity Park in Bowie, MD, the 1st and only 100% Handicapped Accessible Recreational Facility in the nation. Ryp was presented with the Catholic National Figure Award by Cardinal Hickey. He became the 1st non-tour pro to play in a tour even when he played at the Kemper Open. - ❖ He became only the second player in Redskin history to catch 80 passes in a single season (Monk has done it 3 times) in 1989.

How Acquired: Rights obtained from New England in exchange for a 3rd round draft choice in 1987. Signed August 11, 1986.

Games Played/Started: 97/41 [12/3] - 1986 (10/3) [2/0]; 1987 (12/5) [3/2]; 1988 (12/4); 1989 (16/12); 1990 (16/6) [2/1]; 1991 (16/6) [3/0]; 1992 (15/5) [2/0]

1992 Season: Ricky's role didn't change much from the pervious season. He was still expected to freeze safeties underneath or pull them away on deep patterns freeing up other areas. And since he is also the team's best blocking receiver, he was frequently asked to stay in on maximum protection. Unlike the previous year, Ricky was once again back in the mainstream of the Redskins passing attack. "With the caliber of player that Ricky is, you always want to get him the football," said offensive coordinator Rod Dowhower. "I think that is something we'll want to do more of this season and I wouldn't be surprised to see Ricky post some pretty good numbers." Although a sprained ankle kept him out of the season finale against the Raiders, Ricky finished the season in a flurry leading the team in receiving in 6 of the club's final 9 games. In fact, 28 of his 51 receptions and 415 of his 707 yards receiving came between Weeks 10-15. During those 6 games, Ricky averaged nearly 5 receptions for 69.2 yards a game. He had a season-best 7 catches for 114 yards in Week 15 at the Eagles, including a 62-yard TD catch despite an ankle sprain. His other top efforts included 5-catch games Week 13 at New York and Week 10 at Kansas City

Pro Career: 1991: During Weeks 11 through 14 when the Redskins were making their final push to secure home field advantage throughout the play-offs, Ricky caught a touchdown pass in each game, including a game-clinching 30-yarder vs. the Rams in Week 13 and a game-tying 17-yarder in the 3rd quarter the following week at Phoenix. And in the playoffs, Ricky caught 4 passes for 79 yards, but no catch was bigger than his 2nd quarter 41-yard grab vs. the Bills in Super Bowl XXVI that became the impetus for a 17-point explosion. 1990: After putting together outstanding back-to-back seasons, Ricky's numbers trailed off a bit. Still, his 56 receptions for 727 yards made him a bonafide threat. Ricky caught at least 5 passes in 6 games and had a season-high 11 catches (2nd-best of his career) for 132 yards in a 41-38 overtime win over Detroit. He also had 2 strong outings in the season opener with the Cardinals (6/70/1) and Week 3 vs. Dallas (7/78). 1989: He not only put up big numbers, he came up with big catches. His 45-yard TD grab against the Chargers, with the Redskins trailing 14-0 with :24 seconds remaining in the 1st half, put the Skins into position to win. Ricky had huge numbers in the opener against the Giants (6/143/1), at LA Raiders (12/158/1), and at Atlanta (7/167), while narrowly missing 100 yards against San Diego (4/98/1). In Atlanta, his 68-yard reception to the Falcon 1-yard line sparked a comeback victory. Then at Seattle in the finale, Ricky showed he could play both ends of the passing game when he hit Art Monk with a 32-yard pass completion to set up a Redskin field goal. 1988: His 12 touchdown receptions tied the club record and were the most by a Redskin receiver since 1965. With 73 catches for 1,148 yards, Ricky's teammates selected him as the 1988 most valuable player. After warming up with 5 catches for 79 yards and a touchdown in the opener against the Giants, Ricky caught 5 passes for 145 yards against Pittsburgh, including a 55-yarder for a touchdown. In Week 5 vs. the Giants he caught 7 passes for 141 yards and 2 touchdowns. An 8-yard, game-tying touchdown catch in the 4th quarter against the Saints in Week 10 provided the impetus for a 27-24 victory. Two weeks later, he had 6 catches for 59 yards and a touchdown at San Francisco. He had a season-high 10 catches for 128 yards and a touchdown in a 20-19 victory at Philadelphia in Week 14. He completed the year with 6 catches for 120 yards and a touchdown against Cincinnati. 1987: Ricky flashed his ability early but did not hit stride until midseason. Ricky had 6 catches for 96 yards in a crucial comeback victory over the Giants, and his 28-yard scoring catch with 4:56 remaining provided the winning points. In the final regular season game against Minnesota, Ricky set the stage for the postseason with 8 catches for 164 yards, including touchdown catches of 51 and 46 yards. In the 1st-round victory over the Bears, Ricky recorded 6 catches for 92 yards, including a 32-yard grab to set up a score. A 28-yard reverse set up the Redskins' 1st touchdown against Minnesota in the NFC championship game. The climax came in Super Bowl XXII when Ricky caught 9 passes for 193 yards and 2 touchdowns. In shattering Lynn Swann's 161-yard record, Ricky played a role in 5 Super Bowl marks. 1986: After missing the first 5 games with leg injuries, Ricky caught 14 passes for 286 yards in limited play. His 1st NFL catch was good for 71 yards against the Giants and his 2nd came in Green Bay on a 26-yard touchdown grab which tied the game. Ricky had 5 catches for 94 yards after starting for the injured Gary Clark against the Eagles. 1984-85: USFL: Playing in the Houston Gamblers (USFL) run-and-shoot offense with Jim Kelly, Ricky was an immediate success with 101 catches for 1,378 yards and 11 touchdowns. He had 6 games of 100 yards or more and 12 games with 7 or more catches. His top game was against Pittsburgh when he caught 8 passes for 227 yards. Despite being sidelined for 8 games by an injury in '85, Ricky caught 48 passes for 538 yards and 7 touchdowns.

College, Personal: Ricky's ability to run after he catches a pass is no coincidence. He was a running back at Southwest Texas State, and finished 3rd on the Bobcats' all-time rushing list with 878 yards on 151 attempts. As a senior, he rushed 141 times for 706 yards and caught 14 passes for 210 yards and a touchdown. He was the most valuable player in the 1982 Palm Bowl with 104 yards on 25 carries. His talents are not limited to football. At Belton High School in Belton, TX, he qualified for the state meet in the pole vault, hurdles and long jump. He now devotes his free time to honing his golf game and has participated in the Bing Crosby Pro-Am tournament. A native of Temple, TX, Ricky and his wife Michelle, have a daughter, Ashlynn, and a son, Richard, and reside in Ashburn, VA.

Up Close

- The only native born Alaskan to play in the NFL, his Redskins teammates nicknamed him Stinky, after stinkheads, an Eskimo delicacy made from rotting fish heads.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ Mark was selected to his 1st Pro Bowl in 1991.
- ❖ He has started 35 straight regular season games.

How Acquired: Selected in 10th round of 1989 draft (263rd overall).

Games Played/Started: 50/45 [7/7] - 1989 (6/6); 1990 (12/7) [2/2]; 1991 (16/16) [3/3]; 1992 (16/16) [2/2]

1992 Season: In a season when Redskin offensive linemen filled the club's daily injury reports, a look at the season-ending player participation list reveals that Mark was one of only 2 offensive linemen to start every game. What it won't reveal is the amount of pain and courage that Mark went through just to be able to play. Let alone play at a level that makes him one of the NFL's best right guards. "Mark just would not give in to the pain," said offensive line coach Jim Hanifan. "Not only is he an outstanding football player, but he is one of the toughest individuals I have ever had the pleasure of coaching. You better believe that there are a lot of people around here who have great admiration for Mark Schlereth." Despite playing in constant pain on a left knee sprain and a right elbow sprain that required surgery on the same day following the season, Mark was the only offensive linemen to start every game at the same position. Although he did not practice over the last 4 weeks of the season, Mark still was a key reason the Redskins allowed the 2nd fewest sacks in the league (23) and rushed for 121 yards a game over the last 5 weeks of the season.

Pro Career: 1991: It was a watershed 1991 season with Mark's selection to the Pro Bowl. He also earned 3 offensive player of the week honors vs. Houston in Week 9, Pittsburgh in Week 11 and the Giants in Week 15. Mark was a big reason the Redskins allowed a league-low 9 sacks (team record) and had the league's 7th best rushing attack (128.1 yards).

1990: Predicted for stardom in only his 2nd season by Joe Gibbs, Mark did encounter some growing pains. He was replaced as a starter in Week 5 against the Giants, then he suffered a sprained ankle in Week 8 at Detroit that sidelined him for 4 weeks. But he bounced back in Week 14 when he regained his starting spot at right guard. 1989: The Redskins found out everything they needed to know about Mark when he was thrown into the injury-plagued starting lineup in the Week 10 win over Philadelphia. After he stood up to Eagles' DT Mike Pitts in a 1st quarter shoving match, he quietly proceeded to go the whole game without giving up a sack or QB hurry.

College, Personal: Mark played nose tackle, defensive tackle, and center before settling into the guard spot his junior year at Idaho. Despite being hampered by knee and elbow injuries, Mark came back in his senior year to help the Vandals to the I-AA semifinals and a school-best 11-2 record. When deciding where to play college football, Mark selected Idaho over Hawaii because its cold and rainy weather suited him better. When not running from bears in his native Alaska or playing Santa Claus for local kids, Mark is one of the most active Redskins in community and charity appearances. Mark talks to area kids about his battle with dyslexia. Mark attended Robert Service High School in Anchorage, Alaska, where he won the state heavyweight wrestling title despite being the lightest competitor at 210 pounds. While swimming in Hawaii during Pro Bowl week in 1992, Mark was caught in a rip tide and narrowly made it back to shore. He and his wife Lisa, have 3 children: a daughter Alex, 8, a son Daniel, 7, and a daughter, Avery, they reside in Reston, VA.

Notes from Home

Since defeating the Bears 38-14 on November 26, 1989 at RFK, the Redskins have won 24 of their last 28 home games, including a club record 11-straight from Oct. 21, 1990 to Nov. 24, 1991.

The Redskins' only four losses during this streak have been to NFC East rivals New York (1990 and 1992), Dallas (1991) and AFC West foe LA Raiders (1992). The Skins last loss to a conference foe outside the division came on Nov. 13, 1988 against the Bears, 34-14.

The last 28 games have also included:

- 4 shutouts • 2 TDs or less in 24 games • Allowing only 19 offensive TDs.

• When Paul's grandmother heard he had been drafted by the Redskins, she burst into tears thinking the Washington Redskins were from the state of Washington. When told the Redskins were located in D.C., she was very relieved.

How Acquired: Selected in 3rd round of 1992 draft (74th overall).

Games Played/Started: 0/0 - 1992 (PUP)

1992 Season: Paul's baptism as a Hog was a quiet one. A lingering shoulder injury virtually forced him to miss his first training camp with the Redskins. But he was given the OK to practice during the regular season where he was a valuable member of the scout team. "He impressed me the first time I saw him," said offensive line coach Jim Hanifan. "He's got size and has a big, powerful body. And he showed everyone last year that he's smart and is willing to work hard. We expect him to take a step up this year."

College, Personal: One of the most versatile offensive linemen in Penn State history, Paul saw action at practically every offensive line position during his career. As a 5th-year senior in 1991, he started the first 5 games at guard but moved to tackle in Week 6 after a teammate was injured. Paul's late season development earned him starts in 3 of the final 5 games as a junior. A Parade all-American, Paul led Downingtown (PA) High School to a district title as a senior and 2-straight conference championships. He was also a Big 33 selection in Pennsylvania. He majored in exercise science and needs a student teaching internship to fulfill his degree requirements. Paul had devoted time to Special Olympics, Multiple Sclerosis drives and Say No To Drugs campaigns. He resides in Herndon, VA.

- Although his size is more suited for his current job, Ed was a goalie on his high school's soccer team.
- One of his favorite ways to unwind is playing video games.

- ♦ Has started 35 games (31 at right tackle, 3 at left tackle, 1 at left guard).

How Acquired: Selected in sixth round of 1987 draft (164th overall).

Games Played/Started: 73/35 [5/2] - 1987 (6/3); 1988 (16/0); 1989 (16/8); 1990 (13/11); 1991 (6/2) [3/0]; 1992 (16/11) [2/2]

1992 Season: For only the 2nd time in his career Ed stayed healthy for an entire season and the newfound health gave the Redskins one of the top tackle combos in the league with Jim Lachey on the left side. "We finally got a healthy season out of Ed and he did what we've always known he could do if he could just play a whole season," said offensive line coach Jim Hanifan. "Ed's big and has great footwork and quickness for his size. With him and Jim (Lachey) we think we have one of the best left and right tackle combinations in football." Although he began the season as a backup at right tackle, once his knee (reconstructive surgery in the offseason) was fully sound, Ed was inserted into the starting lineup at right tackle in Week 5 vs. Denver where, except for a Week 10 start at left tackle at Kansas City, he remained a fixture the entire year.

Pro Career: 1991: A promising start became grounded when Ed sprained his right knee vs. the Cowboys in Week 2. He was placed on IR on Sept. 11 and missed the next 8 games. Ed did return for the Week 11 contest at Pittsburgh and saw action in all 3 playoff games.

1990: After 17 straight weeks as the starter at right tackle (final 8 games of 1989 and the first 9 games of 1990), Ed was on the brink of becoming one of the top young tackles in the league. Only a season-ending knee injury in Week 13 against the Bears temporarily halted that progress. 1989: Given an extended starting role for the first time in his career, Ed truly did the job. He filled in for the injured Jim Lachey (Weeks 9 and 10) and Joe Jacoby (Weeks 11-16) at left and right tackle. 1988: Ed served as a quality backup of Lachey and Jacoby at both tackle spots, but saw primary action in all 16 games as a member of the special teams.

1987: Ed made 3 starts (his debut came against Philadelphia's Reggie White) at different spots along the line in his rookie year, but a knee injury against Detroit in Week 9, and subsequent arthroscopy, sidelined him for the remainder of the season.

College, Personal: Ed was a starter at Eastern Washington for 4 years and did not miss a play his final 2 seasons. He was named to the Kodak all-America team his senior season. His first 2 college seasons were hampered by nagging knee injuries. Despite his size, Ed already had demonstrated his athletic ability at Nathan Hale High School in Seattle by lettering twice each in football, basketball and soccer. He was offered a football scholarship to Eastern Washington although the coaching staff had never seen him play. The film the coaches received after Ed's senior year was too grainy to make out individuals, so an EWU assistant traveled to see him play in a high school basketball game. Ed enjoys bowling as an offseason pastime and once bowled 8 consecutive strikes. He was born in French Camp, CA. Ed and his wife, Marci, have 2 daughters, Cheyenne, 3, and Olivia, 1, and they reside in Great Falls, VA.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- ❖ He was a 6th round draft choice by Pittsburgh in 1989.
- ❖ Mark caught 2 passes for 37 yards for Steelers in 1989 playoffs.
- ❖ Mark caught a key 2-point conversion for Sacramento in the World League title game won by the Surge.

How Acquired: Signed as a free agent on June 10, 1992.

Games Played/Started: 8/0 [2/0] - PGH 1989 (8/0) [2/0]; WASH 1992 (PUP)

1992 Season: 1992 began with Mark and his fellow Sacramento Surge teammates ascending the steps at Montreal's Olympic Stadium to lay claim to their World Bowl trophy. Mark made significant contributions catching 22 passes for 322 yards and 1 TD during the regular season, and 3 catches for 52 yards during the playoffs. After listening to offers from Green Bay, Philadelphia and New Orleans, Mark opted to sign with the Redskins following the World Bowl game. "He's got tremendous speed and has proven he can play in this league," said offensive coordinator Rod Dowhower. "Mark runs great routes, has good hands and he's smart." But before Mark had a chance to show the Redskins what he could do, he re-injured his left quadricip prior to the opening of training camp. Mark was placed on the PUP list for the entire season where he became a valued scout team player during the regular season.

Pro Career: 1991: Mark was a final roster cut by the Packers. 1990: He returned to the Steelers for his 2nd season but was waived by the Steelers. 1989: A 6th round draft choice by the Steelers, Mark was signed to Pittsburgh's practice squad after being waived in the final cut. He spent 8 weeks of the season on the practice squad before being activated to the 47-man roster. He played in 8 games and caught 4 passes for 47 yards and had 2 catches for 37 yards in the playoffs.

College, Personal: Mark had a brilliant career at VMI earning 1st team Division I-AA all-America honors as a senior when he caught 74 passes for 1,161 yards and 9 touchdowns. He finished his career with 165 receptions for 3,091 yards (18.7 average), including 17 100-yard receiving games and 20 touchdowns. Mark also lettered in track, running the 100-meters in 1992 Season: After bouncing around from one free agent tryout to another over the last 3 seasons, Johnny finally settled down with the team that originally drafted him in 1988. Although waived by the Skins on the final roster cutdown, Johnny was immediately brought back the next day. "He's a fearless special teams player," said special teams coach Wayne Sevier. "He has great speed and anticipation. We had him take on tough assignments and he came through for us all year long." The Redskins top special teams player last season on punt and kick coverage, Johnny had a team-best 102 total hits and was 2nd with 21 special teams tackles. He also saw duty on nickel coverage and saw action at cornerback when injuries to AJ Johnson knocked him out of action in Week 4 at Phoenix.

Pro Career: 1991: Johnny sat out the entire season after being waived by the Redskins. 1990: Signed by Kansas City, Johnny was waived by the Chiefs on the final roster cutdown. Signed by the Redskins, he played in 2 games (Week 4 at Phoenix and Week 5 vs. the Giants) before being placed on injured reserve with a knee injury. 1989: Johnny joined the 1992 Season: When the Redskins left Sun Devil Stadium after their Week 4 heart-stopping loss to the Cardinals, Jim was celebrating the win in the Phoenix locker room. When the Redskins left the field at RFK Stadium after their Week 12 win over the Cardinals, Jim was again celebrating, but this time in the Redskins locker room. After 5 straight weeks as a starter at defensive tackle, the Cardinals decided to go in a different direction and let Jim go. After a series of injuries thinned out the Redskins defensive line, Jim was fitted in a Redskin uniform just in time for the Week 12 rematch with the Cardinals. He saw backup duty against his former teammates and came up with 3 tackles. In his 5 games with the Cardinals, Jim totaled 19 tackles.

Pro Career: 1991: Jim started 13 of 15 games at nose tackle and led the Phoenix defensive line with 72 tackles. He had season-best 11 tackles vs. Philadelphia and 9 tackles at Dallas. 1990: He enjoyed his most productive season doubling his rookie tackle totals, finishing with 65 tackles, to go along with a career-high 2 1/2 sacks, 6 QB hurries and 2 forced fumbles. He packaged a season-best 9 tackles, 2 hurries, and 1 forced fumble vs. Indianapolis. 1989: Named to post-season all-rookie squads by Pro Football Weekly and College and Pro Football Newsweekly, Jim started 11 games as a rookie. His 1st NFL start came in Week 2 vs. Seattle and he registered 3 tackles. He had a season-high 9 tackles vs. Washington and recorded his 1st NFL interception.

College, Personal: Jim earned all-America honorable mention notice by AP and 2nd-team all-Pac-10 Conference honors as a junior at UCLA. His college career ended on an eventful note when he was suspended by coach Terry Donahue after offering disparaging remarks about cross-town rival USC prior to annual rivalry game. As a senior at Bellarmine (San Jose, CA) Prep, was an all-city, all-league, and all-California choice. Jim also competed in track, running the 70-meter hurdles (9.4 sec.) and the 400-meter relay team. He majored in psychology. One of the most community minded players when he was with the Cardinals, he and his wife, Diane, joined Ann Symington, Arizona's "First Lady," as the subjects of the team's 1991 United Way television spot. 1992 Season: On the practice field prior to the team's departure to London for a preseason game, Eric was joking how an injury would allow him to stay home and rest with his family. A few plays later that joke became a reality when, in a tangle of fallen players, one landed on his knee. The result was a sprained right knee that left him on injured reserve until Week 6. His return, however, didn't last long. After 5 productive weeks, Eric pulled and tore an abdominal muscle against the Saints in Week 11 and was lost for the remainder of the season, including the playoffs. "Eric is strong against the run," said defensive line coach Torgy Torgeson. "He's a smart player and has been around this game a long time." Unfortunately Eric wasn't around long enough last season to repeat his outstanding 1991 season. His return in Week 6 was necessitated by an injury to Bobby Wilson. He started against the Eagles and had 2 tackles. He gradually worked himself back into shape and put together strong back-to-back outings in Weeks 9 and 10 at Seattle and Kansas City. Against the Seahawks, Eric had 7 tackles and 3 QB hurries and followed that up with a season-best 9 tackles against the Chiefs.

Pro Career: 1991: He recorded a career-high 64 tackles. And even though he was used mainly in rushing situations, Eric still managed 17 quarterback hurries and 3 sacks. His season bests included 8 tackles and 1 QB hurry vs. the Giants in Week 8 and 7 tackles and 3 hurries vs. the Rams in Week 13. 1990: Eric joined the Redskins in Week 2 of the season after missing the entire 1990 training camp with the Lions. He gradually worked his way into the Redskin lineup and took over full-time starter's status in Week 8 at Detroit. His season highlights included 11 tackles at Philadelphia and 14 tackles at the Giants. At New England, Eric had 6 tackles and 2 sacks. The only thing that slowed him down was a sprained arch suffered at Indianapolis in Week 15 that forced him on injured reserve for the final game and the playoffs. 1989: Eric proved to be one of Detroit's most reliable defenders, finishing 8th on the team in tackles with 50 (42 solo). He was 3rd on the team with 6 sacks and recorded a career-high 3 sacks against Pittsburgh. 1988: Eric had a solid year, finishing 9th on the team and 1st among Detroit's linemen in tackles with 43 (34 solo). His 6 1/2 sacks equaled his career-high total. 1987: Eric returned to defensive end after playing nose tackle in 1986 and led Detroit's defensive linemen with 38 tackles and 2 sacks for minus 16 yards. He sustained a hip injury against Green Bay and was deactivated the following game at Denver. 1986: As a 1st-time starter at nose tackle, Eric responded with 62 tackles (52 solos which was tops among Detroit's down linemen. He had a game-high 10 tackles vs. the Rams and he also blasted Philadelphia with 10 tackles, 2 pass deflections and 1 blocked field goal. 1985: Eric split time at both defensive end and nose tackle, starting 9 of the first 10 games at defensive end. He racked up 60 tackles and 6 1/2 sacks in 12 games before suffering a season-ending neck injury. 1984: Finishing the season with 9 tackles, Eric played sparingly in 8 games. He came into the league as a 3rd round draft choice by the Lions.

College, Personal: An all-America defensive lineman at Washington State in 1983, Eric was also a 1st team all-Pac 10 and all-West Coast selection as a senior. He earned a bachelor's degree in agricultural economics at Washington State. He rushed for over 200 yards (at fullback) in his final high school game at Stockton's (CA) St. Mary High School. His father, Roy, was a 2nd round draft choice by the Lions in 1963 and played 2 seasons with the San Francisco 49ers (1963-64). Since joining the Redskins, he has been a popular feature for culinary editors in the Washington metro area newspapers. Eric also was a feature on the NFL Today Show when he prepared a Turkey dinner for some Redskin teammates at Thanksgiving. While in Detroit, Eric was scheduled to host a cable television show called "The Gridiron Gourmet," but his trade to the Redskins forced him to cancel the show. He has served as the spokesperson for the National Safe Kids Campaign, the first nationwide childhood injury prevention campaign. While on injured reserve last season, Eric stepped in front of the camera, working for WUSA-TV sports. He and his wife Kim, who were married in the Cayman Islands, have a daughter Jordon, and reside in Oakton, VA.

line coach Torgy Torgeson. "He learned our system and developed good techniques. He's doing everything we wanted him to do." Everything that is, except for injuries. An injured knee in Week 1 hindered him against the Cowboys and the following week against the Falcons. But in Week 3 vs. Barry Sanders and the Lions, Bobby blossomed. He posted 8 tackles (2 behind the line) and 1 sack. He continued that progress the next week at Phoenix with 5 tackles and a season-high 3 QB hurries and 4 tackles and a sack in Week 5 against Denver. But he developed back spasms the following week and was then placed on injured reserve for the remainder of the year. He had offseason lumbar surgery on his lower back to correct a ruptured disc.

Pro Career: 1991: The team's 1st pick in the 1st round since Darrell Green in 1983, Bobby tied for 4th on the club with 4 1/2 sacks and finished with 25 tackles. In the Giants rematch in Week 15, Bobby had 3 tackles and a season-best 2 sacks. And in his 1st NFL start vs. Atlanta in Week 10, he recorded 3 tackles, 1 1/2 sacks and recovered a fumble. His 1st NFL sack came against the Cardinals in Week 3.

College, Personal: Bobby was being touted as one of the best kept secrets in college football. But his senior season convinced the Redskins that he was one of the premier defensive linemen in the country. In his only season as a starter at Michigan State, he was a 1st all-Big 10 selection. Bobby recorded 77 tackles and had 5 sacks, including a season-high 15 tackles vs. Notre Dame. As a junior, Bobby had 4 sacks and 37 tackles as a backup at defensive tackle in his 1st year with the Spartans after transferring back to Michigan State from Northeast Oklahoma A&M. While at Northeast Oklahoma A&M, Bobby was a dominating force coming up with 55 tackles and 4 sacks after transferring there from Michigan State where he sat out the year under Prop 48. Off the field, one of his interests is singing. In his Chicago neighborhood, Bobby and his buddies would get together and sing old cuts by the Temptations, Luther Vandross and other legendary Motown artists. Bobby attended high school at Austin (IL) Community Academy. Bobby and his wife Crystal, have a son, Tre, and reside in Ashburn, VA.

Up Close

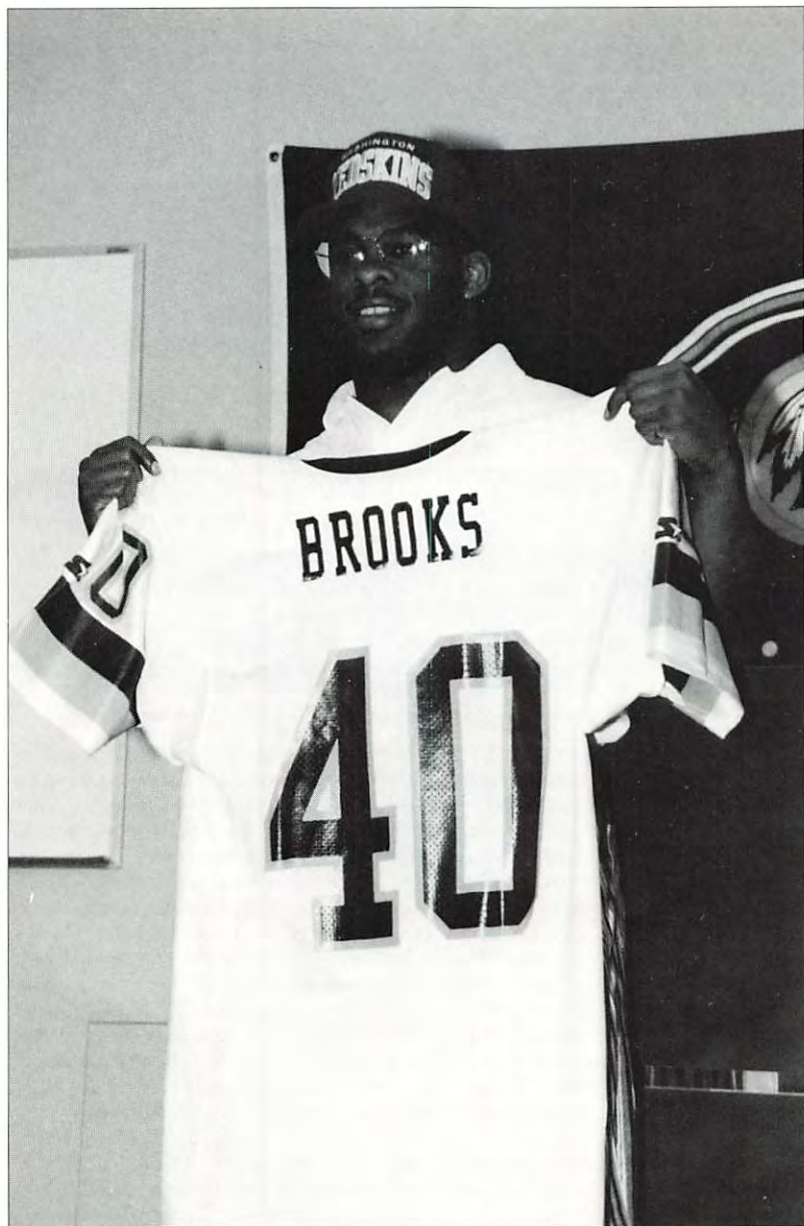

• Tom's most memorable person that he met while playing at Notre Dame was former President Ronald Reagan, who gave a pep talk to the Irish team.

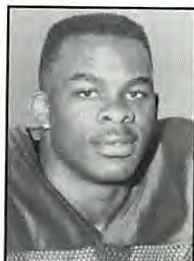

How Acquired: Selected in 1st round of 1993 draft (17th overall).

College Career: 1992: Rated as the top player at his position by the Redskins scouting staff, the Skins wasted little time making up their minds which player they wanted when their turn came up on draft day. A cornerback with extraordinary athletic ability, Tom entered the draft following an outstanding junior season. He was named a 2nd-team all-American, recording a career-high 40 tackles and equalling a career-best 5 interceptions. His top performances came against Michigan with 4 tackles and an interception; Michigan State with a season-best 10 stops, plus an interception; 5 tackles and a pickoff against Pittsburgh and 7 tackles with an interception in the season closer at USC. He also flashed his pass coverage skills in the 42-16 rout of BYU with 3 passes defended and 1 interception. 1991: Tom started every game at right cornerback and played more minutes than anyone on the team. He led the Irish with 5 interceptions, with pickoffs coming against Indiana, Michigan State, Tennessee, plus 2 against Hawaii. His interception against Tennessee was a 79-yard TD, which was the longest Irish interception return in 10 years, and the 10th longest in Notre Dame history. He ended the year with 5 tackles and team-high 4 passes defended in the Sugar Bowl win over Florida. 1990: He played in every game as a true freshman but the season opener against Michigan. He broke into the starting lineup just 3 games into his freshman season. He started 6 games at free safety and came up with 19 tackles. He had his only interception of the season called back by a penalty against Michigan State. His best games came against Stanford with a season-high 6 tackles and vs. Air Force with 5 tackles.

Draft Choices

Personal: Tom also ran track at Notre Dame, and was the Midwestern Collegiate Conference 55-meter indoor sprint champion in 1992. Tom was rated one of the top 100 incoming freshman following an outstanding prep career at Lakewood High School in St. Petersburg, FL. He was a 1st-team all-state as a defensive back, while earning 1st-team all-city and all-conference honors at quarterback. He earned 3 letters in football as a cornerback, quarterback and wide receiver. His career totals included 2,000 passing yards and 1,000 rushing yards. Tom also earned 3 letters in basketball, 2 in track and 1 in baseball. He was an all-county pick in basketball and an all-league choice in track. He majored in finance while at Notre Dame where he plans on finishing his degree requirements next spring.

REGGIE BROOKS

Up Close

- Reggie's uncle is former Redskin safety Tony Peters (1979-85).
- His favorite football term is be the hammer which means: Hit and punish the opposition.

How Acquired: Selected in 2nd round of 1993 draft (45th overall).

College Career: 1992: After bouncing back and forth between offense and defense, Reggie burst on the national scene with an exceptional senior season. A 2nd-team all-American, he finished 7th in the nation in rushing, averaging 122.9 yards a game. He finished his senior year with 1,343 yards rushing and 13 touchdowns on just 167 carries. He averaged a whopping 8.0 yards per carry, just missing the legendary George Gipp's Irish record of 8.1 yards. Reggie became only the 4th runner in Notre Dame history to top 1,000 yards rushing in a season, and his 1,343 yards were the 3rd best single-season mark in Irish history. He also led Notre Dame in scoring with 86 points. Considering he had gained just 165 yards on 17 carries entering last fall, Reggie began his meteoric rise as one of college football's most exciting runners in the season opener against Northwestern. He ran for 159 yards on only 9 carries. His other 100+ rushing games included: 205 yards vs. Purdue, which included touchdown runs of 63, 20 and 80 yards; 112 yards vs. Brigham Young and 227 yards vs. USC with touchdown runs of 12, 55 and 44 yards. His 227 yards against the Trojans was the 3rd best single-game rushing mark in Irish history. Reggie also became only the 2nd Irish tailback to rush for over 200 yards more than once in a season. He closed out his brilliant senior season with 115 yards on 22 attempts in Notre Dame's convincing win over undefeated Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl. 1991: Reggie moved back to tailback after spending his sophomore in the secondary. He played in 11 games as a reserve and special teams standout. His rushed 4 times for 21 yards and a touchdown against Michigan State. He and his brother, Tony (now with the Philadelphia Eagles), both scored against the Spartans, marking the 1st time brothers had scored TDs in the same game for Notre Dame since Terry and Jim Brennan did it vs. Tulane in 1947. Reggie supplied the Irish with electrifying special teams play against Pittsburgh, blocking a punt and recovering it in the end zone for a touchdown. Then he opened the 2nd half with a 42-yard kickoff return that set up another Notre Dame touchdown. He also added 18 yards rushing against the Panthers. Reggie led the Irish in rushing vs. Navy with 3 carries for 69 yards, including a 65-yard run that set up his own 3-yard touchdown run. His 65-yard run was the longest of the season by an Irish runner. 1990: Reggie switched to cornerback as a sophomore and saw action in 9 games, including 3 starting assignments. His most notable play of the season was a game-saving interception against Michigan at the Irish 41-yard line with 1:21 left, to preserve the season-opening comeback over the Wolverines. 1989: As a freshman, Reggie played in 7 games as a reserve tailback, playing behind current 49ers running back Ricky Watters.

Personal: Reggie earned 3 letters as a tailback, fullback and cornerback at Washington High School in Tulsa, OK before following his brother, Tony, to Notre Dame. He earned all-state, all-conference and all-city honors as a senior, despite playing only 4 games as a senior because of injuries. Reggie also earned 4 letters in track as a sprinter and was a 3-time all-state selection in the 100 and 200 meters. He was enrolled in the College of Business Administration as a management major.

RICK HAMILTON

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

63 • LB • Rookie • 6-2 • 238 • Central Florida • 04/19/70

Up Close

• The 1st, and only, time Rick went skydiving he took along his college roommate. His buddy jumped first, but his chute did not open, and he had to pull his emergency chord. After watching all this, Rick still jumped.

How Acquired: Selected in 3rd round of 1993 draft (71st overall).

College Career: 1992: Rick left a lasting impression on the Redskins scouting staff with his thunderous hits at Central Florida. Cut in the classic mold of a middle linebacker, Rick led the Knights in tackles as a sophomore, junior and senior. He wrapped up a stellar collegiate career with a school-record 472 tackles. Last season, he came up with 149 tackles and was credited with 20-or-more tackles 3 times, including a season-high 23 tackles at Liberty. Rick also had 20+ tackles against Nicholls State and James Madison. He had double-digit tackle efforts 8 of 10 games. In addition to his ability as a stoic run stopper, Rick finished his career with 8 interceptions, including a Central Florida record 97-yard return for a touchdown at Western Illinois as a senior. He had 3 pass thefts as a senior. 1991: Once again the rock of the Central Florida defense, Rick led the Knights in tackles with 139. In addition to his team-leading tackle figures, he also found time to add 3 quarterback sacks and 3 interceptions. 1990: Right from the beginning, Rick became a leader on the Central Florida defense, registering 12 tackles and a sack against Memphis State in the season opener. He continued that line of play with a team-leading 140 tackles, while adding 3 sacks and 2 interceptions. 1989: Although a redshirt freshman, Rick gave glimpses of things to come when he ended the year with 44 tackles, including 30 solos. 1988: Rick was redshirted as a freshman.

Personal: Rick was a 4-sport letterman at Citrus High School in Inverness, FL earning honors in football, wrestling, weightlifting and track. In addition to his stalwart play of defense, he led his high school team in receiving with 29 catches and held the school's shot put record at 49 feet, 11 inches. His hobbies include, boar hunting and trying to play golf. He majored in criminal justice while at Central Florida.

• Like most college students, Ed held a job during the summers to help finance his college education. His job was a bit more unusual though. He was a repo man.

How Acquired: Selected in 3rd round of 1993 draft (80th overall).

College Career: 1992: With their 2nd pick of the 3rd round, the Redskins felt they couldn't wait much longer. Knowing other teams thought highly of Ed, the Redskins decided to use the pick on the NCAA's top punter in 1992. Credited with 18 punts of over 50 yards last season, Ed's credentials were impressive. He led the nation in punting with a 47.7-yard average, and besides his booming punts of over 50 yards, he also had 17 punts land inside the 20-yard line. And he only had 28 punts returned for 304 yards. Ed's longest punt of the season was a 73 yarder against Brigham Young in the season opener at the Sun Bowl. But that was only a hint of what was to come. His average against BYU in the opener was an eye-popping 60.3 yards per punt. But he also had a 54-yard average vs. New Mexico State, 51.8-yard average against Air Force and a 50.3-yard average against Hawaii. A 1st-team all-American, Ed became the 1st punter at UTEP to win a punting championship since 1941.

1991: In only his 1st season at UTEP after transferring from Valley (CA) Junior College where he had been an honorable mention JUCO all-America, Ed finished 12th in the nation in punting. He averaged 42.5 yards per punt and was named a 2nd-team all-WAC punter.

Personal: A native Washingtonian, Ed graduated from T.C. Williams High School in Alexandria, VA. He attended UCLA for a short time. He went back to school 2 years later in Los Angeles at Valley Junior College, where he began his job as a repo man. Ed started punting as a way to rehab his knee that he injured in a motorcycle accident, ironically, near where Redskin Park is now located. Ed earned his degree in English literature at Texas-El Paso.

Up Close

• Despite his size - 6-5 and 268 pounds - Sterling can do a backward flip, a la Ozzie Smith of the St. Louis Cardinals.

How Acquired: Selected in 4th round of 1993 draft (101st overall).

College Career: 1992: Feeling the 1st 3 rounds of the draft had yielded success, the Redskins felt even better when Sterling was still available in the 4th round. Blessed with size, speed and great athletic ability, Sterling recorded 8 sacks and 111 total tackles during his Seminole career. Last season, he played every game at left outside linebacker and finished the year with 37 tackles and 3 sacks. Sterling's top efforts came against North Carolina State with 5 tackles, 4 tackles vs. both Wake Forest and North Carolina, and 4 tackles and a sack against Virginia. 1991: Sterling came on at the end of the season, starting the final 2 games of the year. He ended the season with a career-high 44 tackles, 4 sacks and 15 pressures. His top tackle efforts came against Michigan with 6 stops and 8 tackles and a sack vs. South Carolina. He also had sacks against Syracuse, Middle Tennessee and Louisville. Against Florida State's intra-state rivals Miami and Florida, Sterling was at his best. He had 5 tackles and blocked a field goal against the Hurricanes and he ended the year with 4 tackles against the Gators. 1990: A valuable contributor to the Seminole defense as a redshirt freshman, Sterling totaled 24 tackles and 1 quarterback sack. Again, he was at his best against rival Miami with a season-high 6 tackles. 1989: In his only game of the year, Sterling registered 5 tackles against Tulane. But a foot injury sidelined him for the remainder of the season.

Personal: One of the most heralded high school players in the nation as a senior, Sterling was rated the number 2 linebacker in the country at St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Ft. Lauderdale, FL. A 1st-team all-America, all-state and all-South selection, he concluded a brilliant senior season with 115 tackles, 8 sacks and 5 passes defended. A 2-sport star, Sterling also won the state discus title with a 175-3 throw his senior season.

Up Close

• A devout fisherman, he usually went trout fishing on Sunday after games. Greg has aspirations of some day having his own bass fishing show.

How Acquired: Selected in 5th round of 1993 draft (128th overall).

College Career: 1992: Although he spent his senior year as a tackle, the Redskins drafted Greg as a center. But its his versatility that made him a 3-year starter at Penn State. He started at guard, center and tackle during his career, and felt comfortable at each position. A starter at center as a junior, Greg made the switch to tackle as a senior in 1992 and saw more service than any other member of the offensive line. He played a season-high 83 plays at West Virginia. 1991: The stater at center for the 1st 7 weeks of the season, Greg missed 2 starts, but regained his regular spot for the remaining 3 games of the year and the Fiesta Bowl. Greg was on the field for a season-high 83 offensive snaps against USC. He moved over to center in spring drills after starting at guard a year earlier. 1990: Greg started 9 of 11 games at guard and averaged nearly 60 plays a game. The highlight of his season was a win over home state Alabama. 1989: Greg saw game action 6 times as a reserve guard. 1988: Greg opened the year as a reserve guard, but he gave way to injuries and was given a medical redshirt.

Personal: Greg was selected as the Lineman of the Year by the Cincinnati Post following his senior year at Moeller High School. He also earned 2nd-team all-state and 1st-team all-Southwest Ohio honors. Greg grew up in Mountain Brook, AL, a suburb of Birmingham, and moved to Cincinnati before his junior year of high school. An economics major, Greg's father also is a graduate of Penn State.

DARRYL MORRISON

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

97 • CB • Rookie • 5-11 • 185 • Arizona • 05/19/71

Up Close

• Darryl didn't play high school football until his senior year at Camelback High School in Phoenix, AZ. He only went out for the team after a friend bet him $20 he wouldn't go out for the team.

How Acquired: Selected in 6th round of 1993 draft (155th overall).

College Career: 1992: After taking Tom Carter in the 1st round, the Redskins again decided to go for size at cornerback when they selected Darryl with the 1st of 2 picks in the 6th round. Still relatively new to the game, Darryl has only played 5 years of organized football, and only 2 years of major college football after transferring to Arizona from Phoenix

Draft Choices

College. Still, Darryl stepped right in at Arizona and started both his junior and senior years for the Wildcats. As a senior, he was tapped a 2nd-team all-Pac 10 choice at cornerback after recording 37 tackles and 2 interceptions. His season bests included 7 tackles against Oregon State and California. His interceptions came against UCLA and Washington State. He also played a key role in Arizona's upset of top ranked Washington with 5 tackles. He closed out his collegiate career with 6 tackles against Baylor in the John Hancock Bowl. 1991: Darryl started every game and recorded a career-high 60 tackles and 3 interceptions, including a 67-yard touchdown return. Also a special teams standout, Darryl blocked 3 punts. His career-best day came against USC when he single-handily put together a highlight tape. He made a pair of tackles, broke up 2 passes, recovered a fumble in the end zone for a touchdown and raced 67 yards for another score on an interception in the 31-14 win over the Trojans. Not surprisingly, Darryl was named the Pac 10 Defensive Player of the Week. He also had a big day against intra-state rival Arizona State, setting up one score with an interception and another with a blocked punt. 1990: A 2-year standout at Phoenix College, he intercepted 10 passes and finished with 116 tackles. In his final year, he had 7 pass thefts, including 4 coming against Eastern Arizona Community College. He had a 96-yard interception return for a touchdown against Snow College. 1989: Darryl came up with 3 pass interceptions and 40 tackles in his 1st year at Phoenix College.

Personal: Darryl only played 1 full year of high school football at Camelback High in Phoenix, AZ. He did play briefly on the freshman team at Central High School in Phoenix. He majored in psychology at Arizona.

FRANK WYCHECK

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

36 • TE • Rookie • 6-3 • 235 • Maryland • 10/14/71

Up Close

- He and his brother are avid baseball card collectors. His rarest card is a 1963 Giants card of pitcher Bo Belinsky.
- Frank grew up a die-hard Eagles fan.

How Acquired: Selected in 6th round of 1993 draft (160th overall).

College Career: 1992: Used as a tight end and running back while at Maryland, Redskin coaches and scouts saw the ingredients for a perfect H-back. Maryland's all-time leading receiver with 134 receptions for 1,195 yards, he caught 31 passes for 236 yards and 1 touchdown in the Maryland run-and-shoot offense as a senior. But it was in the last 3 games of his senior season that he caught the attention of the Redskins. Used primarily as an H-back, Frank gained 326 yards rushing and had 4 touchdowns, while catching 14 passes for 90 yards. Against North Carolina, Frank gained 102 yards on 19 carries with 2 touchdowns, while catching 8 passes for 58 yards in his dual role. He followed that game up with 17 carries for 62 and 1 TD, to go along with 5 catches for 21 yards vs. Florida State. Frank ended the year with a career-best 162 yards rushing on 30 carries and 1 TD against Clemson in the season finale. He ended the year with 77 carries for 369 yards and 5 touchdowns. 1991: A 2nd-team all-ACC pick, he finished 2nd in the ACC in receptions with 48 catches. He was named ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week in the season opener against Virginia with 5 catches for 61 yards. Other highlights included a game-winning 35-yard touchdown catch at Wake Forest and 6 receptions vs. Duke and North Carolina State. 1990: A redshirt freshman, Frank led the ACC in receiving with 58 catches for 509 yards and 1 touchdown. His 58 receptions set an all-time Maryland single-season record. In his 1st game, he caught a school record 14 passes for 106 yards and 1 touchdown against Virginia Tech. He also had a 12-catch game against North Carolina State. 1989: Frank was redshirted as a freshman.

Personal: Frank was a 2-time all-Catholic and all-City 1st-team selection as a junior and senior at Archbishop Ryan High School in Philadelphia, PA. He also was a 1st-team all-Scholastic choice as a junior and senior. Besides earning 3 letters in football, Frank earned a letter each in basketball and baseball. He majored in criminal justice while at Maryland.

LAMONT HOLLINQUEST

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

96 • LB • Rookie • 6-3 • 225 • USC • 10/24/70

Up Close

• Lamont worked at the USC Medical Center while a student, assisting the hospital administrator who is in charge of emergency and ambulatory care.

How Acquired: Selected in 8th round of 1993 draft (212th overall).

College Career: 1992: Lamont spent his USC career going from free safety to linebacker. But despite the position swapping, the Redskins liked what they saw when he was at outside linebacker. That's the position he spent his entire senior season playing, coming up with 31 tackles, including 6 tackles for losses. 1991: Lamont opened the year as a backup at free safety. But when injuries hit USC's outside linebacker corps, he made the move to outside linebacker and started, and started, in 6 of the Trojans' last 8 games. Overall, he made a career-high 48 tackles. His season bests included 9 tackles at California, including a fumble recovery that set up a touchdown, and 8 tackles against both Washington State and Washington. 1990: Lamont sat out the 1990 season while suspended from the team for academic reasons. He attended junior college to improve his studies, and also spent part of the time helping coach the defensive backs at Blair High School in Pasadena, CA. 1989: As a sophomore, Lamont backed up current Chicago Bear safety Mark Carrier. He missed USC's 1st 5 games while recuperating from a ruptured tendon in his left ring finger which he suffered in preseason drills. Still, he notched 11 tackles, with a season-high 5 tackles against Oregon State. 1988: Lamont was 1 of only 4 freshman to see playing time. He backed up Carrier and saw action on special teams. He had a season-best 3 tackles at Arizona State. He missed the Notre Dame game that season because of the measles.

Personal: Lamont was regarded as one of the top prep defensive backs in the nation while at Pius X High School in Downey, CA, despite missing his senior season in 1987 with a broken ankle. He broke the ankle on the 1st play of the 1st game as a senior. Despite the injury, he still made numerous all-state and all-America teams, including the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner Super 11 1st-team. It was his junior year that he gained his prep reputation when he had 121 tackles and 8 interceptions (2 for TDs) on defense, and caught 4 touchdown passes as a tight end. Lamont also earned all-state 1st team honors in basketball, averaging 21.9 points per game as senior. His mother has worked as nurse at a hospital for over 25 years, and his father has been an engineer at a hospital for over 25 years. Their work in health care influenced him to major in public administration and work an internship at the USC Medical Center. He plans to work in hospital administration.

Chip Lohmiller shared the NFC scoring crown with 120 points in 1992 and became the first Redskin in club history to score 100 points in four consecutive seasons.

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

Game 1: Sept. 7, 1992

COWBOYS 23	Redskins 10
Texas Stadium 63,538

The Cowboys gained the early momentum on a punt block that resulted in a safety and never relinquished the lead as the Redskins fell in the Monday night season opener 23-10.

Emmitt Smith rushed for 139 yards and a touchdown and Troy Aikman threw for 216 yards including a 26-yard touchdown to Alvin Harper just before halftime. The big blow came in the third quarter however, with the Redskins trailing 16-7, Kelvin Martin returned a punt 79 yards for a touchdown.

Charles Haley led the Cowboys with a sack and several pressures, while his college teammate at James Madison, Gary Clark, led the Redskins offensively with eight receptions for 97 yards and a touchdown.

REDSKINS 24	Falcons 17
RFK Stadium 54,343

The Redskins scored 21 points in the second quarter and the defense held off a late charge by Atlanta for a 24-17 victory. Byner opened the scoring on a five-yard touchdown reception.

The Redskins then used some trickery as Brian Mitchell fielded a punt and threw back across the field to Desmond Howard who went 55 yards for his first NFL touchdown. Deion Sanders answered for the Falcons with a 99-yard touchdown return on the following kickoff, but Mark Rypien then connected with Gary Clark from 16 yards out for the third touchdown of the quarter.

The Falcons managed to close to within seven and were driving for the tying touchdown late in the game when the defense behind Kurt Gouveia forced an interception to secure the win.

RFK Stadium 55,818

Earnest Byner led the way to the Redskins second straight victory with 120 yards on 30 carries as the Redskins controlled the ball for nearly 38 minutes of the game. Byner scored on a six-yard run in the first quarter to give the Redskins an early 7-0 lead. After a Detroit field goal, Chip Lohmiller converted on a 53-yard attempt for a 10-3 halftime margin.

Lohmiller added a 27 yarder in the fourth quarter and then the defense again held off a late charge, as the Lions scored on a 67-yard pass from Rodney Peete and drove into position for the tying field goal which fell short to provide the Redskins their second consecutive victory over a 1991 playoff opponent.

CARDINALS 27	Redskins 24
Sun Devil Stadium 34,488

Robert Massey spoiled the Redskins bid for three straight wins returning two interceptions for touchdowns as Phoenix scored 21 fourth quarter points for a come-from-behind victory.

The Redskins led 17-0 at halftime, scoring touchdowns on a 19-yard pass from Mark Rypien to Ricky Sanders and a nine-yard run by Earnest Byner, and Chip Lohmiller added a 33-yard field goal.

The Redskins led 24-6 in the fourth quarter, but then Massey struck for the Cardinals, returning interceptions of 31 and 41 yards to close the margin to 24-20. With three minutes left Phoenix drove 85 yards in nine plays, capped by a nine-yard pass from Chris Chandler to Larry Centers with just 41 seconds remaining. Lohmiller's 40-yard field goal attempt failed right on the game's final play.

REDSKINS 34	Broncos 3
RFK Stadium 56,371

It was an historic night for the Redskins with a 34-3 victory over Denver that was overshadowed by the record breaking performance of Art Monk. Monk caught seven passes for 69 yards, but it was the last one, a 10-yard sideline pattern that placed him alone on the NFL all-time receiving list with 820 catches.

The game was well in hand by the time Monk made his record breaking reception. Mark Rypien had two one-yard touchdown rushes and also threw a 44-yard TD to Gary Clark. Wilber Marshall showcased his dominance, returning an interception 20 yards for a touchdown, while recording five tackles and a sack for -12 yards.

REDSKINS 16	Eagles 12
RFK Stadium 56,380

The Redskins managed to get an early lead on the NFL's top ranked defense and then turned it over to their own defense for a 16-12 victory. Mark Rypien connected with Gary Clark on a 10-yard touchdown pass midway through the first quarter for an early 7-0 lead. Roger Ruzek connected on a 39-yard field goal for the Eagles, before Chip Lohmiller again gave the Redskins a touchdown advantage with an 18-yard field goal just before half.

Lohmiller added field goals of 21 and 28 yards in the second half, while the defense kept the Eagles off the board until late in the game. Kelly Goodburn intentionally stepped out of the end zone for a safety and then Randall Cunningham connected with Calvin Williams from six yards out with just 25 seconds left.

REDSKINS 15	Vikings 13
Metrodome 59,098

It was somewhat of a going home party for Chip Lohmiller returning to Minnesota and the kicker celebrated in style, scoring all 15 of the Redskins' points, including the game winner. Lohmiller, who kicked in the Metrodome for the University of Minnesota, was five-of-five for the day, en route to being named the NFC Offensive Player of the Week.

Lohmiller connected on four kicks in the first half from distances of 22, 52, 25 and a 45-yarder as time expired before intermission. Minnesota came back in the second half on a 26-yard field goal by Fuad Revez, a one-yard run by Terry Allen and another 41-yarder by Revez that set the stage for Lohmiller. The Redskins worked their two minute offense to position Lohmiller for a 49-yard field goal with just 1:09 left.

GIANTS 24	Redskins 7
RFK Stadium 53,647

Backed by a powerful running game and strong defense, the Giants put a screeching halt to the Redskins' three-game winning streak. It was an ominous beginning for the Redskins, with Brian Mitchell returning a New York punt 84 yards to give Washington an early 7-0 lead. But the Giants struck back quickly. A 65-yard drive was capped by an eight-yard TD run by Jarrod Bunch.

The Giants scored again on a 17-yard pass from Jeff Hostetler to Ed McCaffery and then with just eight seconds remaining in the half, Hostetler found Dave Meggett for a four-yard score. The Giants defense stymied the Redskins offense, which allowed New York to control the ball for nearly 40 minutes.

REDSKINS 16	Seahawks3
Kingdome 53,616

Terry Orr again proved to be the Redskins big play maker, helping to break open a defensive battle and lead Washington to a 16-3 victory.

Tied at halftime 3-3, Mark Rypien began to look to the H-back to help get the offense moving. Orr caught a pass in each of the Redskins' second half scoring drives, including a 46-yarder on third-and-one to set up Chip Lohmiller's 37-yard field goal for a 9-3 third quarter lead, and a 26-yarder that put Washington in the end zone for the first time in 14 quarters.

GAME 10: Nov. 15, 1992

CHIEFS 35	Redskins 16
Arrowhead Stadium 75,238

Kansas City scored touchdowns in each of their first four possessions and jumped out to what proved to be an insurmountable 28-0 halftime lead. Christian Okoye started the scoring with his first of two touchdown runs from two yards out, followed by a 44-yard touchdown pass from Dave Krieg to Tim Barnett. Okoye struck again from three yards and then with just 37 seconds remaining in the half Harvey Williams went in from five yards out.

The Redskins responded in the second half driving for a Ricky Ervins five-yard touchdown run, followed by three Chip Lohmiller field goals to close the score to 28-16. But Krieg connected with Barnett again to secure the 35-16 win.

SAINTS 20	Redskins 3
Superdome 68,591

The Redskins controlled the ball on an impressive first drive that ended in a field goal, but the Saints controlled the game for the final three quarters scoring 20 unanswered points. Second quarter touchdowns on an 18-yard run by Dalton Hilliard and a five-yard pass from Bobby Hebert to Quinn Early gave New Orleans a 14-3 halftime lead.

The Saints' defense kept the Redskins in check the remainder of the game and Morten Andersen added two field goals to secure the 20-3 victory.

GAME 12: Nov. 29, 1992

REDSKINS 41	Cardinals 3
RFK Stadium 53,541

The Redskins returned home after their difficult three game road trip and defeated Phoenix 41-3 with a solid team performance. Mark Rypien threw for two touchdowns, including a 13-yard strike to Rick Sanders and a 31-yarder to Gary Clark. The Redskins also rushed for 143 yards, with Earnest Byner picking up 62 on 16 carries, including a touchdown.

Washington's defense also proved opportunistic, with five interceptions and a fumble recovery. Brad Edwards led the way with three interceptions, returning one 53 yards for a touchdown as he earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors.

Chip Lohmiller had two second quarter field goals and Art Monk picked up his first touchdown of the season late in the game on quarterback Cary Conklin's first ever NFL touchdown pass.

Game 14: Dec. 13, 1992

REDSKINS 20	Cowboys 17
RFK Stadium 56,437

It was a classic game in a classic rivalry that will be remembered for "The Play," when Redskins defensive tackle Jason Buck forced a fumble by Troy Aikman that was recovered in the end zone by Danny Copeland for the deciding touchdown.

The Redskins had used trickery to score earlier in the game, with Earnest Byner throwing a 41-yard touchdown pass to Terry Orr in the second quarter.

The Cowboys took the early lead on a 23-yard field goal and two five-yard touchdown passes from Aikman to Jay Novacek. But the Redskins stayed close and the defense provided "The Play," as the Redskin scored 13 unanswered second half points. It was a game of big plays, especially Copeland, who made six tackles and recovered two fumbles, en route to being named NFC Defensive Player of the Week.

EAGLES 17	Redskins 13
Veterans Stadium 65,841

It came down to the final play of the game, as Eagles defensive back Eric Allen deflected away a pass intended for Gary Clark in the end zone. It was the last play of a drive that started with 3:35 left in the game, and lasted 17 plays and 85 yards, but came up five yards short of the end zone.

The Redskins had taken an early lead behind a 29-yard field goal by Chip Lohmiller. The Eagles then went up 7-3 with a 21-yard run by Heath Sherman, but the Redskins responded behind Mark Rypien's 62-yard scoring strike to Ricky Sanders. Lohmiller added a 41-yard field goal to close out the first half.

But the Eagles scored 10 second-half points on a 28-yard touchdown pass from Randall Cunningham to Calvin Williams and a Roger Ruzek 23-yard field goal.

RAIDERS 21	Redskins 20
RFK Stadium 53,032

For the second game in a row it came down to one crucial play at the end of the game, and for the second straight week the Redskins came up short. The Raiders' Vince Evans connected with Tim Brown from three yards out on the 4th-and-goal with just 13 seconds remaining to lift LA to a 21-20 victory.

The Redskins appeared to be heading towards the win scoring with just 1:57 remaining on a Ricky Ervins one-yard run that was set up by a 43-yard pass from Mark Rypien to Art Monk. But the Raiders answered with an eight-play, 80-yard drive with the big play coming on a 50-yard pass from Evans to Willie Gault that gave Los Angeles a first-and-goal on the Redskins eight.

Wild Card Playoff: Jan. 2, 1993

REDSKINS 24	Vikings 7
Metrodome 57,353

The Redskins under Joe Gibbs improved their playoff record to 16-4 with a convincing 24-7 win over the Central Division Champs in the Metrodome.

The Skins dominated every aspect of the game, running 73 plays and controlling the clock for an NFL record 42:43. The Skins limited the Vikings to just 148 yards in total offense with 73 yards rushing and 75 passing.

Brian Mitchell replaced an injured Ricky Ervins and gained 209 all-purpose yards. He gained 109 yards on 16 carries, (38 yards coming on a fake punt), 16 yards on three pass receptions, 70 yards on three punt returns, including a 54-yard return, and 14 more yards on one kick return. Gary Clark added 91 yards on six receptions, including a 24-yard toss from Mark Rypien.

Defensively, Fred Stokes tied a club playoff record with three sacks as the Skins totaled four sacks against the Vikings.

49ERS 20	Redskins 13
Candlestick Park 64,991

Trailing 17-13 in the 4th quarter and marching towards the go ahead score, the Redskins season was summed in one play when Brian Mitchell and Mark Rypien muffed a handoff exchange on the 49ers 23 yard line. Replay revealed Mitchell had clear sailing to the goal line, instead the 49ers recovered the fumble. And the Redskins defense of their Super Bowl championship came to an end.

Down 17-3 at the half, the Skins fought back in the second half. The Redskins limited the 49ers to just 123 yards in offense while converting a 14 play, 71-yard drive into a Chip Lohmiller 32-yard field goal and converting a San Francisco fumble into a Rypien one-yard touchdown plunge to narrow the gap to 17-13 with 14:36 left in the game.

Hot Decembers

December has been a hot month for the club over the past 12 seasons. Since 1980, the Redskins boast the second-best December record in the NFL with a glittering 36-12 mark. Since 1981, Skins have posted an outstanding 33-12 (.733) record in December (including 1-1 in the playoffs) and have won 13 of their last 17 December outings.

Since 1970

Since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger, the Washington Redskins are the winningest team in the NFC with a 221-122-1 (.644) winning mark. The Redskins have also won three Super Bowl championships, five division titles, made 13 playoff appearances and five Super Bowl appearances. The Redskins are 18-10 in postseason since 1970.

WASHINGTON REDSKINS

In 1974, the NFL established overtime to decide regular season games. Since then, the Redskins have compiled a 9-3 record in overtime games, including eight wins in their last nine games in OT.

1. November 2, 1975 Washington 30, Dallas 24
Home-Ken Houston returned a Roger Staubach interception 14 yards, and Billy Kilmer scored the winning touchdown after 6:34 of overtime action.
2. November 16, 1975 St. Louis 20, Washington 17
Away-Cards scored with 20 seconds remaining on "Mel Gray catch" to force overtime. St. Louis won coin toss and marched to 37-yard Jim Bakken field goal to win after seven minutes of play.
3. November 22, 1975 Oakland 26, Washington 23
Home-George Blanda 27-yard field goal decided contest after 7:13.
4. September 27, 1976 Washington 20, Philadelphia 17
Away-Mark Moseley's 29-yard field goal won Monday night game with 12:49 elapsed in overtime.
5. November 12, 1978 Washington 16, New York Giants 13
Home-Redskins won on Moseley's 45-yard field goal after 3:32 elapsed.
6. November 15, 1981 Washington 30, New York Giants 27
Away-Moseley kicked 49-yard field goal on game's final play to force overtime and Moseley booted a 48-yard field goal to win with 3:44 elapsed.
7. September 12, 1982 Washington 37, Philadelphia 34
Away-Redskins sent the game into overtime on a 48-yard field goal by Moseley with :01 to play. Moseley won the game with a 26-yarder with 4:47 elapsed.
8. November 2, 1986 Washington 44, Minnesota 38
Home-Jay Schroeder engineered a four play 63-yard drive with Gary Clark scoring from 38 yards out to win.
9. December 26, 1987 Washington 27, Minnesota 24
Away-Ricky Sanders' 51-yard touchdown reception from Doug Williams with less than two minutes remaining ties score at 24. Haji-Sheikh kicks 26-yard game-winning field goal after Sanders 36-yard kickoff return in overtime.
10. December 17, 1988 Cincinnati 20, Washington 17
Away-Jim Breech connected from 20 yards out seven minutes into sudden death.
11. November 4, 1990 Washington 41, Detroit 38
Away-Chip Lohmiller's 34-yard field goal 9:10 into overtime capped the Redskins comeback that equalled the team's greatest in history. Down by 21 points in the third quarter and 17 points entering the fourth, Jeff Rutledge's 12-yard run tied the game with :18 seconds remaining.
12. November 3, 1991 Washington 16, Houston 13
Home-Darrell Green intercepted Warren Moon and Lohmiller's 41-yard field goal 5:01 into overtime moved the Redskins to 9-0. The Oilers tied the game with less than two minutes remaining and had a chance to win in regulation after Brian Mitchell fumbled the kickoff, but Ian Howfield's 33-yard attempt sailed wide left.

First Victory Sept. 16, 1937	The First Game! Thursday night opener draws 19,941 fans to flood-lit Griffith Stadium. Riley Smith scores on 60-yard run with interception, two field goals and an extra point. Redskins 13, Giants 3.
First Title Dec. 5, 1937	Ten thousand fans stomp up Broadway behind brass band. Sammy Baugh completes 11 of 15, Cliff Battles runs 75 and 76 yards for TDs, Giants routed 49-14, for Eastern Championship.
World Champs! Dec. 12, 1937	Freezing weather, frozen field, icy-nerved Bears can't stop Baugh. Completes 17 of 33 for 335 yards and 3 TDs. Wayne Millner, the all-time Notre Dame great, escapes with nine catches for 160 yards, including 77 and 55-yd. TD spring.
Westward Ho! Aug. 2, 1939	Redskins set forth on first coast-to-coast football training trip. Training site: Eastern State Normal School in Cheney, Washington.
Zero Hour Oct. 1, 1939	Only scoreless tie in Redskin history as Giants are battled in mud and rain.
Record Pass Oct. 15, 1939	From kick formation, standing deep in end zone, Frank Filchock flips pass to Andy Farkas who goes all the way for the touchdown. Longest pass play in National Football League history, 99 yards.
Eastern Champs Dec. 1, 1940	Miniature-sized Davy O'Brien of Eagles completes 33 passes in 60 attempts, but Redskins win 13-6 to clinch Eastern Championship.
73-to-Ohhh! Dec. 8, 1940	Redskins get more first downs than Bears in World Championship Game at Griffith Stadium, but lose 73-0.
California Aug. 18, 1941	Redskins bring pro football on large scale for first time to California. Establish training quarters in San Diego at Brown Military Academy.
Title Escapes Nov. 23, 1941	Fifty seconds to go in the Eastern Championship Game, Redskins hold 13-10 lead. But Giants get field goal and touchdown to win, 20-13.
Only Loss Sept. 27, 1942	Giants don't make first down, gain only ONE yard rushing, complete just ONE pass...but it's good for TD; then they capture another TD on interception...and Redskins suffer their only 1942 defeat, 14-7.

World Champs! Dec. 13, 1942	Bears take early lead on errant pass from center. But Sam Baugh's 85-yd. quick kick sets them back on their heels. Wilbur Moore then makes a vital interception and follows with a sensational catch for 38-yd TD. Andy Farkas caps victory by carrying ball 10 of 12 times on 80-yd TD tour. Score: 14-6.
Division Title Dec. 19, 1943	After two straight losses, Redskins bounce back in Eastern Title playoff game to trash Giants 28-0.
Runner Up Dec. 26, 1943	Sam Baugh suffers concussion early tackling Sid Luckman on punt return and Bears go on to win NFL title 41-21.
To a T July 30, 1945	Redskins abandon their double-wing formation and adopt the T-formation.
Eastern Champs Dec. 9, 1945	Second straight shutout (Steelers 24-0 Dec. 2) vs. Giants 17-0, wins Eastern title.
One Point Shy Dec. 16, 1945	In subzero weather, Redskins lose world title to Rams, 15-14, on incredibly freakish plays. Baugh's pass from end zone hits goal-post for safety (no longer allowed); and Waterfield's try-for-point hits crossbar and bounces over.
Charity Game Sept. 6, 1945	First Annual Redskins-Rams game for benefit in Los Angeles Times Charities, Inc. draws 68,188 to Memorial Coliseum and nets Times Boys Club $96,711.23.

Record Breakers 1967	Sonny Jurgensen sets new Redskin and NFL passing records for most attempts, completions, and yards. Receivers Charley Taylor, Jerry Smith and Bobby Mitchell finish 1, 2 and 4 in the League; highest ever by receivers on the same team.
Lombardi Hired Feb. 7, 1969	The unbelievable happened - Vince Lombardi leaves Green Bay to become head coach of the Redskins.
George Preston Marshall Dies Aug. 9, 1969	George Preston Marshall, founder of the Washington Redskins, dies at his home at the age of 72.
A Winning Season Dec. 14, 1969	Redskins defeat New Orleans by score of 17-14 to insure their first winning season since 1955. Victory also keeps Coach Lombardi's record of never having coached a losing NFL team intact.
Lombardi Dies Sept. 3, 1970	The sports world is grieved by the death of Vincent T. Lombardi, Head Coach and Executive Vice President of the Redskins.
1,000-Yard Club Dec. 13, 1970	Larry Brown, on second offensive play of game with Eagles and needing 4 yards to break the 1,000 yard barrier, gains 12 yards to become the first Redskin in history to become a member of the 1,000-yard club.
NFL Rushing Leader Dec. 20, 1970	Larry Brown ends the season as the top rusher in the NFL with a total of 1125 yards in 237 attempts for a 4.7 avg. He is the first Redskin since Cliff Battles in 1937 to win an NFL rushing title.
Allen Hired Jan. 6, 1971	George Allen, winningest coach in the NFC, named Head Coach and General Manager.
A New Home June 2, 1971	Groundbreaking ceremonies for Redskins new home, Redskin Park, near Dulles Airport.
Coach of Year 1971	George Allen voted NFL and NFC "Coach of Year."

Future is Now 1971	Allen guides Redskins to most wins, 9 in 29 years with 9-4-1 record. First time in 26 years Redskins gained championship playoff game.
NFC Champions Super Bowl 1972	Redskins win first title in 30 years with a convincing 26-3 win over defending world champion Dallas Cowboys in RFK Stadium following 16-3 playoff victory over Green Bay. Redskins lose 14-7 to Miami in Super Bowl VII in the LA Coliseum.
Brown-NFL "Player of Year" 1972	Larry Brown honored by all selections as NFL "Player of Year," wins NFC rushing title setting new Redskins rushing record with his 1,216 yards, his second over 1,000 year.
NFC Coach of Year 1972	For second year in a row, George Allen accorded "Coach of Year" honors.
Wild Card 1973	Redskins and Cowboys tied for best record in the NFC East, but Dallas wins division in tiebreaker based on better point differential of net 13 points.
4th Straight Year in Playoffs 1974	For the fourth consecutive year, George Allen's "Over the Hill Gang" reach the playoffs.
All-time Receiver Dec. 21, 1975	Redskins wide receiver Charley Taylor becomes all-time reception leader in NFL history with 634th career catch against the Eagles in season's finale.
Jurgensen Retires May 1, 1975	Redskin quarterback Sonny Jurgensen retires after playing for 18 seasons in the NFL, 11 in a Redskin uniform.
Death Claims Milton King Jan. 23, 1976	Milton King, vice president and treasurer of the Redskins, dies at the age of 85.
Return to Playoffs 1976	By winning final four games, including wins at Dallas and at St. Louis, Redskins make playoffs for fifth time in six years under Allen.
Pardee Hired Jan. 24, 1978	Jack Pardee, former Redskin player and coach, named 16th head coach in Redskin history.
Presidential Visit Oct. 2, 1978	President Jimmy Carter became the second President to ever attend a regular season NFL game when he and Mrs. Carter, along with son Chip and wife Caron, see the Monday night Cowboy-Redskin clash.
Off to the Races 1978	By winning the first six games, including wins over rivals Dallas and St. Louis and playoff bound New England, the Redskins enjoy their best start in over 35 years.
Good News, Bad News 1979	The 10-6 record marked the ninth consecutive year Redskins finished .500 or better. Both the division title and wild card playoff game were lost in final seconds of final game in Dallas, 35-34.
100 Straight 1980	Redskins extend NFL's longest consecutive streak of sellouts to 100, dating back to 1966.

Gibbs Hired Jan. 13, 1981	Joe Gibbs, offensive coordinator of the San Diego Chargers, becomes the 17th head coach in Redskin history.
Finishing Kick 1981	Victorious in 8 of their final 11 games, Coach Gibbs and his Redskins set or tie 13 club records.
Huff Inducted Aug. 7, 1982	Sam Huff, former Redskin linebacker and assistant coach, is inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.
A New Beginning Sept. 12, 1982	With the 0-5 start of a year ago, the 0-4 preseason fresh on everyone's mind, Mark Moseley lifts the burden with 26-yard overtime field goal to give the Redskins a victory over Philadelphia. Moseley had only minutes earlier sent the game into overtime with a 48-yarder.
Strike! Sept. 21, 1982	The NFL players walk out in a strike that would last until Nov. 17. In all, eight games were missed, seven cancelled.
Holy Moseley! Dec. 19, 1982	With time running out, with the game on the line, with an NFL record at stake, Mark Moseley beats the odds and the Giants by booting his 21st straight field goal in a snowy RFK Stadium. The kick breaks Garo Yepremian's record of 20 and gives the Redskins a 15-14 win. Also in the game, John Riggins becomes only the fifth back in NFL history to exceed 2,000 carries (Payton, Simpson, Brown, and Harris are the others).
A Whitewash Jan. 2, 1983	For first time since 1980, the Redskins are on the right side of a shutout, whitewashing the Cardinals 28-0. Their 8-1 record is the best in the NFC, giving them home-field advantage throughout the playoffs. The 128 points given up by the Redskin defense is the fewest in the NFL.
Hogs Take Their Bows Jan. 15, 1983	The celebrated Hogs create enough holes in the Minnesota Viking defense for Ground Hog John Riggins to plow for a Redskin playoff record of 185 yards, leading Washington to a 21-7 win and a spot in the NFC Championship. Before leaving the game, Riggins gallantly bows to the 54,000-plus Redskins faithful who roar in approval.
Sweet revenge Jan. 22, 1983	The Redskins avenge their only loss of the season, setting back the Cowboys, 31-17, to reach their second Super Bowl, and first in ten years.
Super Bowl Win! Jan. 30, 1983	By drowning the Dolphins 27-17 in Super Bowl XVII, the Redskins earn their first world title in 40 years. Their win streak reaches eight, and 15 of 16 and 20 of 24 over two seasons. Jack Kent Cooke accepts the Super Bowl Trophy from Commissioner Pete Rozelle in the locker room as MVP Riggins boasts, "Ron may be President, but for tonight I'm King." Coach Gibbs receives a congratulatory phone call from President Reagan. The Redskins' 12-1 record is the fifth best NFL mark in the last 50 years, and their best ever.
Hails from the Chief Jan. 31, 1983	President and Mrs. Reagan are at Dulles Airport to greet the World Champion Redskins as they arrive back from California.
Parade of Stars Feb. 2, 1983	The entire city of Washington celebrates as the Redskins are paraded before some 500,000 fans in a downtown ceremony amidst pouring rain. Coach Gibbs holds up the Super Bowl Trophy and proclaims, "This is for you."

High Honors
1983

Joe Gibbs is named Coach of the Year. Mark Moseley is named NFL MVP by Associated Press, Joe Theismann Miller Man of the Year, and five Redskins (the most since 1972) are named to the Pro Bowl: Moseley, Theismann, Tony Peters, Charlie Brown, and Mike Nelms. Later, Bobby Beathard is named Executive of the Year. And Riggins, who had four straight 100-yard rushing playoff games, the first ever to do so, wins a car as Super Bowl MVP.

Jurgensen to Mitchell
July 30, 1983

Former Redskin greats quarterback Sonny Jurgensen and receiver Bobby Mitchell are inducted into Pro Football's Hall of Fame.

Monday Night Fever
Oct. 17, 1983

The Redskins lose 48-47, in the highest scoring game in Monday night football history. The Redskins and the Packers combine for over 1,000 yards total offense.

The Diesel Keeps on Trucking
Nov. 20, 1983

John Riggins sets NFL record. His consecutive games with rushing touchdowns reaches 12 while notching his 19th touchdown of the year to tie that NFL mark. John's streak ends at 13 consecutive games while he goes on to establish an NFL record 24 touchdowns.

Doomsday Showdown for Dallas
Dec. 11, 1983

Dressed in army fatigues, the Redskins marched into Dallas to do battle. The result was a convincing 31-10 victory and sole possession of first place in the NFC East. It was a game that saw Tony Dorsett held to 34 yards on 14 carries (one yard of five carries in the second half) and scores from four different Redskins.

Alone on a Hill
Dec. 17, 1983

For the second year in a row the Redskins finished with the best record in the NFL. Their 31-22 victory over the Giants capped a remarkable 14-2 regular season. It is the first time in the history of the League that an NFC team has compiled so many victories.

One-Two Punch
1983

Mark Moseley's NFL kick scoring record of 161 points, and Riggins' total of 144 points, top entire NFL. It is the first time since 1951 that the number one and two scorers played on the same team. Their total of 305 points surpasses the totals of eight other clubs.

Ring Out the Rams
Jan. 1, 1984

The Redskins ring in the New Year by drubbing the L.A. Rams 51-7 in the most lopsided playoff in 26 years. Team sets or ties 13 club playoff marks with the 44-point margin of victory, the greatest in the 47-year history of the Redskins.

Three of a Kind
1985

The 10 victories marks a third consecutive season the Redskins won 10 or more games, equalling a club best streak set from 1972-74. The 35 wins in those three seasons were a club record for the successes for a three-year period. Threes were also meaningful for offensive linemen Joe Jacoby and Russ Grimm, who each earned a third consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl. Receiver Art Monk (91 catches) was sent for second straight time.

Happy Birthday
Feb. 13, 1986

The Washington Redskins entered their 50th season in the Nation's Capital, celebrating the franchise's move from Boston to Washington.

Rally Ho Sept. 6, 1986	Headed by Coach Ray Flaherty of the 1937 World Champions, former players and coaches gathered to kickoff the 1986 season.
Little Mr. Big Oct. 27, 1986	WR Gary Clark accounted for 241 receiving yards (on 11 catches) to break teammate Art Monk's club record on Monday Night TV.
Showdown Nov. 23, 1986	Anxious to avenge their first loss of 1986, the Redskins came out smokin' against Dallas. The 34-0 first half lead marked the most points the Cowboys had ever allowed in a single half of play. With a final score of 41-14, the Redskins had scored their most points ever against the Cowboys.
Gibbs Gets #70 Jan. 3, 1987	What a Catch! Head Coach Joe Gibbs became the winningest coach in Redskin history as the team defeated the Bears 27-13 in a divisional playoff. Gibbs' 70th victory was highlighted by a pair of Schroeder-to-Monk TD passes.
A Giant Step Jan. 11, 1987	With 15 new faces on the roster, the Washington Redskins played in their third NFC Championship game in five years.
Pro Bowlers, Again. Feb. 1, 1987	Hogs Russ Grimm and Joe Jacoby returned to the Islands of Hawaii for the fourth consecutive season. Joined by Art Monk, Darrell Green, Gary Clark, Dexter Manley, and Jay Schroeder, the Redskins equalled a club record seven participants in the annual classic.
NFLPA Strike 1987	NFL players walk out following the second week of the regular season.
Perfect Oct. 19, 1987	Redskin "replacement" players close out their season with a perfect 3-0 mark. Team holds on to defeat Dallas, 13-7, in Texas Stadium.
Relief Pitcher Dec. 26, 1987	Quarterback Doug Williams connects on 11 of 22 for 217 yards and two TDs in Minnesota. The 27-24 overtime victory is highlighted by a Ricky Sanders 51-yard catch-and-run to force sudden death. Haji-Sheikh kicks the game winner on team's first possession.
The Bear Facts Jan. 10, 1988	For the second time in two years, 'Skins travel to Chicago for Divisional Playoff. After trailing 14-0 in the second quarter, team rallies to win 21-17. Darrell Green provides the game-winning points on an electrifying 52-yard punt return, as Redskins advance to the NFC Championship Game for the fourth time in six seasons.
NFC Champs! Jan. 17, 1988	Redskins are 17-10 victors over the Minnesota Vikings as Doug Williams connects with Gary Clark to break a 10-10 fourth quarter deadlock. Washington becomes the first team to advance to the Super Bowl three times in the 1980s.
World Champs! Jan. 31, 1988	Twenty Super Bowl records are broken en route to 42-10 decision over the Denver Broncos. Quarterback Doug Williams is named the game's MVP as he connects on 18 of 29 for a record 340 yards. His four touchdown passes tie another record as team scores five times in five possessions in the second quarter alone.
100 Wins Dec. 10, 1989	Joe Gibbs registered his 100th career win as head coach of the Redskins as the team defeated San Diego, 26-21. Only six other coaches have reached 100 wins faster than Gibbs.

Monk Moves Up Dec. 10, 1989	Art Monk moved into third place on the all-time NFL receiving list, ahead of friend and receivers coach Charley Taylor, in Washington's 26-21 win over the Chargers.
A Lion of a Comeback Nov. 4, 1990	The Redskins equaled the greatest comeback in club history with a 41-38 overtime win at Detroit. Down by 21 points in the third quarter and 17 points entering the fourth, Jeff Rutledge rallied the Redskins by passing for 363 second-half yards (30-42). The game winning points came on a Chip Lohmiller 34-yards field goal in overtime.
700 Catches Nov. 18, 1990	Art Monk became only the third player in NFL history to catch 700 passes when he hauled in four receptions against the Saints in RFK.
Ring in the New Year Jan. 5, 1991	The Redskins pushed their playoff record to 12-3 under Joe Gibbs with a solid team effort 20-6 win over the Eagles at Veterans Stadium.
Perfect Start 1991	For the first time in franchise history the Redskins opened the year with 11 straight victories.
One of the Best 1991	The Redskins became only the sixth team in NFL history to record 17-or-more wins in a single season by posting a 17-2 overall mark (best in team history).
Hog Protection 1991	In 16 games, the "Hogs" only allowed a league low and club record nine sacks. It was the third lowest total in NFL history.
A Class Act Dec. 22, 1991	Art Monk becomes only the second player in NFL history to catch 800 passes when he caught five passes in the season finale at Philadelphia.
NFC Champs Jan. 12, 1992	For the fourth time under Joe Gibbs, and for the fifth time in franchise history, the Redskins earned a berth in the Super Bowl with a convincing 41-10 win over the Detroit Lions in the NFC title game.
World Champs! Jan. 26, 1992	The Redskins claim their third Super Bowl win under Gibbs. The Skins knocked out Buffalo 37-24 and Mark Rypien was named Super Bowl MVP completing 18 passes and throwing two TDs. Gary Clark and Art Monk both caught seven passes, with Clark gaining 114 yards and one TD, and Monk adding 113 yards. Brad Edwards had two interceptions, and the defense sacked Bills QB Jim Kelly five times.
Pro Bowl Record Feb. 2, 1992	The Redskins set a club record with eight players earning selection to the Pro Bowl. Jim Lachey and Darrell Green are named starters while Gary Clark, Chip Lohmiller, Charles Mann, Earnest Byner and Mark Schlereth also were named to the NFC squad.
August 24, 1992 New Redskin Park Opens	The Redskins move into their new training complex set on a picturesque 160 acres in Loudoun County, Virginia. The building is over 70,000 square feet to compliment four practice fields.
Monk is #1 October 12, 1992	Art Monk becomes the NFL's all-time leading pass receiver against the Broncos on Monday Night in Week 5. His 820th career catch was a 10-yarder with 3:12 remaining in the 4th quarter.
Jack Kent Cooke Stadium February 5, 1992	Redskin owner Jack Kent Cooke and the District of Columbia sign a contract to make Jack Kent Cooke Stadium a reality. The stadium, replete with natural grass, 78,600 seats and 300 luxury skyboxes, will be built and payed for by Mr. Cooke and will be ready for the 1995 season opener.

First DC Stadium Win

It didn't come easy, but on December 17, 1961, the Redskins finally got their first DC Stadium (now RFK Stadium) win in the '61 season finale against Dallas. Dickie James scored four touchdowns, a Redskin single-game record (Larry Brown tied it in 1973), to lead the Redskins to a 34-24 win. The win ended a 23-game winless streak for the Redskins dating back to the 1960 season.
